WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Ten Commandments Of Matrimony

The first commandment of matrimony is Thou shalt not lie. Neither before marriage nor after marriage shalt thou deceive the partner of thy bosom, but of most importance is strict veracity on the safe side of the altar.

The reason that so many marriages are failures is because they are founded on falsehood, and the men and women who have entered into them are as much the victims of a confidence game as any trusting soul who ever invested his whole fortune in a salted mine, or purchased a gold brick from a sick Indian.

Each has been taken in, flim-flamed, done for. The woman the man finds himself married to is no more the woman he thought he was getting than he is the woman he thought he was getting from Mars. Even the conditions of matrimony under which they must exist have nothing in common with the way they had figured married life out to be.

What wonder that both are disappointed and disgruntled, and find marriage a failure.

This does not imply that either the husband or wife was a deep, dark, designing villain who deliberately lured the other to his or her ruin. The deception was unconscious and practised according to the conventional rule that makes it the correct thing to pave the way to the matrimonial Gehenna with white lies. This is always done in our best society, and the custom of baiting the matrimonial hook with falsehoods has been practised so long that it is doubtful if any catch would ever be made if the truth should be substituted for it.

Both should be frank. Common sense dictates that the man and woman who are about to enter into a partnership in which they have interest and every earthly chance of happiness are bound up, should be perfectly frank with each other, and explain the situation honestly, but such candor is never indulged in matrimony.

No man, for instance, in popping the question to a girl would dare to say "Mary Jane, you have no beauty to boast of, and I am under no illusions that you will set the river on fire with your brilliancy, or are a pinfeathered snail, but you are healthy and wholesome, and practical and domestic, and are the sort of a girl who makes a good wife and a good mother. I like you and I'd like to marry you, but if you marry me you will have to put up with a lot of crankiness and selfishness in me, and for the next few years, while I am getting a good start, you will have to do your own housework, and make your own clothes, and do without luxuries to which you have been accustomed. How does the proposition look to you?"

Oh no, no man ever proposes to a girl in that fashion. On the contrary he tells her that she is the most beautiful creature that ever lived, and that he'll die if she says "no," and that if she married him, her little white hands shall never have to be washed to smooth his forehead. Then, when she does marry him and finds out that matrimony is a gas range and a sewing machine instead of a silk cushion, there is small wonder that she feels that she has been swindled.

Both Lack Courage. Nor are women any more honest before marriage with men than men with women. Every girl who is husband-hunting pretends to be what she thinks the man she desires to charm wants her to be. She never has the nerve to let her fiancé see her with her complexion off, and her temper and her views of life in good working order. Wherefore many a man who thinks he is leading a mild, meek little creature to the altar, that he expects to mould to suit his own tastes, gets the jolt of his life when he finds that he has been united in a marriage to a virago instead of Patient Griselda.

Undoubtedly it is more important that a man should be Truthful James, and a woman Veracious Jane, than that they should be strictly truthful with each other afterwards. Indeed, if they have been candid with each other before marriage, they will have no need to be afraid to tell the truth to each other.

The real reason that most husbands and wives lie to each other is because they dare not tell the truth. The man who wants to stay downtown and have dinner with a friend, or play a game of cards, would prefer to tell his wife about it, but his experience has taught him that she will lecture him half the night about it if he does, so he tells her a whopper about being kept by business, or having to meet a man from Oklahoma.

A woman would much rather tell her husband that her new hat cost twenty dollars instead of fifteen, except that she knows that, in one case, she will be better for her extravagance, and in the other she will get off with merely a conjugal grunt of disapproval. So human nature being weak, and domestic peace being each is forced by the other into becoming members of the Ananias society.

Rocks for Matrimony. Thus does falsehood become one of the sunken reefs on which the Good Ship Matrimony founders. For in the end lying is one of the things with which one never quite gets away. Sooner or later the liar is found out. His little air castle falls in ruins at the first touch of reality and leaves nothing but a handful of broken dreams and hopes behind.

Moreover, the man who has once lied to his wife, or the wife who has told fibs to her husband, is forever after under suspicion, and love, especially conjugal love, can have no peace unless it rests upon unquestioned faith, and that must rest upon truth.

Remember the first commandment. Thou Shalt Not Lie. Leave the man or woman who is not strong enough to be a partner for some other liar.

Your Telephone Should SAVE Not Lose TIME

When you turn to your telephone you want IMMEDIATE action. That's why you telephone rather than send a letter or go in person. You pay for telephone service not to lose time but to save time.

Sometimes over the old manual system your calls are handled with reasonable promptness, but you know too well the frequent exasperating delays. Just as at a ticket office the rule is "first come, first served," so in the manual telephone exchange. There are often three or four calls ahead of yours and YOU HAVE TO WAIT YOUR TURN.

