NEWPORT FAIR DRAWS BIG CROWD

The spokes automobiles and carriages, motorcycles and pedestrians streamed towards the big exhibition and the many attractions that awaited them there.

A hurried visit to the show place gave the Telegraph's correspondent a glimpse of sleek cattle, trim race horses ready for the fray, round hogs, huge ears of corn, red-cheeked apples and enormous Jumbo potatoes, beautifully raised bread like mother used to make, cakes, lilies and attractive handwork on which the left hands of Perry county's feminine contingent have worked months for this exhibition.

Midway Crowded Early

The midway was crowded early, one of the first sights to greet the eyes of visitors being one of Harrisburg's hustling newsboys, "Henny" Kale, who keeps things lively around the Pennsylvania station. "Henny" is handling a novelty stall on the fair grounds. The barker by noon were showing signs of the need of throat lozenges and the showboys were doing a rushing business. The good old Perry county chicken that was on sale made one's mouth water and then, of course, there were "hot dogs," coffee, lemonade, and what not. The farm implements and machinery are attracting considerable attention at the lower end of the fair grounds and about the stables there is a constant crowd of eager supporters of the various favorites. To-day is schoolchildren's day, all pupils and teachers being admitted free, and a large percentage of the county schools have been closed for the occasion. The Elliptical Band is dispensing music to-day, but Tressler's popular Orphans' Home Band, of Louisville, will keep things lively to-morrow and Friday.

To-morrow will be the big day at the Newport fair.

Entries for the races have been sent from Newport, Carlisle, Altoona, Lewisport, Mifflin, Williamsport, Highspire, Reading and many other towns over the State and the competition promises to be keen. Cash prizes and large purses will be turned over to the winners. The prospects are that this year's event will exceed in attendance any previous Perry county fair.

Well-known Figures

T. H. Butt, president of the association; J. C. F. Stephens, secretary, and J. E. Fleisher, treasurer. The managers are M. L. Ritter, S. D. Myers, J. W. Sams, W. G. Loy, W. W. Potter and Dr. J. H. McClure, while the auditors include G. H. Frank, George P. Bistline and C. F. Howe.

One of the ways in which the management is looking after things is evidenced by the presence on the main highways through Newport of special policemen who have been established there to handle traffic. Following are the active vice-presidents who are influential in promoting this year's fair: F. A. Gutshall, of Blain; H. B. Rihmsmith, of Bloomfield; William Kumber, of Buffalo; J. M. McKee, of Center; W. J. Harter, of Greenwood; John R. Deekard, of Howe; Clark M. Hoover, of Altoona; T. W. Tressler, of Juniata; H. S. Shuler, of Altoona; James A. Wright, of Liverpool township; W. "I WAS IN DARN

BAD SHAPE" SAYS
CAMP HILL BLACKSMITH

He Had No Ambition, No Energy and Couldn't Work—But Tanlac Soon Had Him Fixed Up.

"I was in darn bad shape," says Elmer W. Sutton, a blacksmith, of Camp Hill, Pa. "I couldn't work, had no energy, no life, no ambition, no energy. I had a torpid liver and that upset my whole works. My head ached from the time I woke up until I went to bed again and when I would wake up in the night it would still be at it. My stomach was all out of whack, too, and I couldn't eat for if I did try to down a meal as soon as the food touched my stomach the gas would start to form and it would keep me in misery for hours afterwards. I got to reading the Tanlac advertising when they first started in the paper and when I saw how many people I knew of were being helped by Tanlac, I said to myself, 'Elmer that's the stuff that will do you good.' So I got a bottle and began taking it. I tell you its great stuff for its got me feeling like a new man already. I feel fine, like I did five years ago. Plenty of energy and ambition. Head aches all gone, appetite is coming back and my liver is waking up and beginning to do its work. Tanlac, the famous reconstructive tonic and stomachic invigorant is now being specially introduced here at Gorgas' drug store, 16 N. Third St. Please the Tanlac man in meeting the people and explaining the merits of this master medicine. Tanlac is sold also at the Gorgas drug store in P. R. station.—Advertisement

PRESIDENT DISCUSSES
U-BOAT ACTIVITY

American joint commission, but at the executive offices here it was asserted that he gave no indications of such an errand.

Officially here declared there was no statement to be made regarding Mr. Lansing's visit beyond the fact that he and the President had discussed the submarine situation very fully. It was reiterated that on the basis of reports so far received, no grounds had been found for drastic action. So far as the government now knows it was said the rules of international law were followed in the recent submarine attacks.

Americans in Danger

State department officials are most concerned about the Stapano case for two reasons. She was a passenger ship carrying Americans and she was coming into an American port. Her destruction looms up as a direct challenge of President Wilson's contention that passenger ships and in fact all ships with Americans on board must be spared by the German U-boats. The further fact that she was making for an American port precludes any contention on the part of Germany that she was carrying contraband to the enemy.

