

Service

—for SIX months without a dollar's cost

Starting the day your Studebaker is delivered, Studebaker gives the most unique and PROTECTIVE Service that you have ever run across—for a period of SIX months—and without one dollar's charge.

You see, it's like this: Studebaker doesn't look on service as something to talk about—or use to help make a sale—and then forget. Service is a thing that a man buys with a car just as much as he buys the cushions in the car. He's getting a piece of machinery—and that machinery absolutely must have regular attention to get the best use from it.

So Studebaker gives just that kind of Service—a complete, thorough-going REGULAR Service. It's all written down before you buy your car. You know exactly what you are going to get. And you get it—REGULARLY—for SIX solid months—just the time when the car needs it most. And you get it without cost.

But we wish you'd come in—we'd just like to show you how the men go over the cars and make 41 distinct inspections, oilings, etc., every time a car comes in, and teach you how to take care of your car. It is really the most wonderful Service that has ever been devised—a PROTECTIVE, satisfaction-INSURING Service.

COVS' HIGH COST HURTS DAIRYING

State Expert Points Out Manner in Which Investments Are Held Up

Many complaints have reached the State Department of Agriculture during the past few months about the inability of farmers and dairymen to purchase good dairy cows and declaring that it is becoming more difficult each year to get a high class of cattle. L. W. Lighty, one of the farm advisers on dairying and animal husbandry says: "It is more difficult each year to purchase good dairy cows. This is caused because more people are keeping a record of production of their individual cows and rapidly we are organizing cow testing organizations over the country under such conditions no sane man sells his good cows but the unprofitable ones. Those are naturally the ones offered on the market and are the ones you are compelled to buy." "Of course there are still communities where folks farm by guess and from those sections you may chance to get a few profitable cows. Before long we will have our cows standardized. To-day the basic price of holding is for that which tests three per cent. and every two points above three per cent. increases the price so much. When I started dairying, such a method of milk selling would have been looked out of court. Very few cow buyers ever thought of buying cows at a basic price of an attested record of so many quarts of milk per year and an advance of a certain amount for every so many quarts additional.

"This will never work, says the man who has his hammer ready to knock every new thing, because cows look differently and weigh differently and ever so many things are different. But the milk producer is not enchanted by the looks of a cow that fails to pay for her feed here, unless he can run the up-keep of a ton cow if the big thing can not pay for the up-keep.

Davenport Is Great Pitcher, but Seems Poor Financier

St. Louis, Oct. 9. — Dave Davenport, the huge Brownie pitcher, is in stride at last. He is going along at a great clip. Davenport ranks to-day as one of the real pitching stars in the majors. And he still is a "kid." Dave, by the way, divvied a bit in a financial way by holding out when the St. Louis Browns wanted to resign him at his former salary of $7,500, and it cost him $3,000 a year. When the 1916 season ended, Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, pleased with Davenport's work. The Browns had begun cutting salaries all around, but Ball decided not to reduce that of Davenport.

"I'll resign you at your old contract of $7,500," he told the huge twirler.

"No you won't," answered Dave. "My price now is $10,000 per year."

"Nix," retorted Ball.

And so Dave became a holdout. Soon peace came in the baseball world. The Browns died and Ball became owner of the Browns.

"I guess I will sign up for $7,500," said Davenport, when he noticed that he no longer had a club with which to beat an owner into disorganizing a fat contract.

"I guess not," answered Ball, "$4,500 for you. Take it or leave it." Dave took it.

OLD FRENCH BEAUTY SECRET

Mlle. De Von, the famous French actress, who recently arrived in this country, and who is now in her 65th year, has astonished everyone who has seen her by her exquisite complexion and clear, smooth skin which is not removed by wrinkles. The secret, she has revealed, is that she had always practiced one of the oldest of French Beauty secrets which she has guarded for years and jealously guarded for years. It consists of laying a warm cloth on the face each night, before retiring for about half a minute and then when the cloth is removed a generous amount of ordinary amonized cocoa should be applied over the entire face and neck and massaged gently into the skin with the finger tips for about two minutes then wipe on the surplus with a soft, dry cloth. Mlle. De Von says that any American woman who has wrinkles, enlarged pores, or flabby, loose skin can easily and quickly overcome these destroyers of Beauty by the use of this simple yet delightful and natural Beauty secret which is inexpensive and can be found at almost any good Drug Store. The above coming as it does from such a connoisseur of Beauty should appeal strongly to every lady who appreciates what a face means to the gentle sex.—Advertisement.

ION-O-LEX UNGUENT

Probably the most important discovery that has been made in the field of medicine in fifty years.

A DETROIT PHYSICIAN WRITES:

"I am commencing to believe that Ion-o-lex Unguent is all—and even more than you claim for it—"

"In one bad case of tonsillitis the temperature was reduced from 103 to normal in 24 hours. In former attacks this patient has always suffered from 5 to 10 days."

"My own wife has suffered with spasmodic contractions of the throat for 12 or 14 years, and it has always been necessary to administer narcotics for relaxation."

"The last attack was unusually severe, being a combination of the throat trouble and pneumonia—Ion-o-lex Unguent and Liquid kept the disease under perfect control, and by the fifth morning the temperature was reduced from 103 to normal—Ion-o-lex is the only thing we have ever found that has given her any relief whatever."

"I am using Ion-o-lex Unguent in my general practice, and cannot say too much for it."

Another prominent Detroit Physician prescribed Ion-o-lex Unguent as a last resort for a deep-seated fever, upon which an operation had been pronounced absolutely necessary. Inside of 24 hours the patient was so much better that the operation was entirely unnecessary, and recovery was surprisingly speedy.

Use Ion-o-lex Unguent wherever there is local inflammation—it should always be used in coughs, sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, pneumonia, neuritis, acute rheumatism, eczema, erysipelas, and in all cases of burns, scalds and wounds or anywhere else that there is apt to be inflammation.
