No Harrisburg store buys coats from higher-class makers than Kaufman's. No Harrisburg store carries nearly as large an assortment of the better grades. But all Harrisburg stores ask higher prices for coats of equal quality, style and general desirability. Women who come to Kaufman's after visiting other stores are astonished at the wide range of styles—the wonderful assortment of materials and colors—and, above all, the remarkable difference in prices between Kaufman's garments and those of other stores.

POLITICAL DAY AT BIG GRATZ FAIR

Many Republicans Will Attend Tomorrow; Exhibit Is Bigger and Better Than Ever

Gratz, Pa., Oct. 11. — The Gratz fair entered upon its second day with a record-breaking attendance. The beautiful weather brought many here from a distance who feared to postpone their visit until Thursday, the big day. The farm exhibits are larger than usual this year and the improvements made to the race track made it one of the fastest in this part of the country. The races yesterday were of minor importance, but those of today and to-morrow will be interesting, as the purses offered have brought into competition some horses well known on the national circuits.

To-morrow will be Political Day and among those who have signified their intention of being present are Congressman Aaron S. Kreider, Senator E. E. Beldeman, County Recorder James E. Lentz, County Chairman William H. Horner and a number of other well-known republicans who will take part in the festivities.

People are in town to-day from Allentown, Reading, Leighton, Pottsville, Harrisburg and many other towns. The new railroad is steadily being pushed toward Gratz from Millersburg and next year, with rail connections for the first time, it is believed the fair will be much larger than ever before.

Robert R. Hamer, 1100 North Second street, spent the week-end on a trip to Baltimore by way of Perryville, returning by way of Hanover, Spring Grove and York.

Mayor Miles B. Kitts, of Erie, called this morning to see Mayor E. S. Meals.
