Tired Feeling Is Gone and Chronic Constipation Has Vanished Says Tanlac Did It
"When I get up in the morning now I feel fine," says James K. Wheatley, of 69 West Eighth street, Chester, Pa. "We've been working at top speed down at the plant for the last year or two and I began to feel the strain. Like most office men I have been troubled with constipation for a long time but lately it began to get worse; my appetite fell off considerably and I felt sort of tired all the time, especially when I first got up mornings. I told a friend of mine how I felt and he said, 'You ought to take Tanlac, that'll fix you up,' and sure enough it has for I've taken one bottle and I feel like a different man. My bowels are now as regular as clock work, my appetite has all come back and I get up in the morning feeling fresh and rested. Tanlac certainly is the goods and I intend to tell all the boys at the plant who it fixed me up. Thousands of business men and brain workers testify to the restorative powers of Tanlac, the Master Medicine, which is now being especially introduced in Harrisburg at Gorgas' Drug Store, where the Tanlac man is always ready to explain its marvelous tonic properties.—Adv.

Coal Advance Not So Big

Some people seem to think that the advance in coal prices was excessive. This is not correct as only about 7 per cent was added to meet additional expenses incurred by advances granted to miners; compensation insurance; increased cost of mining supplies; reduction in working time from nine to eight hours per day, etc.

Coal dealers expected that the prices would actually be higher than those now in effect. Many articles of merchandise have within the past year "gone up" in price 10 per cent, 20 per cent, 50 per cent and even 100 per cent and more.

The quality of summer shipments is usually better than can be had in winter. It's not good policy to wait until cold weather to put in your supply.

TRAIN STUDENTS AS SOLDIERS

Gettysburg College to Give Course in Military Instruction

Special to the Telegraph
Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—Military instruction, under the terms of the new army bill, is to be given at Gettysburg College, beginning this year, in response to appeals from students for such training. The institution was among the first in the country to ask the War Department for a military instructor as provided in the bill. An officer is to be stationed here as soon as the department has worked out the rules and regulations. The military drill, it has been planned, will be optional with the students.

Although the opening of Gettysburg College is several weeks distant, civil engineering corps are already at work here. They are receiving practical experience, under the direction of Professor Allen, in all kinds of surveying. Professor Allen is assisted by R. M. Berryman, the Penn. State fullback, who is also to serve as football coach during the coming season. The outlook is reported to be promising for a good football team here this year.

Thaddeus Stevens Hall, formerly occupied by the Gettysburg Academy, is being remodeled for use in the future by the college. Finishing touches are now being put on the new $50,000 home of the Gettysburg Academy, the preparatory school of the college. Everything will be in readiness for the opening on September 20.

Doyle R. Leathers, the new athletic director at the college, well known several years ago as one of the greatest track and basketball stars in the state, will arrive here next week. He is to have entire charge of the athletic interests of the institution.

Lewis N. Snyder, of Harrisburg, class of 1915, and Charles Greer, of Philadelphia, class of 1915, have been appointed masters in Gettysburg Academy. Will S. Taylor, of Gettysburg, has been appointed to assist Professors Sanders and Valentine in their courses in philosophy and history at college, and Otis H. Reachard, of York, to succeed Fred G. Troxell as instructor in mathematics. Professor Troxell has accepted a position in the Steelton public schools.
