FINAL GAME IS WORKOUT BATTLE

Brooklyn Leader to Enter World's Battles For Further Honors

New York, Oct. 5.—Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn National League club, will pit his regulars against New York in the game in Brooklyn this afternoon as a final workout for the opening of the world's series at Boston on Saturday.

"We are going to win and I think we can do it," said Robinson. "Our team has played good ball all season, and we held the lead almost all the way through, except for a day or two here and there. We measure up to the Red Sox, and with our team playing its best ball right now there is no reason why it can't win. We'll show the fans some real playing. Marquard, Coombs, Cheney, Pfeffer and Smith will show them some pitching, and we are not worrying."

"Rube" Marquard, who is reported to have been selected to pitch the opening game for Brooklyn, said he was in top form now and that Brooklyn is going to win. "This team has nothing to fear from Boston," he added. "We measure right up to the standard in every department and, believe me, we are going to trim them. All I hope is that I can pitch the same sort of ball that I have been pitching during the last couple of weeks."

"We will be right at their throats all the time," declared Jack Coombs. "If any one believes Boston is going to ride right over us he is reckoning without men of the stamp of Jake Daubert, Pfeffer, Marquard and Chief Meyers."

The first big wager here on the world's series was announced to-day when it was stated that E. E. Smathers, the owner of fast horses, had placed $20,000 to $11,000 on the Boston Americans to win. A number of smaller wagers at ten to six were reported.

It was announced that the four umpires chosen for the world's series would meet in Boston to-day to agree upon a uniform interpretation of rules. The "infield fly" is one point upon which an agreement is desired, because in the American League a runner must hold his base on such a fly, while in the National League he can run at his own risk.

OLD YORK FAIR RACES
York, Pa., Oct. 5.—Ideal track and weather conditions yesterday permitted the completion of two interesting racing events of yesterday, as well as the full Wednesday program at the York fair. The most decisive victory of the day was made in the Little Peter Pointer, the promising sorrel pacer owned by Frank Turner, of Narberth, which took the 2:30 pace in straight heats, best time 2:15 1/2. The best time of the day was made in the first heat of the 2:11 pace, which Baby Bertha won, in 2:05 1/2. The same mare won the race, though it took her five heats to do it.

WELLY'S CORNER

WILSON'S CRITICS RIGHT, SAYS TAFT

Now that the fuss over New York Giants is all past baseball fans have about decided that Brooklyn is the best team, and that the Phillies could not be counted on because of the irregular work of pitchers. A widespread opinion prevails that Brooklyn will give Boston a harder fight than the Quakers.

If local fans have any intention of seeing one of the World's series games they will be disappointed according to reports unless provisions have already been made for tickets. According to reports everything is sold both in Brooklyn and Boston, and that the only chance is to get into line on the day of the games and take a chance with the bleachers.

News from Steelton that there will be something like a real football team this season is stirring enthusiasts. While everybody enjoys the other games it is the battles between Central, Tech and Steelton that draw the big crowds and has the thrills. It is

ADAMSON ACT SAMPLE OF UNIFORM SUBSERVICENCY; MEXICO ENOUGH TO DEFEAT HIM

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 5.—Declaring that the campaign of 1916 is as important as the campaign of 1896 and resembles that campaign in that the Democratic party and its candidate are seeking a vote of power for disingenuous, unsound, but alluring reason, William H. Taft, former President of the United States, delivered the opening address of the Republican State campaign here last night.

Mr. Taft assailed the Democratic party's fiscal policy, its extravagance, its free trade tariff, its claim to credit for prosperity and its foreign policy, and he made a direct reply to President Wilson's defense of his course in settling the threatened railroad strike through the enactment of the Adamson Law.

Mexico Should Defeat Him
"Mr. Wilson's action in Mexico should defeat him for Presidency. And now Mr. Hughes is asked what he would have done. He certainly would not have done what Mr. Wilson did, and what Mr. Wilson did is reason enough for not allowing him to continue to exercise the responsibility of attempting to get out of the mess into which he has brought the country."

