

Killing the Calves
—All sorts of excuses are offered for the high price of beef, the most plausible being the alleged demand for veal—"the killing of calves which should be allowed to grow into regular beef." You cannot have beef if you eat it as "veal," but you can have Shredded Wheat Biscuit which contains more real nutriment than beef and costs much less. Shredded wheat biscuit is the whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Make it your "meat" for ten days and see how much better you feel. Wholesome and strengthening for any meal with milk or cream or in combination with fruits. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Many Thousands in N. Y. Forced to Go Without Milk as Result of Deadlock

New York, Oct. 6.—A difference only as to the length of the contracts to be given by the New York distributors to the farmers existed to-day when the State opened its investigation of the deadlock which has kept this city on a short supply of milk for several days. The Dairywomen's League will attempt to show that the farmers have been selling milk at a loss. The distributors intend to produce evidence to sustain their charge that the league is a combination in restraint of trade. The continuance of the deadlock to-day resulted in a still more serious situation in respect to the milk supply. Morning deliveries were still further diminished and many thousands were unable to procure milk at all. To prevent a recurrence of yesterday's scenes on the upper East Side when hundreds of women stormed milk depots extra details of police were on duty to-day. The women again swarmed to the depots, soon exhausting the supplies, but there was no disorder.

U. E. CHURCH WILL NOT BUY PLOT

Refuse to Pay $44,500 For Site Owned by School Board

Announcement was made this afternoon that the official board of the Evangelical Publishing House of the United Evangelical Church, refused to ratify the recommendation of the executive committee to purchase the site bounded by Third, Harris, Boyd and Susquehanna streets, from the city school board for $44,500. The reason given for the action was that the price was more than the company had planned to pay for a site.

An option had already been obtained on the plot, it was said, and this afternoon the school board was to have approved the sale upon recommendation of its finance committee. Notification of the withdrawal of the publishing house offer was not received officially at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The plot is half of the property owned by the city school board. The entire site was bought at a cost of $82,500 in 1912, as a possible site for a high school, but the plan was abandoned. Officials of the Evangelical Publishing House, it was said, intended to arrange for the erection of a big publishing plant on the site. Two years may elapse, it is said, before any further action is taken to obtain a site for a new plant, it was announced. According to officials the present location is too small because of the increased publishing done by the Evangelical company.

At the city school board meeting this afternoon the finance committee recommended the payment of bills totaling $7,008.43; and that the contract for printing the annual school board report be awarded to the Telegraph Printing Company. The buildings and grounds committee asked that the contract for planting and surfacing the grounds of the W. S. Steele building be awarded to the Berryhill Nursery Company, at its bid of $1,498. The appointment of George Davis, assistant janitor at the city school building, and William Shepler, assistant janitor at the Macley building, was also advised.

Federal Farm Loan Board Will Meet Here, Oct. 17

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—Hearings by the Federal Farm Loan Board to gather information for its guidance in dividing the country into districts and locating the twelve farm loan banks created by the rural credits act will be resumed a week from next Monday. The itinerary announced to-day calls for the following hearings: October 16, Trenton, N. J.; October 17, Harrisburg, Pa.; and October 18, Baltimore. The board is being deluged with requests from farmers for organization of local farm loan associations. This in the opinion of members of the board, assures the success of the farm loan bank system. Already there are approximately 6,000 applications on file with the board for positions, with few opportunities of appointment. Each Federal bank in the twelve districts will have an attorney, a farm loan registrar, a receiver, a surveyor, a bonds and several land appraisers to inspect securities. These appointments will be made from among candidates in the respective districts as far as possible.

RIDING HOME AFTER THE SANDS OF THE DESERT HAVE GROWN COOL

Against the background of grim Mount Franklin, a little group of sun-browned, dusty olive-drab officers the other day trotted across the hot sands along the Texas border, right into the focal range of the camera man. And in the accompanying etching the Telegraph presents the finished result of that snapshot.

At first glance, you may think it is a relief column on the way to help Pershing; then, too, it has somewhat the appearance of the right of the cavalry column of the Tenth regiment whose final story was dramatically told some months since at Carrizal.

But the etching doesn't deal with any of these things; it is a view of Colonel Maurice E. Finney, commander of the Eighth Pennsylvania regiment of the United States National Guard returning from a long, long hike, "somewhere along the border." Riding with the commander of the Eighth are the other officers of his staff, among whom are Lieutenant Colonel J. B. Kemper, Major J. M. Peter, the regimental surgeon, Captain W. H. Baker, regimental adjutant; Chaplain, Captain Harry Nelson Bassler.

"On the way home after a long hike," is the cryptic way Colonel Finney describes the return from that arduous practice march in a letter to a friend in Harrisburg.

Plot to Kill Two Heads of N. Y. Traction Companies Unearthed; Arrests Made

New York, Oct. 6.—The police promised more arrests to-day in connection with an alleged plot to kill President Theodore P. Shonts, of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and Frank Hedley, manager of the New York Railways Company. Two men said to be striking subway guards, arrested early this morning were held on charges of stoning an elevated train. The police declared they had evidence that these men were involved in the supposed conspiracy, but refrained from bringing such a charge against them until others were arrested.

According to detectives, one of them who posed as a striker, got evidence ten days ago that plans were being laid to kill Shonts and Hedley. The two traction officials were warned and given permission to carry pistols. The two men now under arrest were closely watched until last night when they were seen taking part in an attack upon an elevated train. The prisoners, who gave their names as Oscar Wallace and John J. Sheeran, were questioned for several hours to-day, but the police said that to reveal the result of this examination might hamper them in continuing the investigation.

