The Charm of Being Different---

THE charm of individuality creates a quality which transcends the material things that helps compose it.

Modes individually created to accentuate the personal graces of our patrons are such as the woman who "loves being different" delights to have originated for her that she herself may fittingly express her own individuality.

Straws Show--

Motorists buy a certain make of tires for the first time because it is sold to them—through advertising, salesmanship, or the good words of satisfied users.

But motorists continue to buy that make of tire only because the first tires have made good—have given satisfactory mileage and service.

Motorists bought United States Tires so consistently that, during the first seven and one-half months of this year, we sold and delivered more tires than during the entire twelve months of last year.

And motorists are continuing to buy United States Tires at the same phenomenal rate.

If straws show which way the wind blows, such phenomenal sales increases certainly show where the best tire service comes from.