Cities Vacillating Course
"Mr. Wilson, as a publicist, wrote the most effective system and against the initiative and referendum and the recall; and then in his campaign for the nomination and in the election in 1912 he abandoned his former position and announced a radical change in view upon that subject."

Hughes Has Courage
"Other instances could be cited, but these are certainly enough to justify the conclusion that Mr. Wilson has few, if any, opinions on the issues of the day which exigency in the field of politics may induce him to give up. He generally pursues the wise course of never explaining the reason for his change. His facility in this regard robs of special importance his public utterances as a basis for supporting him as a candidate."

"On the other hand, Mr. Hughes is a man whose avowed opinions have always been the guide of his action. I say what the people of the United States know when I say that the chief characteristic of Mr. Hughes is the courage of his convictions in meeting the embarrassment of political opposition. He gives the reasons for his faith that is in him. He argues in favor of his propositions, and he does not depend upon mere facility of expression, mere happiness of epigrammatic statement, or the general phrasing of a platitude to support his position. He carries conviction by his speech to his audience and he carries his own conviction into conduct. His strength before the people and the importance to them of his utterances and promises grow out of confidence that he is not an opportunist, and that no political expediency will prevent his heaving to the line and fighting to the last for his principles. It has been said that there is little difference between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Hughes except that Mr. Wilson has had the presidential experience. This is as far as possible from the fact. Having in view Mr. Wilson's record on nearly every political question and Mr. Hughes' course as Governor of New York, it would be difficult to find among the public men of the country, one who is less like Mr. Wilson than Mr. Hughes."

Penn Football Victim Has Displaced Vertebrae; Chances For Recovery Slim

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—With a smile and words of cheer for physicians and friends who are at his bedside, Walter F. Waldeman, a 17-year-old freshman, who came from his home in Vineland, N. J., ten days ago, to "make good" on his class football team at the University of Pennsylvania, is in a critical condition in the University Hospital.

Waldeman displaced a spinal vertebra in his neck while tackling a "dummy" during football practice on Franklin Field Monday afternoon. Since then he has been in a private ward at the University Hospital with special nurses and physicians in attendance.

Physicians have relieved the pressure of the displaced vertebrae on his spinal cord. Analysis, however, has set in his legs and made his arms partially useless, and, although he is suffering no pain whatsoever, and is conscious, it is feared that the paralysis will extend to the walls of his diaphragm and make respiration impossible.

SMILES THOUGH FACING DEATH

Dr. Walter S. Hancock, attending physician to Penn's football squad, admitted last night that Waldeman's condition was very grave. He said: "Tuesday night his condition was critical. To-day he rallied a bit, and while his pulse and respiration are normal, he has a little fever. When I tell him to-night he was conscious. He is a brave little fellow and doesn't blame anybody for the accident. He talks to his doctors and nurses quite cheerily and tells his father, August Waldeman, who is at his bedside, not to worry. He is suffering no pain and doesn't seem to realize his condition. I cannot make any statement as to his chances for recovery. His condition is very, very grave."

ROOSEVELT TO TRY TO WIN BORDER STATES FOR HUGHES

New York, Oct. 5.—Colonel Roosevelt is going to invade the home of the Progressive party in a legal defense of the Union, those of your kin who dared to fight, were struggling to destroy it.

"NO ACCOUNTABILITY" SAYS ROOSEVELT TO LANE IN ANSWER TO NOTE ON POLICY

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Colonel Roosevelt yesterday sent a letter to Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Lane's denial that he had admitted that the note-sending policy of the Wilson administration had been a failure. In his reply, Roosevelt said he had not expressed such sentiments. In his denial Mr. Lane asserted that by the note-sending policy the United States had "achieved the greatest diplomatic triumph of a half-century," and the Colonel uses this assertion as a basis for an attack on the administration. The letter in part is as follows:

"In February, 1915, in our first note, we informed Germany that if her submarines caused the death of any of our people by sinking ships on which they were traveling, we would hold her to strict accountability. For more than a year thereafter we continued to write notes and the Germans continued to sink ships on which our citizens were traveling.

"They killed, all told, some 2,300 noncombatants, between one and two hundred babies under two years of age, fifty of whom were under one year of age. There were several hundred women among the persons killed. We did not hold Germany to strict accountability. We did not hold her to an accountability, strict or loose. For one year we permitted the killings to go on unchecked.

