TISZA WEATHERS STORM

Budapest, Sept. 5, via Berlin, Sept. 6.—An attempt at today's session of the Hungarian Parliament by the opposition party to shake Premier Tisza's position, failed in spite of the extremes to which the opponents of the government resorted. When the session was over Count Tisza had weathered successfully one of the most violent attacks ever made on his administration.

If Thin Or Wrinkled Try This

Many women of fashion and refinement in this country, as in Europe, seem to have recently discovered that there is nothing quite so good to remove wrinkles and dilate hollows in face or neck as ordinary anti-oxidized cocoa cream. It is so easy to get a little from any drugist and apply it to the skin at night wherever there are wrinkles or hollows in face or neck that no woman should neglect to use it. Because she is thin or wrinkled. You simply apply it with the finger tips, and there is no hurt or injury to the skin. On the contrary it is positively beneficial to the complexion, feeding and stimulating the tissues so that the skin becomes nice and plump and the wrinkles disappear. You can not help but wonder at its nourishing and beautifying action upon the skin. Many complexion ills such as rough, blotchy skin can also be quickly overcome by its use, but it has found particular favor in the elite beauty parlors for removing wrinkles and dilating the hollows in face and neck.—Advertisement.

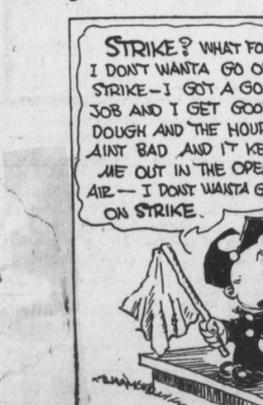

For Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Here in America there is much suffering from catarrh and head noises. American people would do well to consider the method employed by the English to combat this insidious disease. Everyone knows how damp the English climate is and how dampness affects those suffering from catarrh. In England they treat catarrhal deafness and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal medicine which is really very efficacious. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how this English treatment restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven and eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with catarrh, or with deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been doing a good deed. Some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be easily prepared at home in about seven days and is made as follows: From your drugist obtain 1 oz. of Parnint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. Parnint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but also to carry any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are usually remarkably quick and effective. Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves of this destructive disease.—Advertisement.

IT NEVER FAILS TO END MISERY OF PILES

"Hundreds of people in this vicinity," says Peterson, "are suffering from the healing power of PETERSON'S OINTMENT in eczema, salt rheum, old sores, itching skin and ulcers. They know it cures these ailments—that it is guaranteed to cure them. Now I want to say to every sufferer from piles, either blind, bleeding or itching, that I will guarantee that a 25-cent box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT will rid you of piles or your drugist will return your money. For years I suffered terribly with itching and bleeding piles. I tried everything and despaired of ever getting rid of them. It gave me great pleasure to state that Peterson's Ointment entirely cured me and I sincerely recommend it to all sufferers."—Tours truly, David A. Seymour, Supt. of Parks, Buffalo, N. Y. AMUSEMENTS

One of the season's big scenic productions will be at the Orpheum tomorrow and Saturday and "Lost in New York" sensational drama, entitled "Lost in New York," is said to be replete with intense heart interest, thrilling situations, laughable and stirring climaxes, and rapid action from its very beginning to the final curtain fall. There are several highly realistic and sensational scenes. In the distance you see the big city of New York brilliantly illuminated, showing the Woolworth Building, the Metropolitan Life and other towering structures, Central Park Concourse, with its beautiful landscapes, and other handsome stage settings.

There have been musical plays with scenes laid in Russia, and there have been musical plays with scenes laid in Turkey, and there have been musical plays with scenes laid in Vienna, but it has been reserved for "Katinka," which Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Orpheum next Wednesday, matinee and night, to combine these three widely separated and distant localities into a single evening's entertainment. Otto Hauerbach, who wrote the play, has led his characters through wedding feast in Yalta, Russia, to the streets of Old Stamboul, Turkey, and thence to a brilliant casino in Vienna. Rudolf Friml, it is said, has exercised the same care in the composition of the music, and familiar arias and songs which have been woven into the various compositions as themes.

