FORTUNE TELLING AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Fortune telling will be a feature of the "County Fair" to be held in the T. W. C. A. Friday and Saturday of this week by the members of the Industrial clubs for the benefit of Camp Nephewin at Canton, which is hampered by a debt. In the picture are seen Miss Bertha Mottor and Mrs. Florence Richter who promise to tell "the past, present and future" and give advice on cases of love, lost and business.

CHURCH WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON

McCreath-Fleming Bridal in Church Where Bride's Grandfather Was Long a Minister

The auditorium of the Market Square Church with its Autumn tinges in flowers and foliage was never more beautifully decorated than this afternoon for the marriage of Miss Margaretta Fleming to Robert McCreath. The ceremony took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Dr. J. Ritchie Smith of Princeton Theological Seminary officiating, and the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, pastor of the church assisting. The bride's maternal grandfather, the late Rev. Dr. Thomas B. Robinson was pastor of this church for over 30 years.

The bride who was attended by her sister, Miss Suzanna M. Fleming, was given away by her uncle, William A. Robinson, of Lawrenceville. Lesley McCreath, brother of the bridegroom acted as best man. The ushers were: Ross E. Harrison, of New York; Maxwell E. Bessell, James Gamble, and Thomas Robinson, of Philadelphia; Robertson Geiswold, and Adgate A. Duer, of Baltimore, Md., and Samuel W. Fleming, Jr., and William McCreath of this city. Mrs. John Henry the organist of the church, played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 111 West State street, her aunt, Miss Mary B. Robinson, receiving the guests.

Mrs. McCreath, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fleming, is a graduate of the Misses Sergeant's school, this city and of the Westover school at Middleburg, Conn.

Mr. McCreath, a prominent business man of the city, is a son of Andrew S. McCreath of Ithaca, N. Y., a graduate and a graduate of the Yale University, where he was prominent in athletics.

Mr. and Mrs. McCreath will reside at 1909 North Front street after an extended wedding trip.

Dine Bridal Party

The last of the many pre-nuptial events for Miss Margaretta Fleming and Robert McCreath was the handsomely appointed dinner at the Senate last evening with Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson Godfrey of Philadelphia as hosts. Mrs. Godfrey was formerly Miss Marian Clifford Angell of this city.

Roses, asters and orchids daintily arranged with soft tulle formed the decorations and the following guests attended: Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, Miss Margaretta Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Goldsborough, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Bent, Mr. and Mrs. Lesley McCreath, Miss Suzanna Fleming, Miss Margaret McLaren, of St. Paul; Miss Eloise Orne, of Washington; Miss Elizabeth Robinson, of Lawrenceville, N. Y.; Miss Mary B. Robinson, Miss Elizabeth Bailey, Miss Frances Bailey, Miss Martha Fleming, Robert McCreath, Samuel W. Fleming, Jr., William McCreath, Ross E. Harrison, of New York; Maxwell E. Bessell, James Gamble and Thomas Robinson, of Philadelphia; Robertson Geiswold and Adgate Duer, of Baltimore.

GREET VIOLINIST WITH ENTHUSIASM

Sascha Jacobinoff Gets an Ovation From Large Audience in Fahnstock Hall

By Frederic C. Martin
It was refreshing to hear Sascha Jacobinoff, the most recent aspirant to violinistic honors, demonstrate his claim to enthusiastic recognition with such sincere, musicianly playing as was heard last night in Fahnstock Hall. With a more than ample technique, the result of a period of such severe schooling as is demanded by that famous master technician, Carl Flesch, young Jacobinoff has no need to resort to the so well-known sensational tricks of violin playing to convince his auditors of his ability. This youth of twenty showed surprising bigness of conception in the interpretation of a program ranging from such old classics as Corelli's "La Folia" and the Kreisler arrangement of Pugnani's "Allegro," to the brilliant Rondo des Lutins of Bazzini. Notable was his impeccable intonation in his harmonies and double stopping, the high sensuous tone and the emotional appeal of his undeniably temperamental conception. Just these qualities have won for him the privilege of being permitted to interpret with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Strinsky, the great Brahms concerto, in his Philadelphia debut, and the enthusiastic commendation of Stokowski. The spontaneous applause of his unusually large audience here, the unmistakable realization that this was convincingly great violin playing, was responded to by him with the Fahnstock Chinoise and the Caprice Viennois by Kreisler, and the Cui Orientale.

