

PRESIDENT IS THROWN DOWN IN HIS HOME STATE

Wilson's Personal Choice For Senate Snowed Under by Independent Democrat

BRUMBAUGH ENDORSED

No Contest For Officers; William S. Tunis a Vice-President

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 27.—Senator James E. Martine won the Democratic nomination for United States Senator by a safe majority over John W. Westcott, according to the vote canvassed at 7 o'clock this morning.

H. Otto Wittmann of Jersey City was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The slowness of the count is laid by election officials to the keen interest displayed in the local contests.

Inspectors of election, instead of counting the votes of the principal candidates first, left them to the last.

Wilson's Personal Choice Westcott was made an issue by the anti-Wilson Democrats, who were lined up behind Martine.

Westcott is in the lead in the Republican gubernatorial contest according to corrected returns from yesterday's primary election up to early this afternoon.

Martine made a victory an independent fight, relying upon anti-machine men and anti-Wilson Democrats to land him the nomination.

Austen Colgate is in the lead in the Republican gubernatorial contest according to corrected returns from yesterday's primary election up to early this afternoon.

Senator James E. Martine is increasing his lead in the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

ACCLAIM HUGHES AS VICTOR IN NATIONAL FIGHT

Prominent Speakers Address Rousing Rally in York of State Republican League

ADMINISTRATION SCORED

Brumbaugh, Borah, Knox, Vare and Others Assail Wilson's Achievements

York, Pa., Sept. 27.—Harmony reigned in the convention of the Pennsylvania State League of Republican Clubs, in session here to-day, and the reported contest over the election of officers did not materialize.

Resolutions were adopted reaffirming the league's allegiance to the principles of the Republican party, endorsing the platform of the Chicago convention and promising unqualified support to Hughes and Fairbanks and all candidates for Congress and state offices.

It was declared that only the European war had prevented a panic and that "the manufacturing interests in Pennsylvania involving capital and labor are so interwoven with the Republican policy that if the war in Europe were to cease and the Democratic party were successful next November, it would be nothing short of a public calamity."

W. E. Brewster, of New York, secretary of the National Republican League, cheered the league with the prediction of Republican majorities in various states, which, he said, were based on recent personal visits to various sections of the country.

Among the vice-presidents elected was William S. Tunis, of Harrisburg, who was also chosen as a delegate to the convention of the National Republican League.

Eight hundred Republicans from all quarters of the Commonwealth are here for the gathering to give impetus to the movement to have this State line up with Maine in registering the on-sweeping of Republican sentiment throughout the nation.

United States Senator W. E. Borah, of Idaho; Philander C. Knox, Republican candidate for United States Senator from Pennsylvania; Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, Mayor Thomas B. Smith, of Philadelphia; Congressman John R. K. Scott, William S. Vare, M. M. Garland, Daniel Lefean and Thomas S. Crago, State Senator, William E. Crow, Charles A. Snyder, candidate for Auditor General; Harmon M. Kephart, candidate for State Treasurer, and a half dozen others made the address last night.

County Chairman McLean Stewart was temporary chairman, while Samuel R. McCall, former Progressive County Chairman, who is a candidate for Congress, acted as permanent speaker.
