ROUSING GREETING TO NEXT PRESIDENT

The crowd kept on cheering while Mr. Hughes stood with a broad smile. Then Mr. Gilbert mounted a box and briefly stated that Mr. Hughes had been directed by his physician to save his voice and that he had forbidden a speech here. "Mr. Hughes deeply regrets that he cannot speak to us to-day, but he wants to greet you and to thank you for this reception. I want to introduce to you the next President of the United States."

The crowd gave a roar of approval and cheered again. When it was quiet Mr. Hughes voiced his regret at the doctor's orders and it was apparent that there was need for them because he could be heard only a short distance away.

"It is a great pleasure to see you to-day. I have been having a somewhat exciting, but pleasant, campaign. I want to assure you that I am yours for prosperity and the welfare of the American workingman. I only wish I could stay here to shake hands with all of you."

As Mr. Hughes left the platform the crowd cheered him and many shook hands with him as he walked through the station to his car.

Police Open Way The crowd that gathered at the station was a real old-time outpouring. When the parade, headed by Colonel F. M. Ott as marshal, and containing the reception committee and the Commonwealth band, arrived it found the space in the station plaza so filled that the policemen had to open a way and the committee had its own troubles getting to the platform. Thomas Baldwin, of the Internal Affairs Department, was there with a big silk American flag and everyone crowded around. The boys climbed to the pillars and the fringes of the throng were draped on the fences. The taxicab fleet that awaits business at the station had to move out to the streets.

The parade contained men of every walk of life. Business men gave up lunch to march and there was a representation of workmen, railroaders, clerks and people from the stores and offices.

Out-of-Town Delegations From out of the city came delegations; one from Chambersburg, which escorted the candidate to that city; including A. Newin Detrich, chairman of the old Washington party state committee, and D. E. Long, prominent in Franklin affairs. Lebanon, Cumberland and Perry were represented in the crowd.

On the way into the city the candidate's train was greeted by a number of people and he got an ovation when the cars went out Mulberry street to the bridge.

Knox Coming Here Senator Seideman announced as he left the train that arrangements had been made to-day for Philander C. Knox, Republican candidate for senator, to speak at a mass meeting in this city on October 25.

Arrangements for the meeting will be made immediately and it is expected that Mr. Knox will deliver one of those strong addresses which have been attracting national attention.

Mr. Knox is to make about ten speeches, including one at Lancaster, on November 1.

State Treasurer Robert K. Young had as his guests at the Hughes meeting to-day the following: Miss Mary C. Butterworth, Mrs. Mabel M. Miller, Miss Cora V. Snowden, Miss Mary L. Galen.

WORK ON SEWER TO START SOON

Joint Meeting of Steel, Railroad and Borough Officials to Decide on Material

Work on Steelton's new intercepting sewer will be started within a short time. In a few days, officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Bethlehem Steel company, and the Highway and Finance Committees of the borough will meet to decide what kind of material shall be used in constructing the sewer. Council decided this at a meeting last night.

Walter Chick and W. A. Keister of the Water Board met council last night to remove the complication of building the sewer past the pumping station at Christian and Conestoga streets. At this point there are two lines of wood stave pipe crossing the line of the proposed sewer. Engineers say it is dangerous to disturb them. Final action on this matter was deferred.

To Buy Motor Apparatus The fire motor apparatus project loomed up before council. Chairman Sellers of the town property committee presented a motion which will bring decisive action in the near future. Council passed a motion authorizing the borough secretary to advertise for bids on various automobile fire apparatus as follows: three combination hose chemical trucks, two triple combination hose, chemical and pumping apparatus and one service hook and ladder truck. When quotations are obtained, it will be decided just what equipment will be installed.

Drivers and assistants of the fire companies who are employed in collecting garbage, presented petitions asking for an increase in wages. The drivers ask a raise of five dollars a month, and the assistants a straight rate of two dollars a day. The finance committee took charge of the petitions and will report at the next meeting.

Council accepted the Bethlehem Steel company's offer to pay one-third of the cost of the sewer, not exceeding $75,000. The offer was presented in writing over the signature of Quincy Bent.

Markwood Myers Resigns The resignation of Borough Treasurer M. D. Myers was accepted and a successor will be appointed in the near future. Mr. Myers has accepted a position with the Bethlehem Steel company under N. E. Salsich, sales manager of the track department, and will go to Bethlehem.

The borough secretary was instructed to request the paving company making repairs on Front street, to use limestone dust in place of dirt and sand. Many complaints were made about the dust. An ordinance providing for the placing of a street light at Bailey street and Paxton legislation enacted was not an eight-hour law, but a law to regulate wages. Mr. Hughes quoted Senator Underwood, Democrat, to uphold his contention that the law was not properly an eight-hour law, but was a wage measure instead. The nominee declared that "it was sought to give the impression that what was done was to fix an eight-hour work day and that this was already approved by the judgment of society." This was "a shameless perversion," Mr. Hughes declared. A resolution said to have been adopted by the American Federation of Labor in November, 1914, and approved a year later, was cited in support of the nominee's declaration that labor had gone on record for the principle of regulation of wages and hours "through trades union activity and not by legislation."

NO NEED TO FEAR BALDNESS

Tells How to Make Hair Grow Thick and Lustrous on Bald and Thin Spots

Thousands of men and women are growing bald every day and don't know the reason why. This is indeed a pity, says a hair specialist, who states that baldness usually comes from carelessness, and that anyone who gives the hair just a little attention should always have an abundance of good, healthy hair. Dandruff and dirt cause baldness by clogging the pores in the scalp, and giving the dandruff germs fertile ground for prolific breeding. The treatment is very simple; remove the dirt by shampooing at least once in ten days and destroy the dandruff germs by frequently applying a little of the real Parisian Sage, a most efficient preparation that the best druggists everywhere are now recommending as one of the quickest and safest treatments to surely stop itching scalp and falling hair, remove all dandruff and to properly nourish and invigorate the hair roots.
