KATINKA MUSIC PROVES CATCHY

Leaders in Cast Save Performance From Mediocrity; Burlesque Overdone

Whisked rapidly from Russia to Turkey, to Austria, in a short space of two hours' time, the well-filled houses at the afternoon and evening performances of "Katinka" at the Orpheum yesterday were unanimous in their opinion that the show was above the average for Harrisburg and augured well for the coming theatrical season. "Katinka" enjoyed a good run in New York last winter, and although the performers yesterday were not the first company, the outstanding work of Margaret Owen, Phil Ryley, John Roberts, S. Paul Veron and Mae Phelps brought the average up to a satisfactory level.

The catchy music was the best part of the musical comedy. The audience was in an appreciative mood and at times could not resist the infection of the tunes. "In Vienna," "Racketty Coo," "Skidalskatch" and Phil Ryley's parody on "I Want to Marry a Male Quartet" took the honors. "Racketty Coo" in particular will linger on the lips of Harrisburgers just as many another tune from popular musical comedies has found a permanent home on a transient visit to the city.

The introduction of a number of elements that smacked strongly of burlesque detracted immensely from the play. Suggestive lines that could better have been struck out gave an unpleasant flavor to portions of the several acts. The encouragement given by a part of the audience is misinterpreted evidently by the producers as the consensus of the opinion of his audience, which is certainly not the case. "Katinka" suffers as a result of the presence of these lines.

Thaddeus Hopper and Mrs. Hopper were the life of the cast and their offerings were much enjoyed. There were quite a number of good voices, among them that of Paul Veron and Margaret Owen, and on the whole "Katinka" is deserving of more favorable than unfavorable criticism.

ORPHEUM

To-day, matinee and night — Jack Reid's "Record Breakers." (Burlesque)
To-morrow and Saturday and Saturday matinee—"The Yoke."
Tuesday and Wednesday and Wednesday matinee—September 19 and 20—"Fair and Warmer."
MAJESTIC—Vaudeville.
COLONIAL—"Caprice of the Mountains."
REGENT—"The Dream Girl."

Usually the director or "master mind" of a dramatic organization is a total stranger to the audience and the company. Still it is this guiding hand that we have to thank for the performance that brings us pleasure and entertainment.

J. Edwards fills this important position in connection with "The Yoke." It is his mind that has planned the scenic surroundings of "The Yoke," nor has his direction ceased there. He has directed and perfected the technique. "The Yoke" will be the attraction at the Orpheum to-morrow and Saturday. There will be a special matinee Saturday.

A very Hopwood's "Fair and Warmer," which scored such success in New York last season, will be presented at the Orpheum on Tuesday and Wednesday and Wednesday matinee by the company of Thaddeus Hopper and Mrs. Hopper. It is said, is infallible as a laugh-maker. Nobody was ever able to resist its array of sparkling lines, or its galaxy of acrobats.

A superb comedy offering, entitled "Maggie Taylor, Waitress," is the attraction at the Majestic theater at this week, and is presented by a company including Jean Adair, Miss Adair, as the "waitress," is said to be all that can be desired. The play is said to be exceptionally beautiful. A pair of Hebrew comedians, Irving and Ward, and H. I. Hamilton, secretary of the Grand, clever young couple, who appeared at this theater last season, are with us again, and are just as pleasing as ever. Other acts on the bill are: Ed Dowling, piano artist, and Richards, Brant and Martin, comedy acrobats.

June Caprice, the newest of Fox stars, made her initial appearance at the Colonial in a new five-reel drama, entitled "Caprice of the Mountains." A delightful story of the out-of-doors, which will be shown for the last time at the Colonial. "The Grip of Evil," called "Hypocrites," will be shown on the same program. A powerful story, complete in itself, which dealt another interesting episode of this great serial play. Friday and Saturday, Ed and Mary will be re-starring in a new play by Thos. H. Ince, entitled "Lieutenant Danny U. S. A." and "The Girl and the Mummy," a play that is said to be thirty minutes of solid laughs.

An appreciative audience yesterday greeted the first showing of the Regent's "The Dream Girl," in which Mae Murrays starred. She is the Regent's latest attraction, supported by Theodore Roberts, James Neill, Earl Foxe and Mary Mersch. "The Dream Girl" will be shown to-day for the last time.
To-morrow will be double attraction day at the Regent. It will be presented in a drama of faith and love, "The Dawn of a To-morrow," Miss Pickford portrays the wild and wonderful character of Glad, the beautiful and ragged girl of the London slums.
Billie Burke will be presented in the thirteenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," entitled "The Midnight." Gloria after recognizing in Trass the murderer of her love and recovering from the swoon that follows the recognition of Trass, sets out to follow the murderer. She traces him down into the evil part of the city and there is set upon by thugs.

WANTS TREASURES SPARED
Sept. 14. — In view of the recent aerial bombardments of Venice, Pope Benedict has renewed to Austria-Hungary his recommendation that during the war, Churches, monuments and art treasures be spared. This wish of the Pope will be urged also by Monsignor Valfridi Pozzo, a prelate well acquainted with high Italian personages, who will soon go to Vienna as papal nuncio.

Want Deeper Channel From Trenton to Ocean

Philadelphia, Sept. 14. — Arguments to make the Delaware river channel deeper all the way from Trenton to the breakwater are being poured out to-day in the course of the trip by the delegates of the Atlantic Deepwaters Association to Chester and Wilmington and the Chesapeake and Delaware canal at Delaware City. Twenty men noted for their work in furthering the "Maine-to-Florida Canals" work of the association will address meetings in the three cities and nothing which can advance the great transportation and coast defense project will be left unsaid. The delegates and other friends left for Chester at 9 o'clock on the steamer Queen Anne, on which they were taken yesterday to Bristol and Trenton. At Chester they were welcomed in an address by Mayor Wesley R. McDowell. Arriving at Wilmington, the waterways agitators will be given a luncheon. At Delaware City, Mayor William M. Householder, of Delaware City; Mayor John W. Stevens, of Albany, N. Y.; Congressman William J. Browning, of New Jersey; Congressman Charles G. Edwards, of Georgia, and H. I. Hamilton, secretary of the Florida East Coast Canal Association, will speak.

GIRL WIFE TELLS OF MURDER

Says She Was Forced to Live With Husband's Slayer
Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 14.—Mary Minnowa, nineteen years old, common-law wife of Detective Joseph Pengalo, who was murdered at Woodlawn Park last January, yesterday told in court as a witness in the case against Antonio Frio how Frio came to her home, took Pengalo out and had him shot by two accomplices. She said Frio took charge of her home, and as she was afraid of him, she obeyed all his commands. She said Frio compelled her to destroy photographs of her former husband, but was kind to the little child whose father he killed. The defense objected to her testimony because the witness has been living with the defendant as his wife, and the laws of Pennsylvania do not permit a wife to testify against her husband, but the Court overruled the objection.

3 YEARS FOR SHOOTING WOMAN
Reading, Pa., Sept. 14. — Massimo Sorrentino, 30, an Italian army deserter, was sentenced to not less than five or more than seven years in the penitentiary for shooting Mrs. Annie Parmese seven times in July at her home here. The woman was crippled for life. Jealousy is given as the cause for the shooting.
