STATE CAN PAY RAILROAD NEWS

Must Not Lay More Taxes to Do It Is Statement of Auditor General

Pennsylvania can pay all of its bills

Pennsylvania can pay all of its bills and it does not need to increase its revenues or to lay any more taxes to do it is the statement made by Auditor General A. W. Powell in a statement made here late to-day on the finances of the State. Mr. Powell says that if one studies the government of the State it will be seen that there is no need for new rexenue, but necessity of reducing expenses. Mr. Powell's statement, which shows the present condition of the State finances, declares as well that Pengslyania is in better financial shape than agy other State and that this month there was a big jump in cash and that the State could to-day, pay all evidences of debt and all bills. The statement is the first to be made by the auditor general since his return from the border and is as follows: "Revenue does not need to be in-

made by the auditor general since his return from the border and is as follows: "Revenue does not need to be in-creased. Expenditures need to be re-duced. Everybody seems to have for-gotten that the people pay the taxes, no matter from whom they are first collected. The cost of government has risen from $1.97 per capita in 1850 to $4.54 per capita in 1915. "The government of the State col-lected from the people as its revenue for the year 1915, $31,950,727.85. We estimate the revenue for 1916 will be $32,000,000. This estimate is based upon the fact that the total revenue settlements to the treasury from this department to September 28, 1916, were $25,080,707.05, of which $5,-449,618.61 are yet in their hands un-acted upon, and the revenue from frees of office, various departmental re-ceipts, collateral inheritance tax, etc., will likely bring the total revenue to the figure above estimated, which ap-proximates the average for the past ten years notwithstanding the fact that the personal property tax, amounting to over $5,000,000 a year, has been made the subject of local revenue and does not appear in the receipts for 1915 nor the estimate for 1916. at the close of business to-day is $1,-544,723.85. "The State is not only solvent, but amply able to pay all of its uncon-ditional liabilities. It has no bonds outstanding and no certificates of in-debtedness which are not covered to their full face value by cash in the sinking fund and has ample money to pay all of its bills, if we disregard those conditional ones created out of its generosity to private charities. "I have opportunity to examine the reports if controllers and auditors general of other States and I do not hesitate to say that the Common-wealth of Pennsylvania is in better financial condition than any other State in the union."

Indianapolis Decorated For Hoosier Centennial

Indianapolis, , Ind., Sept. 30.— Thou-sands of red, white and blue pennants, flags and thousands of yards of bunt-ing have been strung all over 'Indian-apolis, in preparation of the Indiana centennial celebration which begins Monday, October, 2 and continues to October 15.

Monday, October, 2 and continues to October 15. Residents of Indianapolis for the two weeks will keep "open house" for the people of Indiana as well as for former Hoosiers exiled in other States. Many noted persons have been invited and have accepted invitations to appear as guests and to take part in the pro-grams. Among them are President Wil-son, October 12 to review the motor parade; former President Taft, October 6, former President Roosevelt and Dr. Ellot, president emeritus of Harvard University, October 13. 232.

> Present George W. Fisher With Handsome Leather Chair at Enola

Yardmaster George W. Fisher, of Yardmaster George W. Fisher, of Enola, who retires to-day from active service with the Pennsylvania rail-road, was given a rousing farewell. With prominent officials and yard employes gathered about him, R. G. Cun-ningham, assistant trainmaster, in be-half of the Enola yardmen, present-ed Mr. Fisher with a large leather chair. Mr. Cunningham said in part: "Boys we have assembled here this morning to say good-by to an officer of the Pennsylvania railroad. He was selected to take charge of this yard when opened, after careful consider-ation by the officials, and proved an efficient officer. He organized and successfully handled the business of this yard ever since 1905. Last Jan-uary he reached the age of 65 years and by his own request retires to-day after 47 years and one month service. His retirement is with much reluc-tance on the part of the officials. We hope and trust that he may have years to enjoy this life and that he will accept this gift as a memento from the Enola yardmen." Mr. Fisher Responds In responding Mr. Fisher said, "Men I do not know how I can thank you-but if it would not have been for you, this great yard would never have gone through. I thank you one and all." Among those present were: R. G. Cunningham, assistant train-master; Philip Rothaar, yardmaster; C. L. Snyder, yardmaster; H. F. Shuey, W. S. Hamill, G. W. Hunter, W. G. Sellers, J. A. McMeen, as-sistant yardmasters; C. A. Baer, chief clerk; C. E. Rudy, clerk to Mr. Fisher; C. H. Miller, D. J. Dwyer, W. F. Coop-er, J. B. # $4,250 Loss in the County Statistics made public to-day by the Department of Forestry show and fourteen forest fires burned in Dau-phin county during the 1916 Spring forest fires season. Almost 2,800 acres of forest land were burned over, and the damage done is estimated at about $4,250. Eight of the fires were caused by sparks from locomotives not equipped with effective spark arrest-ers. Reasonable care would have prevented every one of the fires. Figures are not yet available for that Dauphin county will stand well up in the list with an average arks of 200 acres per fire, although her total loss is small. The largest single fire in the county burned May 12 and 13 in Williams township, and covered about 300 acres. The total cost of extinction for all the fires was $309.04.