Madame Elsie Cook, the Philadelphia soprano, ably supported Mr. Jacobinoff with her splendid singing of the Aria from "Madame Butterfly" and an interesting group of modern songs which won her two enthusiastic recalls to which she graciously responded.

More than a word, too is due to the able support given by Clifford Vaughan at the piano. The accompaniments were not only well played but artistically discriminating and intelligent. Miss Olive Jamison, under whose direction the artists appeared, has a right to the gratitude of the musical public of this city for her efforts towards the worthy opening of the local musical season with such sterling talent.

An Excellent Program
The following is the program as given: La Folia—"Variations Serieuses" (Corelli) (1653). Mr. Jacobinoff; (a) Garden Melodie and Jim Springsbrunnen (Schumann), (b) Larketto (Weber-Kreisler), (c) Rondo (Vieuxtemps), Mr. Jacobinoff; (d) "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini), Elsie Lyons Cook; (a) Ave Maria (Schubert-Wilhelm), (b) Hungarian Dance No. 2 (Brahms-Jochim), (c) Wiegand's (Reger), (d) Preludium Allegro (Pugnani-Kreisler), Mr. Jacobinoff; (a) Sombroero (C. Chaminade), (b) Summering (W. Stephens), (c) Lullaby (Cyril Scott), (d) The Lovely Month of May (Wm. G. Hammond), Elsie Lyons Cook; (a) Prize Song (Wagner-Wilhelm), (b) Vogel als Prophet (Schubert-Auer), (c) Rondo des Lutins (Bazzini), Mr. Jacobinoff.

Mrs. L. A. Whitlock has gone home to Richmond, Va. She is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Strouse in this city.

Miss Alice Minsker has returned to Dauphin after visiting Miss Elsie Hoffman in Halifax. Miss Gertrude Deane, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. William J. Deane, of North Third street.

THIS COUPLE HAS AN EARLY BRIDAL

Miss Wilhelmina Deller and Joseph B. Rogers Wed in St. Michael's This Morning

MRS. JOSEPH B. ROGERS

One of the prettiest of October weddings was that this morning at 9.15 o'clock of Miss Wilhelmina C. Deller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Deller, 523 Race street and Joseph B. Rogers, of this city. The ceremony was performed in St. Michael's German Lutheran Church by the pastor, the Rev. Reinhold Schmidt in the presence of a host of friends of the young couple.

Falms, ferns and autumn foliage were used in decorating and the wedding music was played by Mme Marie Pfuhl-Froehlich, who gave a recital prior to the ceremony, with the following numbers: "Evening Star," Wagner-Eddy; "Crescendo," Lassen; "Wedding Music," Soedermann; "Prayer," Gaellerts. The "Angels Serenade," by Braga, was played softly during the service, the Loehngren "Bridal Choruses" used as a processional and the Mendelssohn "Wedding March," as a recessional.

The dainty little bride wore a traveling costume of dark blue broadcloth with trimmings of plush and hat to harmonize. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. Brady C. Agle was attired in a dark blue tailored suit with hat of the same color and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses. C. Eugene Rogers was best man and Clarence R. Deller and Harry Adams were the ushers.

A wedding journey to Washington, Philadelphia and New York will be followed by a temporary residence at the bride's home, the young folks remaining there until Spring. Mr. Rogers, a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rogers, of 810 South Thirteenth street is a graduate of the Central High school, class of 1910 and Pennsylvania State college, 1914. He is a chemist in the laboratory of the Bethlehem Steel Company.