The story of a woman's unsuccessful attempt to wreck her husband's work because of her love of Cleo Ridgley is the background of the domestic strife which is the subject of the recent play "The Selfish Woman," in which Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgley are starred, shown at the Regent. The story tells of the adventures of a young civil engineer, son of a wealthy and successful father, who marries the beautiful daughter of a money-mad society woman, and how the girl marries the engineer for his money, only to have him disowned by his father, who wrecks his son's career. The play is presented in a series of unusual scenes and gripping situations, which must necessarily be seen to be appreciated. Charlie Chaplin, in "The Count," will be shown to-morrow and Saturday. The comedian returns to the stage of motion picture farce in which he gained his fame, and is seen in his familiar baggy trousers, curly coat, dinky derby, diminutive mustache, slender can and the brogans.

The management takes pleasure in announcing the engagement of Stephen O'Rourke and James Gilda, one of the most popular teams of performers in vaudeville. The duo appeared at the above-named theater last season and scored a hit at every performance. A comedy sketch, presented by Woolf and Stewart, and entitled "In Two Flats," is a new and very attractive feature. It is a novel stage setting, and the act is well presented. Other acts on the bill include the "Majestic Trio," in a juggling, acrobatic and singing act.

The fifth episode of Pathe's newest serial, "The Grip of Evil," is shown at the Colonial for the last time to-day, in "The Way of the Colonial Woman." A powerful two-reel drama, that tells of a girl who takes the easiest way, and adds another chapter to this great serial story. On the same program is a new feature, "The Man From Bitter Roots," which features William Farnum. It is a strong Western story, which has to do with a powerful character actor as Mr. Farnum. Friday and Saturday the Triangle Ince Company presents H. B. Warner and Enid Markey in "Shell 43," a new five-reel feature. The story has to do with a spy in the European war posing as an American correspondent. The puzzle of the play is, which side is he spying for? And it is not solved until the tragic finish of the story. An old favorite in the play is, which side is he spying for? And it is not solved until the tragic finish of the story. An old favorite in the play is, which side is he spying for? And it is not solved until the tragic finish of the story.

"HARRISBURG PLAN" IS AGAIN USED

or swimming, and in dry seasons the water was too shallow for either. At every street intersection with the river and creek, a sewer discharged, the effluent from which was carried along the whole length of the city, so that in any weather, living on, or even walking along, the banks was most unpleasant. Malaria was rampant. Residents in the vicinity dumped ashes, paper, and even garbage, over the banks. "Paxton creek passes for two miles through the city, above which for two miles more its course is in a mosquito breeding swamp. Its banks were periodically flooded, considerably damaging certain low sections of the town. In the dry season its flow was largely sewage, its banks were vile, and it was a locality to be shunned. "The Civic club of Harrisburg, composed of its most public-spirited citizens, both men and women, gave much thought to the matter from the beginning. The interest of the whole community was aroused, and in 1912 a bond issue of $1,090,000 was authorized by the city. The services of a consulting engineer of international reputation and of a prominent landscape architect were engaged, and a plan was adopted covering the great improvements that have since been carried out. "The brush-lined, irregular, fifth-covered channel of Paxton festered, has been excavated to an even grade and smooth lines and faced with concrete. It is now a smooth-flowing stream in a clean and attractive channel in which floods are unknown.

in the form of steps, along the low-water river line, for two and a half miles, with a fourteen-foot concrete walk at the top level. The bank above has been carefully graded and planted with shrubs and vines. The construction of this permanent bank at a cost of about $200,000 is not only a needed protection to the river front, but is a much appreciated addition to its attractiveness. The walk is much used by pedestrians and from it one gets an unobstructed view of the sun set river, with its background of wooded hills. The steps are used in going to and from rowboats and canoes. "During all this time, the city was acquiring, by gift and purchase, the land between the river and the west side of the street paralleling the shore, and converting it into a beautiful park. The last stretch of three blocks is now being condemned and purchased and the houses will be removed. This will give complete municipal ownership of the entire three-mile stretch of river front, all converted into parkway bordering the river boulevard. "The financial cost of this whole work, including sewers, filters, storage reservoir, improved creek channel and river wall, and including remodeling much of the street sewer system, a great concrete viaduct and other minor works, engineering and administration, has been about $20 per capita of the 75,000 population, and a little over $1 a year per capita to pay interest and sinking fund on bonds.

