DAMAGE TO CEREAL CROPS CAUSES BIG DROP IN OUTPUT

Washington, Sept. 3.—Heavy damage to the country's cereal crops during August caused a loss of many millions of bushels in prospective production, cutting down the outlook for wheat to below the amount required for home consumption. The department of agriculture's monthly forecast, estimates the wheat crop at 611,000,000 bushels, or 3,000,000 bushels less than is calculated to be necessary for domestic use. A carry-over of approximately 100,000,000 bushels of old wheat from last year's record-breaking crops, however, will make up the deficiency and leave something like 100,000,000 bushels available to supply the heavy demands of foreign nations for American wheat.

Spring wheat, parched by hot and dry weather, showed a loss of 43,000,000 bushels since the August forecast of production, while the corn estimates were 57,000,000 bushels smaller than forecast a month ago.

The wheat crop places the production at 452,000,000 bushels and that of Spring wheat at 155,000,000 bushels. The Spring wheat crop is the smallest in twenty-two years and 200,000,000 bushels less than harvested last year. The crop of old wheat placed at 111,000,000 bushels, which is 400,000,000 bushels less than last year's record-breaking crop of 1,500,000,000 bushels. The smallest output of white potatoes since 1911 is forecast for winter supply.

While cereals all suffered serious damage during the month, hay and tobacco prospects increased, and the harvest of those two crops and also of rice will be record-breaking. There was an increase of 27,000,000 pounds in the indicated production of tobacco, making a crop of 1,224,000,000 pounds, and exceeding the former record crop of 1,197,000,000 pounds.

Rice, which declined 1,400,000 bushels from a month ago, promises a crop of 22,800,000 bushels, which would be almost 3,000,000 bushels more than the record crop harvested last year.

The department issued the following statement commenting upon the report: "Nearly all crops declined in condition during the last month due to the hot, dry weather in the northern and central west portions of the United States. Corn declined in prospect during the month 87,000,000 bushels; Spring wheat declined 43,000,000 bushels; oats, 43,000,000 bushels; barley, 11,000,000 bushels; buckwheat, 1,300,000 bushels; potatoes, 46,000,000 bushels; rice, 1,400,000 bushels; cotton declined in prospect in a month, 1,100,000 bales, and apples, 3,000,000 barrels.

"On the other hand, tobacco prospects improved during the month 27,000,000 pounds; the hay estimate is 1,500,000 tons higher than the August 1 forecast and flax and sugar beet prospects improved slightly during the month. "The reduction of the Spring wheat conditions brings the forecast of all wheat down to only 611,000,000 bushels, which is not more than the normal domestic requirement and compares with an estimated production of slightly more than 1,000,000,000 bushels last year and $7,000,000, the yearly average of the preceding five years.

"The corn crop forecast is now slightly below the acreage production of recent years, the shortage being most severe in Kansas. In most states almost an average crop is forecast. "The oats crop is short only in comparison with early forecasts this season and last year's immense crop, because the quantity now forecast is more than the yearly average of the last five years.

"The potato condition forecasts an unusually short crop for winter supply. "The hay crop is the largest crop ever estimated and is an exception to the general indication of short crops this year. "The tobacco and rice crops also promise to be the largest ever produced."