If there was a girl in the central office whose sole duty it was to handle YOUR calls such delays would not occur. They do not occur when you

Joint American and Mexican Conference to Be Held in Long Island Hotel

New York, Sept. 4.—A big hotel overlooking Long Island sound at New London, Conn., will be the scene of the conferences of the American and Mexican Joint Commission. The three Americans and three Mexicans composing this commission have decided upon the place, but are not yet certain of what day they will begin their deliberations.

It has been suggested to the Mexicans that the whole party go to New London to-morrow on the presidential yacht Mayflower, but it was said today that the Mexicans may ask to stay in New York a day or two longer to give Luis Cabrera, the Mexican minister of finance, one of their number, an opportunity for further conferences with Dr. Alfredo Caturugi, financial agent of the Carranza government, and with local financiers interested in Mexican railroads.

The commissioners met at a luncheon to-day given by Secretary of State Lansing. Negotiations, according to Secretary Lane, of the Department of the Interior, who is one of the American commissioners, will be conducted as informally as possible. Mr.

VILLA ON PATH TAKES GARRISON

With Force of 1,000 Captures San Antonio; Pershing Notified

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 4.—Routing the garrison, Francisco Villa, with a force of 1,000 men, is in possession of San Antonio south of Namiqupa, according to information received here by code message from Chihuahua City yesterday.

Moving northward, the Villa army yesterday attacked the San Antonio garrison of 200 men and either killed or captured the majority of the soldiers. A handful of men fled to the mountains.

Had Arms in Hiding. Advice received here from the south indicate that Villa will reach Namiqupa some time on Tuesday and will enter the mouth of the Santa Clara Canyon where, it is believed, he has a large amount of ammunition, rifles and several machine guns cached.

The prisoners captured at Santa Isabel and San Antonio have joined his forces and are being armed by the bandit chieftain. Villa is expected to have marshaled together more than 1,500 men, many of whom are still unarmed.

Both General John J. Pershing and General Jacinto Trevino have been notified of the Villa movement. Whether they will attempt to trap the bandit at the mouth of the Santa Clara Canyon is not known. But there has been no troop movement southward of the punitive force, the south base of which is at El Valle, within striking distance of Namiqupa.

The small force of troops sent southward by General Trevino to reinforce the garrison south of Namiqupa have all been defeated by Villa, many of them deserting and joining his standard. Both State Department officials and the army fear that Villa intends forcing intervention south of El Valle.

SHACKLETON RESCUES MEN

Explorer Brings Marooned Party Safely From Elephant Island

Punta Arenas, Chile, Sept. 4.—Lieutenant Sir Ernest Shackleton has rescued the members of his Antarctic expedition who were marooned on Elephant Island. Both State Department officials and the army fear that Villa intends forcing intervention south of El Valle.

Shackleton returned here yesterday with the men all safe and well, on the rescue ship Yelcho.

Sir Ernest Shackleton left Punta Arenas August 26 for a third attempt to rescue his marooned men. After failure of his Antarctic expedition, Shackleton, with five members of his crew, managed to reach Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, on May 31. Twenty-two others of the crew were left on Elephant Island on April 9. The first attempt to rescue them was made in June, and the second in July, both failing on account of the ice.

NEW USE FOR POWDER RAGS

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 4.—A new use for powder rags has been found by Evanston girls since tennis has become a nocturnal sport in the suburb. Golf is relegated to a secondary position in Evanston's sporting calendar. Electric lights with big reflectors have been installed at the tennis courts on the Lincoln school playground. The merry whang of racquet on ball resounds through the neighborhood long after quiet citizens are abed. The girls powder the tennis balls the better to see them in the glare from the lamps.

GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

DO YOU KNOW

In Switzerland the goat is placed ahead of all other animals. If a boy plagues a goat he can be fined and sent to prison. If a person meets a goat on a path, and drives it aside, he can be arrested. If a goat enters the yard of a person not his owner, and is hit with a club or stone, the person guilty of the offense must pay a fine.

In Paris the bronzed horse's head denotes the location of "boucheries hippopotamiques," or horsemeat shops. Since the early seventies of the last century hippopotamy has become so popular that there is now no considerable town in France that has not one or more shops for the sale of horseflesh.

Man Found Beheaded on Mountain Is Identified

The identity of the beheaded man found in Robert's mountain on August 13, was established on Saturday through the efforts of County Detective James T. Walters. Detective Harry White of the White Detective Agency, assisted by Coroner Eckinger. The man was D. W. Stoddard, of Iilon, N. Y., who had been employed by the Stoddard family and had disappeared one year longer, at least, as he was supposed to have been killed by Mrs. Anna Metzger, 618 Delaware street. Detective White, who had been working on the case of the disappearance of Stoddard, and hearing Stoddard's name, a bottle containing a liquid was found, and it is believed that Stoddard went into the mountains and committed suicide, as he had threatened to do, according to friends.

