Fighting For Suffrage

Miss Margaretta Van R. Schuyler has had unusually good training for a suffrage worker. Born in New York city and always ambitious, she began work as a newspaper reporter of the Portland Express, not in the society department nor as a sob writer, but as a straight reporter. She was later secretary to Mrs. August Belmont and in this work she not only learned something of the woman's movement, but she learned women as well, women in various walks of life. She brought to Mrs. Belmont's work a trained observation and has entered suffrage organization work with a zeal that knows no limit. She has been assigned to Wyoming as a preliminary worker in the woman's party campaign.

BUILDING OF C. V. BRIDGE GREAT FEAT

on Island Park. The greater part of the two-truck arch structure is being built under traffic movement, with the aid of two cranes, three dinkies, the concrete plant, eleven half-arch forms and one-third mile of trestle. The efficient height with turnouts, beneath feet in length and contain 56,000 cubic yards of concrete above water.

Concrete Arches Replace Steel

Two concrete arches replace each of the old steel spans, which were first moved eight and one-half feet up stream on the old double track piers and kept in service while the south half of the new bridge was built. Traffic was then transferred to the new structure and the old steel bridge removed. With the exception of the two spans on the west shore and bank all the concrete is placed by the pneumatic method from a plant located on the lower end of Island Park.

The main concrete plant on the Island is supplied with material by rail. The level of the old bridge enabled the construction of a trestle of sufficient height with turnouts, beneath which are the stone and sand bins with a capacity of 150 tons; and a cement shed holding about 200 barrels. Sand and stone are delivered in hopper bottom cars, and cement is dropped down a wooden chute to the level of the charging platform.

Use Small Mixer

Under the platform are located the sand and stone bins, and the measuring hoppers emptying into chutes which feed the one-half yard Haines mixer suspended over the track for the concrete cars. Two of the hoppers are for measuring sand, one being filled as the other is emptied, and the third is for sand. The concrete is turned out at the rate of 35 yards per hour. It is dumped into two large buckets on a platform car and hauled over the narrow gauge tracks on the low trestle work, to the point where it is placed in the moulds for the arches and piers.

The work on the lower half of the bridge was completed late last November, two weeks ahead of time. This year the contractors were held up by high water and floods which washed away a large portion of the trestle work. This necessitated doing over again much of the important work up to-day the upper half of the bridge between the Harrisburg shores and Island Park is about completed; and work is well underway on the west side of the Island.

Ready on Schedule Time

In spite of the six weeks' delay caused by the floods, and barring accidents or further trouble from high water, the bridge will be completed on schedule time. Arch forms are usually concreted in eight hours. Recently one arch, containing 275 cubic yards, and located 1,000 feet from the mixing plant, was completed in seven and one-half hours. The contractors have forces of men working night and day, and in good and bad weather. There is always something that can be done and some time saved. There remain 28 arches to be completed.

The bridge is being built by the Robert Grace Contracting Company for the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company, of which T. B. Kennedy is chief engineer. Crosby Tappan, of Chambersburg, is engineer in charge of construction. A. F. Byers is chief inspector and S. F. Bloyer, resident engineer for the railroad. Superintendent F. P. Kernen is in charge for the contractors.

TRAIL-HITTERS ON PARADE

On Saturday, May 27, 4,000 men of the Bible classes of the Protestant churches of all denominations in Paterson, N. J., and vicinity marched in their first Bible class parade. The parade was under the supervision and direction of the Paterson and North Jersey Evangelistic Association. This is the organization which was responsible for Billy Sunday coming to Paterson. Sixty-one classes were represented. Thousands of people turned out to view the march. A huge American flag, six by sixteen feet, was used as a turning-point. — The Christian Herald.

"CAN'T CUT OFF MY LEG," SAYS RAILROAD ENGINEER

"I am a railroad engineer; about 29 years ago my leg was seriously injured in an accident out West. Upon my refusing to allow the doctor to amputate it I was told it would be impossible to heal the wound. I have tried all kinds of salves and had many doctors in the past 20 years, but to no avail. Finally I resolved to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT on my leg. You cannot imagine my astonishment when I found it was doing what over 100 things had failed to do. My leg is now completely cured." — Gus Haut, 799 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"It makes me feel proud to be able to produce an ointment like that," says Peterson. "Not only do I guarantee Peterson's Ointment for old sores and wounds, but for Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Itching Skin and Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles, and I put up a big box for 25 cents, a price all can afford to pay and money back from your druggist if not satisfied. Peterson's Ointment takes the burn out of sunburn in 10 minutes. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Peterson Bros., Buffalo, N. Y."

THE TEARFUL GIRL

There is a certain girl I know, a pretty little elf, Who spends almost her entire thoughts in pity for herself; Her glossy tresses, raven black, cause her to weep a pond— She is so sorry for herself because they are not blond. Her eyes, when dry, are very bright, and very brown, 'tis true; But they are almost always wet, because they are not blue. She is of medium height, and when she sees someone quite tall She weeps all day in keenest pain because she is so small. But if she meets some tiny girl whom she considers fair, Then that she is so big herself she sobs in great despair. When out upon a promenade her tears she cannot hide, To think she is obliged to walk while other folks can ride. But if she drives, why then she weeps — It is so hard to be Perched stiffly in a carriage seat while other girls run free. She used to cry herself quite sick to think she had to go Month after month to dreary schools; that was her constant woe. But on her graduating day, my! how her tears did run! It seemed so sorrowful to know that her school life was done. One day she wept because she saw a funeral train go by— It was so sad that she must live while other folks could die. And really all her friends will soon join with her in those tears, Unless she takes a brighter view of life ere many years.
