A new era of industrial expansion and civic development for Harrisburg was fittingly ushered in last evening at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in the Masonic Temple with Charles M. Schwab, E. G. Grace, Edward F. Trefz and a number of other men of national reputation as the honor guests.

It was the most successful dinner ever given by the local business organization and the visitors were impressed, they said, with the deep feeling for civic interest exhibited by the more than 400 diners present

Briefly some of the city's accomplishments along the lines of fine parks, adequate water supply, paved streets, improved sewers and River Front development were traced.

The City-That-Is-To-Be

Then the picture of the city-that-is-to-be was painted. In glow-ing words one of the speakers presented the view of the city of a million population, with still finer parks, adequate and more effective LIKE schools, still greater playground facilities, undreamed-of river development, smoke-belching factories and feverish mills that never cease to turn—a contented, happy city where everyone is busy and Philadelphia, Oct. 3. — At the men-tion of the name of Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for President, 600 railroad officials ross from their seats and cheered for sev-eral seconds yesterday during the opening session of the forty-fourth an-nual convention of the American As-sociation of Traveling Passenger Agents at the Bellevue-Strafford. The oztburst followed' a quotation by E. F. Burnett, of Hughes' opinion on the eight-hour law. The mere ut-terance of the Republican candidate's name, it is said, was sufficient to throw the tranquil delegates into tumultu-ous applause. The cheering resounded through the halls of the hotel for near-yer Association, referred to the law as an "outrage passed by Congress and approved by the President."

Goldfish Swim About at

This is a fish tale of Third and Market streets. It isn't a tale of a "500-pounder" or "14 footer," but just a little story about how a few dozen little goldfish held up traffic for a quarter of an hour this morning. When an Adams Express com-pany truck rounded the corner at Third and Market streets at 8 o'clock this morning a small can bounced off, and the fun started. The lid was jarred off and the goldfish inside took a swim on the asphalt. Traffic officers and pedestrians aided in the rescue, but six of the little fishes are swim-ning through the sewer to the river on their way to freedon. No shiny bowls of water for them, no sir.