City police are endeavoring to locate a son who resides in Iilon.

WILSON DREADS STRIKE

"If It Goes Through I'm Ruined," He Is Quoted

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—"If this strike goes through I am ruined. The situation is serious," said President Wilson (over the telephone) last Monday night.

This bit of "news" is given to the public by the Suffragist, organ of the Congressional Union for Promoting Equal Suffrage and also organ of the Woman's party.

The article in the Suffragist says the President was talking over the telephone Monday night, and the interesting statement is added that the President was heard to say, in tones that actually trembled with anxiety, the words quoted above.

The disclosure was made in an editorial in the Suffragist entitled "Emergency Legislation."

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

The use of creams containing animal substance sometimes causes hair to grow. You run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair when you use ordinary mercolized wax. There is nothing better for a discolored skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle, and leaves the skin clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to get rid of freckles, tan, over-red, blotchy or pimply skin. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist's and apply it twice a day, cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

The ideal wrinkle remover is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saccharine in a pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results.

Good Housekeeping Recipes

Good food properly cooked goes far toward insuring health and long years. As much depends on the cooking, however, as on the food itself. The following recipes have been tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute, conducted by Good Housekeeping, and are republished here by special arrangement with that publication, the nation's greatest home magazine.

All measurements are level, standard half-pint measuring cups, tablespoons and teaspoons, being used. Sixteen level teaspoonfuls equal a half-pint. Quantities are sufficient for six people unless otherwise stated. Flour is sifted once before measuring.

NUT AND ASPARAGUS SALAD

Six hard cooked eggs, 2 tablespoonfuls chopped hickory nut meats, 1 cup cooked asparagus tips, 1 tablespoonful minced parsley, French dressing, extra nut meats, parsley and asparagus tips.

Shell the eggs and cut in halves lengthwise. Mash the yolks, add the nut meats, the cupful of asparagus tips, and the parsley, and blend with four tablespoonfuls of French dressing that is not very sour. Fill the eggshells with this mixture, arrange on lettuce leaves, and garnish with the extra asparagus tips, parsley and nut meats. If any of the asparagus mixture is left over it can be blended with a mayonnaise or a bland boiled dressing and passed with the salad.

JEFF DAVIS'S CAPTOR 79

General James H. Wilson Celebrates at His Home in Wilmington

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 4.—General James Harrison Wilson, United States Army, captured, was 79 yesterday, but his form was as erect and his step as brisk as when he marched the half-century mark.

The captor of Jefferson Davis spent the day receiving the congratulations of friends and the formal observance was a family dinner at the Wilson home.

General Wilson ventured the prediction that the European war would continue one year longer, at least. "The war is a battle between democracy and small armies on one side and autocracy and great armies on the other," he said.

It is plain to see how little good Germany's preparedness has done (or her in the present crisis. In fact, her preparedness idea is being subjected to a supreme test in this war, which will reveal much to the world. This country, as well as the other nations, has plenty to learn."

Forty-Six Pennsylvanians Now Support Suffrage

Washington, Sept. 4.—Of 49 replies from Pennsylvania candidates for Congress, 46 have answered "favorably," the Congressional Committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association announced, summarizing the attitude of candidates toward the Federal suffrage amendment. One Pennsylvanian declared his opposition and two were noncommittal. A total of 132 replies has been received. One hundred and twelve of these, or nearly 85 per cent, declared themselves in favor of woman suffrage and stated that they would vote for the Federal suffrage amendment and would work for a favorable report on the amendment of they should be the committee which has jurisdiction.

Mrs. Frank M. Roessing, chairman of the committee, is much pleased with the returns from Pennsylvania so far. She detects, the committee declares, "a tremendous change of heart."

VITAGRAPH BUYS THREE FIRMS

Lubin, Selig and Essanay Interests Are Purchased

New York, Sept. 4.—The Vitagraph Company announced yesterday that it has purchased the interests of the Lubin, Selig and Essanay motion picture companies in the corporation known as the V-L-S-E, Inc., thereby obtaining absolute control of twenty-three branch offices for the distribution of its screen productions. The step makes it possible for the Vitagraph Company, which operates three plants, to control every step of the production and marketing of its pictures.

Within a few weeks there will be instituted a campaign of national advertising in the newspapers and magazines announcing completed pictures and those under way with such stars of the stage as E. H. Sothern, Barney Bernard and Charles Richman and such popular screen favorites as Anita Stewart, Earl Williams, Edith Storey, Harry Moyer, Lillian Walker and Antonio Moreno.