But this does not include the value of the time and thought that have been given to the work by the people of Harrisburg, who may well be proud of the result. The administration of all these works has been in the hands of a board of public works, whose members have been men of large affairs, who have given their time to the city without financial reward. Harrisburg Transformed "Harrisburg has been transformed and to-day few cities in Pennsylvania, perhaps in the whole country, have a more attractive water side, or better sanitary conditions in general. Of course, this great work, the pride, not only of the city, but of the State, was not accomplished without a large expenditure of time and money and it was all done by the city itself, without State aid. A city once shunned in summer as a typhoid, malaria-ridden place, has become desirable for summer residence, an ideal city of homes. With its public golf course, a dozen or more public tennis courts, numerous public playgrounds and nearly 1,000 acres of parks, it keeps its citizens well and happy and attracts many from elsewhere. Furthermore, the increase in assessed value of city property has been so great as to permit carrying on all governmental activities and paying interest and sinking fund charges on these improvement bonds without increasing the city tax rate."

How a Big League Pitcher 'Struck Out' the Famous Cobb

"Right after Crawford comes Cobb" is the most agitating fancy which daunts a big league pitcher. In Ring W. Lardner's new book of Buster's baseball stories, "You Know Me Al," the big left-hander, describes his first encounter with the Georgia peach. "Crawford made three bases and up come Cobb. It was the first time I ever seen him. He hollered at me right off the reel. He says, 'You better walk me, you busher. I says I will walk you back to the bench. Schalk signs for a spitter and I gives it to him and Cobb misses. "Then, instead of signing for another one, Schalk asks for a fast one, and I shook my head no, but he signed for it again, and yells 'Put something on it.' So I threw a fast one and Cobb hits it right over second base. I don't know what Weaver was doing, but he never made a move for the ball. Crawford scored and Cobb was on first base. First thing I knowed he had stole second while I held the ball. Callahan yells 'Wake up out there and I says 'Why don't your catcher tell me when they are going to steal?' Schalk says 'Get in there and pitch and shut your mouth. Then I got mad and walked Veach and Moriarity, but before I walked Moriarity Cobb and Veach pulled a double steal on Schalk."

Strikers Riot in Sharon Hoop Mill; Several Hurt

By Associated Press Sharon, Pa., Sept. 7.—Two hundred and fifty foreign strikers of the Sharon Steel Hoop Plant precipitated a riot at the entrance to the hoop mills here yesterday. Policeman Matt Bobby, of the Farrell police force, sustained a severe gash over the right eye when struck by a brick thrown at him. Mike Rekovich, said to have been the ringleader in the trouble, was arrested and at a preliminary hearing before Justice Moody was bound over for court without bail. About 300 colored strikebreakers have been imported by the company, and an attempt will be made to run the mill. About 1100 men are idle as the result of the strike. The men want an increase of five cents an hour. YORK S. S. CONVENTION OPENS Hanover, Pa., Sept. 7.—The York County Sabbath School Association opened a two days' convention in St. Mark's Lutheran Church here yesterday, with six hundred delegates present. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Ezra K. Bell, of Baltimore; the Rev. W. S. Sturgen, of York; the Rev. George W. Nicely, of Hanover; Mrs. Maud Baldwin, and Preston G. Orwig, of Philadelphia. Seven thousand Sunday school attendants paraded last night.

Pastor's Grave Found After 70-Year Search

Danville, Ill., Sept. 7.—After a search of seventy years by relatives the body of Elijah Brown, who left Nashville, Tenn., in 1832, for Illinois, has just been found near Alorton, Ill. Brown, a well known Baptist preacher in Tennessee, started overland to Northern Illinois with his wife and seven small children, but died en route and his body was buried by the wayside. A marker was made for the grave, but the place was forgotten. When his son William was old enough, he started a search for the body, which continued until his death. Since then his grandchildren have spent much time and money getting information from two patriars who remembered the circumstances and located the grave in a wooded pasture on a farm near here. The marble slab was broken, but the name and date of death in 1835 made identification possible. BUMBLEBEE UPSETS CAR Elwood, Ind., Sept. 7.—Mrs. W. L. Abbott and Mrs. L. M. Cross were riding in the country in a closed automobile when a bumblebee got inside. In their efforts to drive the bee out Mrs. Abbott lost control of the machine and the car went into a ditch and was upset. The women escaped with a few bruises.
