The CINCO Cigar has attained a national reputation, and, through the maintenance of a high standard of quality, has become the largest seller in the world, and the manufacturers deemed it advisable to advance the price rather than sacrifice its long-established high quality.

WEST SHORE NEWS

VOTERS TO DECIDE SCHOOL QUESTION

West Shore Movement Being Vigorously Pushed by Directors and Firemen's Union

Whether or not West Shore will have a central high school now depends on voters of Lemoyne, Camp Hill, Wormleysburg, West Fairview and East Pennsboro township.

Directors of school boards of these five districts launched the project last night when in joint session they voted unanimously to put the proposition before the voters at the November election. About $55,000 can be collected among these five districts, which is said to be enough to erect and furnish a building to accommodate high school pupils from all these districts.

The next step to be taken in the matter will be supervised by the West Shore Firemen's Union. The union plans to wage an educational campaign in order to have every voter in the districts understand the project clearly. It asserted that about 50 per cent. of the voters view the proposition from the wrong angle. Money will be raised by the union and it is likely a special session will be held by the union to make plans for a mass meeting of the firemen of the West Shore—in number about 1,200. The union also plans mass meetings for the different sections. A band will be engaged and other attractions to secure the people to attend. Speakers of prominence who do not reside in the county are expected to attend. Experience in the combined high school work will be selected.

Ira Shaul and J. Fred Hummel, president and vice-president, respectively, of the West Shore Firemen's Union; Dr. Zeigler, of Camp Hill, and Groff Scheaffer, of Wormleysburg, other members of the union, were present.

A committee from the union plans to visit Lower Allen and New Cumberland school boards in a final attempt to have these towns included in the concerted effort.

The five towns were represented by directors as follows: Camp Hill, U. G. Frye, Dr. W. E. Kendall, E. O. Pardo, Stephen Hubertis; Lemoyne, L. F. Baker, E. L. Eby, Leroy Young, Whitney W. Mumma and William Fretz; West Fairview, A. Hoover; East Pennsboro township, Albert Froelich; Wormleysburg, Edward F. Green; and Rev. S. E. Vance and W. T. Baker. W. C. Enterline, a former member of the Camp Hill board and secretary of the central high school temporary organization five years ago, was present.

New Cumberland and Lower Allen township boards still are hold-outs on the project, and although the move is going without their endorsement, the school would be much benefited by their co-operation. The firemen's union is making efforts to secure their endorsement.

According to discussion among directors, it is believed a $35,000 building would accommodate pupils from these districts for several years until the population and valuation increased which would give the districts more money from which to draw. The plans are to purchase a ten-acre field, costing about $10,000, on which to erect the structure. The grounds will be made into playgrounds and a certain portion in reserve for enlargement of the building. The plans will be so drawn as to make an addition without much extra expense.

The two suitable sites for the new building are Washington Heights and a plot of ground near Wormleysburg, both in East Pennsboro township. The selection of the plot will be left to a person who is entirely strange to the surroundings and who will be impartial in the selection.
