RAILROAD NEWS

MEET NEXT WEEK

Annual Convention Will Be Held at Reading, Starting Monday Morning

Harrisburg and Enola will be largely represented at the annual meeting of the General Assembly of the Mutual Beneficial Association of Pennsylvania Railroad Employes. It will be held at Reading this year. The opening session is scheduled for Monday, September 25. Meetings will be held in Masonic Temple.

This district has two assemblies, No. 4, which includes Harrisburg employes, and No. 21, of Enola, taking in shopmen. It is probable that fifty delegates will go from this district. Other representatives will come from Pittsburgh, Williamsport, Renovo, New York, Trenton, Philadelphia, Altoona, Sunbury, Pottsville and other points.

The officers of the association are: President, George W. Brown; secretary, C. M. Brinker, and treasurer, J. K. Linn, of Philadelphia, a former Harrisburger. During the year the Mutual membership has shown a record increase.

Supreme Masonic Council Opens 104th Convention Pittsburgh, Sept. 19. - The 104th annual meeting of the Supreme Coun-cil, Thirty-third Degree, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Free Masons Northern Jurisdiction, was opened to-day. Barton Smith, of Toledo, Ohio, sovereign grand commander, spoke, and the Supreme Council was opened in the fourteenth degree. To-night the thirty-third degree will be con-ferred. To direct and facilitate the administration of charitable, philan-thropic and benevolent enterprises invoving millions of dollars in bequests by members of the Supreme Council, plans were presented to-day to that body in the form of a report by a committee of one active and one honorary member from each of the fifteen States in the Northern Jurisdiction for the establishment of a char-itable foundation. Such a plan will relieve the Supreme Council of a vast amount of work and would insure the best possible administration.

Important Rulings on Corporation Reports

Corporation Reports

Rulings in regard to filing of reports for taxation in the department of the auditor general, which procedure is the basis for collection of millions of dollars worth of State revenue, are made by Deputy Attorney General W. M. Margest in opinions given to Auditor General A. W. Powell to-day. He holds that the Auditor General may extend time for filing of reports by corporations included within the scope of the act of June 2, 1915, for a period of thirty days after March 31 "and that he may, in his discretion, grant such extension as to cover the reports which have been filed within the time, although no extension was previously given." This opinion was given on an inquiry by the Auditor General whether a penalty should be imposed for failure of a corporation, comprising a system, to file its report by March 31. It filed on April 23.

In the second opinion Mr. Hargest answers an inquiry whether under the acts of 1897 and 1997 banks and trust companies whose reports are not filed on or before June 20 are liable to penalty by saying that owing to wording of forms that "it would be incequitable to impose any penalty upon banks or trust companies which filed their reports promptly for the year ending June 20, 1916, even though they were not received until a few days thereafter."

Rotarians Will Hear of New Hotel and New Automatic Telephone

E. Z. Wallower and E. J. Stackpole will address the Harrisburg Rotary Club this evening on the subject of the new hotel for Harrisburg. The club requested their presence in order to be fully informed as to just what is proposed and to learn how it can assist in the movement.

The Rotarians will be the guests of the Cumberland Valley Telephone Company, at the display room of that organization, 308 Market street. The program will include a demonstration of the new automatic telephone which the company proposes to install in this city and vicinity.
