PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

CHILDREN ENJOY ROUT OUT SPOOKS FROM THEIR HOME

The Misses May and Cecil Rimel Entertain Delightfully With Games and Supper

Mrs. Owen L. Rimel arranged a delightful birthday party for Tuesday afternoon at her home, 620 Oxford street, in compliment to her daughters, the Misses May and Cecil Rimel.

The children enjoyed games and other amusements followed by dainty refreshments. In attendance were the Misses Anna Reinhardt, Thelma Heinrich, Florence Beard, Virginia Lloyd, Ella Wachman, Marjorie Wachman, William Fry, Bertha Swenson, Evelyn Stumm, Harry Travitz, Evelyn Bennett, Ruth Ronalder, Jessie Ronalder, David Hurst, Elizabeth Demy, Catherine Raiston and Dorothy Ream, Daniel Fisher, Ralph Fisher, Alvin Travitz, May, Cecil, Freda and Owen Rimel, Miss Catherine Hess, Mrs. Walter C. Clayton, Mrs. Travitz, Mrs. William Fry, Mrs. Owen L. Rimel.

The Centralians and Their Guests Have a Merry Time in Abode of Ghosts

The Spooks of Spooky Hollow are probably still running yet, and without much idea of retracing their steps. A strong detachment of Centralians and their guests invaded their territory last evening, speedily outflanking them and putting them to flight. So all will be safe hereafter for those who wish to have outings in the late Spooky Hollow.

The Centralians and their guests found an ample supply of roasted corn waiting for their approval. The honorary member of the Centralians was there long before and had everything in readiness to eat. In addition to the corn, there were marshmallows and fruit. Of course the marshmallows were toasted, although the corn proved to be the most popular.

An interesting feature of the evening was the way the fellows "fell" for "Miss Frances Thompson." Her introduction of the publicity secretary caused much merriment, for "she" proved to be the disguised but general president of the senior class at Central, Frank Withrow. After the eats, many interesting games were played. Those who survived to tell the tale are Miss Eva Selheimer, Miss Helen Hoffman, Miss Helen Jackson, Miss Mary Bevard, Miss Margaret Spencer, Miss Kathryn Rishel, Miss Elizabeth Lozier, N. Lee Frank, Arthur Gardner, William L. Kay, Thomas Caldwell, Vernon Wright, Leon J. Russell, Herman John, "Miss" Frank Withrow, Charles Harris and Ben Whitman.

Penbrook W. C. T. U. Social Is Largely Attended

There was quite a large attendance at the monthly social of the Penbrook W. C. T. U. held at the residence of Mrs. Ammon Hammer, of Bankes street. During a brief business session, Mrs. Spangler and Miss Grace Henry elected delegates to the county W. C. T. U. convention to be held in Penbrook on September 21.

During the social hour musical numbers were given by Mrs. H. Rahm with reading by Mrs. Willa Bowman. Miss Belle Spangler was awarded the prize in a guessing contest. Mrs. Piles of Boas street, Penbrook, will be the next hostess for the union.

Miss Mildred Shupp, of 330 South Sixteenth street, and Miss Sarah Hess, of 403 South Thirteenth street, were the guests of Miss Blanche Cooke, of New Cumberland.

Miss Lois Hoffman of Millersburg, is visiting Mr. and Dean H. Hoffman at the Commercial Bank apartments.

ST. PAUL'S SCHOOL BOYS WILL NOT BE QUARANTINED

Four Harrisburg boys were made wonderfully happy yesterday. They are William Webster, Robert Webster and Frederick Webster, of 223 South Fourteenth street, and George Sawyer, of 408 Crescent street, students at St. Paul's School, Baltimore, Md. They were under orders to report at school on September 17 and were to be kept in strict quarantine for two weeks prior to the formal opening in order to comply with the orders of the local health authorities in connection with the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Yesterday the parents of the boys received communications from the headmaster of the school stating that the quarantine for the boys had been reduced to one week. They are to report on the date arranged and would be taken to the Dubois summer home, in the vicinity of Baltimore, for the first week.

WOLFE CORSET SHOP

404 N. 2nd Street

None other so beautifies the feminine figure, or so fully satisfies the fastidious dresser as NuBone.

Front-lace or back-lace styles, low-top, hip-confining styles, reducing styles, or free-diaphragm styles, whatever the figure requires or the fancy desires, are perfected in NuBone.

If you are not satisfied with the corset you are wearing, try a NuBone and be convinced.

If you like a boning which is neither too stiff nor too flexible, adopt NuBone; it is just right.

If you have been frequently annoyed by rusted or broken stays, you will welcome NuBone stays; they are guaranteed one year.

If your figure has been a source of mortification to you and your corsets are the torture which comforts and corrects. Whatever your corset troubles may be, tell them to the NuBone Corsetiere—and she will do the rest. A few refined, intelligent women will be instructed in corsetry and given exclusive territory.