The question has also come up as to whether this Government will protest to Germany against the presence of submarines in the steamship lanes outside American harbors. The presence of British warships near American ports was objected to in these terms by Secretary Lansing:

"As His Majesty's Government is aware, this Government has always regarded the practice of belligerent cruisers patrolling American coasts in close proximity to the territorial waters of the United States and making the neighborhood a station for their observations as inconsistent with the treatment to be expected from the navy vessels of a friendly power in time of war and has maintained that the consequent menace of such proceedings to the freedom of American commerce is vexatious and uncourteous to the United States."

As the United States is on record in this case diplomats are disposed to wonder whether similar action will be taken with respects to the German U-boats.

Flooded With Telegrams

The President has received many telegrams urging that some action be taken to stop the repetition of submarine attacks near the American coast.

Mr. Wilson planned to leave Shadow

Law at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for Indianapolis to speak there twice to-morrow. Mrs. Wilson and Secretary Tumulty made arrangements to accompany him. He will return here Friday. After Mr. Lansing's departure to-day the President played golf.

The President will go to Indianapolis by way of Philadelphia, where he will arrive at 4:10 o'clock and remain for twenty minutes. He will reach Indianapolis at 10:55 o'clock to-morrow morning and after luncheon will attend an automobile parade. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon he will address a good roads celebration at the fair grounds and at 4 o'clock will speak at a meeting of farmers. He will leave Indianapolis at 5:45 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, arriving here Friday afternoon.

Required to Ascertain
Nationality of Any U-Boat
Before Attacking It

Washington, Oct. 11.—Allied warships now patrolling the Atlantic coast in search of the German submarine U-33, which is believed to be a merchant shipping off Nantucket on Sunday, would be required to ascertain the nationality of any submarine sighted before attacking it in the belief that it is a German vessel, according to terms of the latest United States memorandum to the allied nations, published to-day. The memorandum is in reply to the allies' protest against the United States' action in the right of entry to American ports to either merchant or war submarines of belligerent nations.

The United States memorandum suggests that it might be dangerous to allow neutral submarines to visit waters in which enemy submarines also might be found, the American memorandum declares that "responsibility for any conflict that may arise between belligerent warships and neutral submarines . . . must rest, entirely upon the negligent power."

NO SIGNS OF U-BOAT

New York, Oct. 11.—Nothing to indicate the presence of German submarines off the American coast was observed by steamships which arrived in this port to-day after voyages from the east and the south. There was no unusual activity on the sea. The arrivals reported, nor were any entente warships sighted.

Destroyers Back Without Trace of Kingstonian Crew;
Location of U-Boat Mystery

Newport, R. I., Oct. 11.—The United States destroyers which have been searching for the crew of the British steamer Kingstonian, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Nantucket shoal lightship on Sunday last, returned here to-day. None of them reported having found any trace of the Kingstonian's boats. The sea was very rough and the weather cold during yesterday and last night.

What became of the submarine after she completed her raid on British and neutral steamers Sunday night remained a mystery to-day. The movement of allied warships which are supposed to have increased the vigilance of their patrol off the coast after receiving word of the sinking of six steamers also was unknown here.

Conducting War According to German Prize Regulations

Amsterdam, Oct. 11.—A semi-official telegram received here to-day from Berlin commenting on the activities of the German submarine U-53 off the American Atlantic coast says:

"The commerce war on the United States coast is being conducted according to the German prize regulations which lay down that a merchant ship after being held up and searched and the passengers brought into safety under certain conditions may be sunk. These conditions, for example, that it is a question of an enemy ship or a neutral ship carrying contraband and that the military situation excludes the possibility of taking a vessel to a harbor as a prize."

GERARD SEES VON BERNSTORFF

New York, Oct. 11.—James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, to-day called on Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States. They are both staying at the same hotel. Both said that the visit was informal and had no significance.

John A. Vernon, in service along the border with the Missouri National guard writes his brother, Thomas R. Vernon, Jr., proprietor of the Steeleton-American that Texas scenery is nearest nothing he has ever seen. He is located at Dolores, Texas.

He states that the few white people residing in that place do not seem to realize that the troops are stationed there to protect their interests and will have nothing whatever to do with a soldier who is not a commissioned officer.

John Vernon is a Steeleton boy, living with his brother when not in service. He enlisted in Kansas City with the engineers of the National guards of Missouri, in September. He later was sent to Nevada and then to Laredo. Finding no engineers in the regiments there, he enlisted with the cavalry. After 40 days' training, in cavalry lines, he was put on guard duty. He expects to leave for home in about six weeks and says he is anxious to get back to the Keystone State.

EXPECT COLONEL TO WIN LABOR MEN

Speech to Miners at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday to Play Eight-Hour Law

New York, Oct. 11.—In the efforts to win the votes of the workmen of this country for Hughes the Republicans are counting much on the speech which Colonel Roosevelt is to deliver on Saturday at Wilkes-Barre. Plans are on foot to make this an old-time demonstration for the Colonel by the miners, with whom he has been strong ever since he settled the coal strike in 1902.

Responsible

Taking as his text the German U-boat raids off Nantucket, Colonel Roosevelt issued a statement last evening holding President Wilson responsible for the breaking of international law, of which he says the raids are a result. The statement says in part: "Now the war has been carried to our very shores. There is no American who does not realize the awful tragedy of our indifference and inaction. Nine-tenths of wisdom is being won time. By taking the right step at the right time America's influence and leadership might have been made a stabilizing force."

