Brides-Elect

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 7. - The social season here is in full swing with the announcement this week of two prominent engagements and a series of entertainments for the brides-elect.

Yesterday afternoon at a tea held Yesterday afternoon at a tea held at the home of Mrs. John E. Hertzler, the engagement of her daughter, Miss Fannie M. Hertzler to Adam F. Miller. of Lebanon, a graduate of the Dickinson School of Law, was announced. Each of the guests received a yellow rose which bore tiny hearts of the same hue, on which appeared the names of the couple.

The entertainment was in honor of the Misses Jean Fredericks, Carlisle, and Mabel Zullinger, Mount Holly, who are soon to be married. Guests were present from Harrisburg, Lebanon, Mechanicsburg, Mount Holly and Newville.

In Central High School

J., who comes to Central with the very best of recommendations and finest experience for her work as Declamation teacher in the compact of the work as Declamation teacher in the compact of the work as Declamation teacher in the compact of the work as Declamation teacher in this department for several years, Miss Applegate will assume the duties of clocution teacher until Miss Swartz recuperates from her work as Declamation the compact of the work of the compact of the ler of hospital cases will be taken to the emergency wards.

Dr. J. M. J. Kaunick. city health officer, this morning looked at the old church used by the State as an armory. This will not be used unless absolutely necessary, he stated, as many improvements will be needed before it can be used for hospital work.

Two Nurses fit Charge
Two nurses are to be placed in charge of the emergency hospital in the hotel hall and each physician will be expected to attend to his own patients once they are moved from the city hospitals to the convalescent wards.

Orders were placed this afternoon for linen and all other supplies needed in caring for the patients. Only city cases will be cared for at the emergency hospital, according to Dr. Raunick. Careful dieting and treatment of the convalescent patients will be assured in the hospital.

Seventeen New Cases.

Seventeen new cases were reported in the city to-day, making a votal of eighty-six for the first week in October. Three more patients were taken to the Harrisburg Hospital, but with the opening of an additional ward there, hospital authorities believe they can handle all of the serious cases unless the epidemic continues unabated for an indefinite period.

State Nurses Assigned

State Department of Health nurses were to-day detailed by Commissioner Samuel G. Dixon to aid in nursing and caring for the typhoid fever cases in rural Dauphin county and in the West Shore boroughs of Cumberland county.
The commissioner also ordered vigorous continuance of the investigation of the ice cram supplies of the city and forbade sale of any product from certain plants unless it passed the bacteriological tests.

tain plants unless it passed the bacteriological tests.

Two nurses were detailed to travel about by automobile visiting cases in Halifax, Jackson, Wayne and other upper Dauphin townships where a survey was made by Dr. B. F. Royer, State chief medical inspector. It was decided that better results could be cotained by visiting nurses than by opening an emergency hospital at Halifax or Enders.

Two nurses were also detailed to aid in caring for people in the West Shore boroughs.

The situation in Harrisburg and vicinity is regarded as serious by Com-boroughs.

The situation in Harrisburg and vicinity is regarded as serious by Commissioner Dixon, who is personally directing the work of the State.

Surely you have seen these very hands before! Come to think of Yes, her hands were beautiful just a few years ago—"the prettiest hands in Harrisburg," they used to say. And now—they're wrinkled and seamed, and red—poor girl! And it need not have been so. But she's one of these women who think they must wash the finer things themselves-and her husband "likes her ironing better than that laund.y finish"-oh, yes, and she suffers!

At this laundry we specialize on family washing. Each wash is washed separate without indelible ink marks. And all fine goods are washed in a net to prevent tearing. Delivered to your home rough dry with all flat work ironed. A trial order usually makes a satisfied
