The entente campaign against Mon-astir, in southern Serbla, is develop-ing rapidly from both the south and ing rapidly from both the south and the east. While allied forces have pressed to within not much more than a half dozen miles from Monastir on the south the Serbians have advanced northwest from Kaimakcalan on the western slopes of the Nidje ridge. Here they are reported by Paris to have reached the valley of the Vela Boda, which empties into the Cerna at a point almost directly east of monastir and about 16 miles distance from that eity.