"Within the last month we have seen notices of several ships of neutrals being torpedoed and sunk with loss of life. It appears that the stoppage was primarily due to the fact that the British had the vigorous patrol captured or destroyed most of the submarines."

STEELTON AFTER FOOTBALL HONORS

Seven of Last Year's Team Back; Signal and Scrimmage Practice Daily

Football followers in Steelton are looking for big things from the Steelton high school team this fall, as seven of last season's first team men are back again.

Each afternoon Coaches Taggart and Reagan have the squad of 25 men out on Cottage Hill field for a fast signal practice followed by stiff scrimmage until sundown. Some of the substitutes from the team of last year, with several new players are furnishing the coaches with men to fill up the lineup.

DAYHOFF IN UNIFORM

Dayhoff, star backfield man, who was hurt last year is back again in uniform and is practically sure of his position. Quarterback remains open. Eckenrode, who held down the job part of last season is being tried at end as he is a fast runner, and Coleman, McCauley, Wren and the Wueschinski brothers are scrapping it out for backfield positions.

Morrett, last year's center, is also uniform and has little opposition. He will make a strong opponent for any team, and is a heady player. Shaffer and Sharosky are bidding for guard honors, while Loy, a new man, is showing up well in practice. Tackle positions are a bit up in the air according to the "dope" of the coaches, and there is talk of moving up some of the candidates from the backfield.

First Game Saturday
The first game of the season will be played in Steelton on Saturday when the Dickinson College Freshman eleven will oppose the lower end team. Last year Steelton held the Dickinson visitors to a scoreless tie, and Coaches Taggart and Reagan are working the men hard in an effort to open the schedule with a victory. That both Central and Tech will have hard propositions when they face Steelton in the annual contests, is the opinion of many who have seen the latter team in action.

TECH READY FOR LEBANON; TO PRESENT STRONG LINE-UP

Football for Tech will start on Saturday when Coach Wilder will bring his fast Lebanon eleven to Harrisburg to oppose the local boys at Island Park.

Lebanon opened last week with a practice game defeating Anyville by a big score. They had little opposition and their first real game will be with Tech. Some of the men from last year's eleven are in the lineup and the locals will have a hard fight to ring up a victory.

LEW RITTER IN BIG GAMES; PLANS WORLD'S SERIES SPORT

Every play of the world's series games will be shown on the famous Electro Wonder player board which Lew Ritter, the former Brooklyn catcher, has arranged to show at the Board of Trade building during the championship series. The Electro Wonder board is pronounced by many ball players as the greatest player board on the market. The ball is always in sight, it goes bounding to an infielder, or flying to an outfielder, the throw is made to a base for an out, and the batsman is seen running the bases and close plays follow each other in rapid succession.

NEW YORK GIANTS WINNER IN GAME WITH BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, Oct. 5.—With manager Carrigan and several of his lieutenants here to look over the National League champions to-day, Robinson used many of his second-string men and rookies with the result that yesterday the Giants ran away with a 7 to 3 victory.

Cheney pitched three erratic innings and was relieved by Castro, late of the International League, who was pounded hard. Sallee pitched the nine innings for New York and was effective. Robertson and McCarty led in the hitting with three drives each. Zack Wheat had his finger split in practice and was forced to retire. McGraw did not appear at the grounds.

BASEBALL AT COLONIAL DURING WORLD'S SERIES

The new automatic score board that is to be installed at the Colonial Theater for the world's series baseball games will reproduce every play in detail just as it is made on the ball field in Boston or Brooklyn. An expert operator will be in charge of the board so that there will be no unnecessary delays or misplays of any kind.

The board is so constructed that it will be possible to show every play no matter how complicated in such a manner as to be easily understood by anyone that is familiar with the game. Motion pictures will be suspended during the hours that the games are being played, but will continue as usual before and after the game. The theater will be run in the usual high class manner during the ball games, which will give the ladies as well as the men a chance to see the games in a first-class, well-ventilated theater. Seats will not be reserved and the doors will open forty-five minutes before the game starts.