His Dream That He Would Be Miss Armour's Spouse Dissolves With Arrest

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 6.—The dream of Charles Nelson, romantic houseman who saw himself as the husband of Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, is dissolved to-day. Nelson, attired in a new gray suit and a red necktie, after being refused admittance to the Armour home on five occasions, was arrested.

He asserted that Miss Armour, who had seen him last summer at Lake Geneva, where he was employed, had sent word she wished to meet him. He had never spoken to her, but he was confident that she loved him, he said. Then the police solved the affair. A maid had told Nelson Miss Armour was impressed by him and he had swallowed the story whole.

Stole Baby She Says For Love of Its Father

SYLVIA LICURSI
Q. MTC. FILM SERVICE
SYLVIA LICURSI

New York, Oct. 6.—A kidnaping mystery which agitated Chicago six weeks ago has reached a climax here.

Confession that she had stolen two-year-old Sylvia Licursi at the behest of the child's father, whom she loved, Mrs. Belle Podolski appealed for aid in repairing the wrong she had done and extricating herself from its distressing consequences.

Alone in New York, abandoned by the man for whose sake she had committed, upon sensational circumstances, an act which placed her in peril of the law, burdened with another woman's child, and face to face with destitution, she craved an opportunity of returning little Sylvia to her mother.

Mrs. Podolski admitted that she was "the woman in black" who had puzzled the Chicago police by the skill and daring with which she had spirited the child from his home after winning the confidence of little Sylvia's vigilant grandmother.

To steal Frank Licursi's child for him she traveled from Detroit to Chicago, executed her mission with blind fidelity and returned to Detroit with her living prize. Her reward? When the police seemed to be getting hot on the trail Licursi returned his baby to her and bade her bring it to New York, promising to join her here later and make her his wife. She came, only to find herself deserted.

VOTE AGAINST CHURCH UNION

Principal reason given was that both Churches would have to sacrifice some of the principles involved in their doctrines to bring about a closer relationship.

The letter from the Baptist Conference was read late yesterday afternoon just before the Eldership adjourned. A request was made that a committee be appointed to arrange for a closer union between the two organizations, but many of the Church of God delegates expressed opinions that while the entire Baptist conference in the East favored the plan, if it were accepted by the local Eldership, the step would be an initiative one on the part of one unit of the General Eldership of the Church of God.

A closed session of the Eldership was held this morning, and the work of each pastor during the last year was carefully considered. Many of the ministers were commended for their good work while a few were censured.

The closed session was resumed again this afternoon and continued until a late hour. To-morrow committee reports will be considered by the Eldership. Dr. W. H. Guyer, president of Findlay College, Ohio, will make the principal address at the educational services this evening. To-morrow night missionary speakers will be listed for addresses.

ceeded. E. J. Stackpole was chairman. So eager were the committeemen to continue their organization that, following the suggestion of Paul Johnston, it was voted unanimously to meet again at the old Board of Trade rooms next Friday morning at 9.30 to report on memberships procured during the week and to make a whirlwind campaign of two hours, followed by luncheon at the Harrisburg Club, to solicit subscriptions of stock in the new million-dollar hotel.

The present committee of one hundred will be enlarged during the coming week by President Bowman and the Rotary Club hotel committee, headed by John S. Musser, chairman, will be included in the hotel campaign.

Committeemen who visited Quincy Bent, general manager of the Steelton Properties of the Bethlehem Steel Company were delighted with the spirit of co-operation on the part of everybody connected with the Bethlehem concern from Mr. Schwab down. The Bethlehem company came into the Chamber with fifty representatives, the dues all to be paid by the company.

Those who have been conducting the campaign are delighted with its success. The committeemen in general reported that they had been kindly received and that the general belief of business and professional men is that Harrisburg is just on the verge of a new era of progress and prosperity, and with the true Harrisburg spirit all, or nearly all of them, are willing and anxious to assist.

Girl Who Advertised For Husband So She Might Keep Mother Deluged With Offers

New York, Oct. 6.—Pretty Clara Bischoff, the girl who advertised for a husband in order that she might provide a home for her aged mother, to-day was fairly deluged with offers of marriage.

By letter and in person business men, farmers, mechanics and professional men laid their hearts at the young woman's feet. The postman has left more letters at the little home at 119 Kent avenue, in Greenport, in the past two days than he previously had carried there in a year. Practically every one contains an offer of marriage.

British Armored Motorcars Are a Failure Overseas News Agency Asserts

Berlin, Oct. 6.—By Wireless — The British armored motorcars which were used for the first time in the general advance on the Somme front last month, are a failure, the Overseas News Agency says.

"One of the tanks, built in Norfolk, England, became hopelessly entangled in barbed wire," says the news agency. "Another tank was disabled by one shell while advancing at a point north of Ploers. The ammunition which it contained exploded and it burned up. Two other tanks were utilized in an attack at 7 a. m. on September 15 on the Guillemont-Cambes road. One of them was blown up with a hand grenade when it had approached to within thirty yards of the German trenches. At the last moments its occupants dispatched a carrier pigeon from their modern Noah's ark. Six machine guns were captured by the Germans. The other tank crawled to the southern edge of Leuze wood and was burned up."

"Only one of these land cruisers succeeded in crossing German trenches. This was annihilated by a shell on the road to Ligny-Thilloit. The British land fleet will soon be composed of nothing but wrecks."

WOMEN ORATORS LEAVE ON A HUGHES TOUR

Well-known women, under the direction of the Hughes Alliance, have begun a political tour such as the country has never before experienced. Orators who think they will be able to convince women of the suffrage States were sent out on a special train to make speeches in many parts of the country for the election of Charles E. Hughes.
