No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin-eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid, they avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Why run this risk, when

AMAZING BUT RARELY SUSPECTED TRUTHS ABOUT THE THINGS YOU EAT
By ALFRED W. McCANN
Widespread Disease Among Dairy Herds and Gross Irregularities Among Animal Industry Officials Exposed Through Public Statement Issued by New York Milk Committee — Two Hundred Thousand Spreaders of Tuberculosis Among the Milk-Producing Cows of a Single State Are the Chief Contributors Made by the Uncontrolled Evils of the Dairy Farm to the Pitiable Condition of Thousands of Children Under Ten Years of Age.

March 25, 1914, the New York Milk Committee, in an effort to enlighten the public regarding the menace of disease-producing milk, issued the following statement:

"Of children suffering from tuberculosis (the worst scourge of the human race) 25 per cent. are affected by tuberculosis of the bovine type — that is to say, a quarter of these unfortunate children have been infected by the milk or milk products of diseased cows.

"Of all the children suffering from tubercular cervical glands 90 per cent. are affected by tuberculosis of the bovine type. This means that nine out of every ten of such children would be sound and healthy, as far as tuberculosis is concerned, if they had not been fed with the milk of diseased cows.

"All but 10 per cent. of the people in this State living outside New York City drink raw milk. This means that the children of 8,313,000 persons (census of 1910) are directly exposed to the most dreaded infection which curses the human race, one-third of the cows that supply them with milk already being within the grip of the and because their hearty support is needed by the Harrisburg S. P. C. A.

"The House of Glass," with a superior New York company, comes to the Orpheum Wednesday, matinee and evening, October 15.

"The House of Glass" has added another personage to the theatrical Hall of Fame, giving to the character of the young stenographer's trials and tribulations, the scenic provisions of the producers more than a visit to the fiery crater of a volcano which adds some thrills to a most pleasing impression of Uncle Sam's island possession.

Hawaii is a part of the world that seems to have an artistic temperament. The type of its people, their customs, the scenery of the land, all are different and very attractive to the eye. Americans first realized the art in things Hawaiian when its music came to the United States. They will now more fully appreciate the land that inspires such music. The artistic atmosphere of Hawaii cannot be described in words. This has been accomplished by Ulysses H. Howe, who brings his new Travel Festival to the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21.

HIT-THE-TRAIL HOLLIDAY-HIT

A Clever Show With a Good Cast Keeps Audience Laughing and Applauding

There was more hearty laughter, more applause, more certain calls last night at the Orpheum than there have been all this season, and probably more than during the past few seasons. The occasion was "Hit the Trail Holliday," presented by Cohan and Harris.

The play was one round after another of clever surprises which came in at just those times when they were least expected, and from the least expected sources. Naturally this added tremendously to the comedy.

The whole cast was most excellent — clever farceurs who made the most of a really clever play. The company was headed by Otto and Merrill, formerly a vaudeville team known in the city when vaudeville held forth in the Orpheum. Surrounding them was a cast which individually and collectively kept the comedy at fever heat and the audience in almost constant applause.

When the boys returned to the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday with daily matinees, October 13 and 14 — Oliver Morosco will present that delightful comedy of the American stage, "Peg o' My Heart."

When Fritzi Kreisler came to this country in 1889 as a "boy wonder," a less well poised head would have been torn from the neck and heaped upon him. But the critics, with their usual disregard for the greatness of the really great artist, said, "Wait a few years. He will burn his line, and he feels that he can be happily the talented lad he good."