President Wilson's ignoble shrinking from responsibility has been clothed in an utterly misleading phrase, the phrase of a coward—he kept us out of war. In actual reality war has been waged nearby and nearer, until it stares at us from just beyond our three-mile limit. And we face it without policy, plan, purpose or preparation.

"No sane man can to-day be so blind as to believe President Wilson's original statement that the war was not a concern of ours. Every thinking man must realize the utter futility of a statesmanship without plan or policy until such facts as these now stare it in the face."

HUGHES HAS "NO AGREEMENTS"

with anybody. . . . for American rights throughout the world without fear or favor," Mr. Hughes said. "I have no understanding, no agreements, no intrigues with anybody, but I stand for the interests of the United States and the protection of American lives, American property and American commerce throughout the world."

His friends on the other side talk about the policy, particularly in regard to, as though it were a policy of peace," Mr. Hughes continued. "It has not been a policy of peace. It has been a policy of protection of the lives and property of American citizens because of the withdrawal of protection that should have been accorded."

Pleads For Tariff

Mr. Hughes spoke for the protective tariff. "If you want a protective tariff," he said, "you have got to put in a Congress, Senate and House, whose majority believes in the principle of the protective tariff."

The nominee assailed the administration again for the enactment of the Adams law.

Favors Eight-hour Principle

"I am not opposed to the principle of an eight-hour workday," he said. "I favor the principle of an eight-hour day. What I am opposed to is government by hold-up."

Mr. Hughes attacked the administration for extravagance, asserting that the Democratic party four years ago asked for a reduction of the tariff and then "proceeded to break the record for extravagance."

Derides U. S. Diplomacy

Mr. Hughes spoke last night to a great crowd in the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, where President Wilson was nominated in 1912 and where the platform which he asserted showed the record of broken promises held by the Democrats was ratified. His meeting was one of the biggest Mr. Hughes has addressed. It was estimated that from 15,000 to 17,000 persons were crowded into the armory.

oroughly washed. Lastly, keep away from typhoid fever patients and convalescents. Typhoid germs tend to be harmful most to be eaten or drunk but it is very easy to get them into the system that way without realizing it."

The Emergency Hospital

Members of Council and the special committee which arranged for the emergency hospital at Fourth and Fifth streets this afternoon inspected the building which will be opened to-morrow morning for patients. Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, spent today with the committee completing all details.

Fifteen new cases of typhoid were reported in the city to-day and eighty patients are in the Harrisburg Hospital under treatment. This is the largest number of typhoid patients treated in recent years for typhoid at the institution. Plans are being made to move Adams street in evening to move to the emergency hospital.

Announcement was made by a official notices on the bulletin boards of the Harrisburg Electric and Pipe Bending Works and the Central Iron and Steel Company that all employees in the plants are urged to be inoculated against typhoid. The vaccination will be done at the plants free of charge to the men.

The advisability of a general use of typhoid vaccine is pointed out by both city and county health authorities.

something shockingly reprehensible. "In consequence I may say that in respect to American interests abroad we have had not only diplomacy without pillars, but diplomacy without sense."

"During the last three years and a half one would suppose that any American who went to foreign lands to advance American industry and commerce was presumably a bad fellow who had lost his rights. Protect him? Why, didn't he go abroad to make money? Didn't he take his American enterprise beyond our borders? What a shameless proceeding! Let him stem his own juice! Or let him come home! That is the sort of encouragement Americans have had."

"We now hear fine words as to our duties to the world. We are told that we are now to serve the world, that we have the best genius in the world, but we have never thought of using that genius outside our own markets."

"President Eliot says the administration has gone far to establish non-intervention by force of arms for the protection of miners and commercial adventurers in foreign parts as the American policy. If you want to have a concrete example of that policy, look at the record in Mexico."

"What right had this administration to change American policy as to the protection of American citizens? Was their platform molasses to catch fish, otherwise known as American investors from the American people, or the slightest authority from the American people to withhold protection abroad? Have they used a delegated power, or have they abused the authority?"

"I do not overlook Mr. Eliot's reference to force of arms. We are desirous of no more than I—of aiding and maintaining the peace of the world. I believe it to be a mistake to suppose that an adequate policy of protection to the known rights of American citizens likely to necessitate the actual use of force. The sanction of force is back of the laws and pursuits of peace. It is idle to expect that American enterprise will trust the assurances of a policy which invites the destruction of life and property by advance notice that no effective means will be taken to prevent it. Such a policy will paralyze American enterprise in the very places where it should be protected."

"A self-respecting policy, worthy of the American name, maintaining American honor, assuring protection to the known rights of American citizens under international law, is absolutely necessary. That does not mean war. It means the security of a self-respecting peace. It means that regard will be paid to our just demands."

Last night's address was the second of the day. The first was delivered at Hagerstown, Md., before an audience in the grandstand at the Interstate Fair grounds. It was devoted largely to a discussion of the tariff, the Adamson law and what the nominee termed the extravagance of the present administration.
