HARRISBURG RIVER FRONT UNEQUALLED FOR BEAUTY---KNOX

Philander C. Knox, Secretary of State in the Taft cabinet and one of the most traveled men in public life, spent two hours strolling along Har-risburg's River Front vesterday afternoon and declared that Pennsylvania's capital had a riverside that could not be equaled anywhere.

Mr. Knox came to the city to spend the night on his way to Greensburg where he opens the Republican campaign in Westmoreland county tonight. He left Valley Forge yesterday morning and decided to stop here instead of going on down the Cumberdemic now ravaging Harrisburg and vicinity. Typhoid is a Governor Host at Luncheon; preventable disease and at all costs it must be eradicated. Blush as we may that such a step is necessary and regardless of our reputation, for the time being, as a clean and healthful community, we must get together and wipe out for all time this monster that is now laying our people low by tens and dozens because some persons are violating the laws of health and hygiene. Regard for Powell, Young and Chief Exethe rights of business must not be permitted to stand in the way of official action. If ice cream is to blame, then close every ice cream factory to which the finger of suspicion points. If the fault lies in the milk supply, then let the hand of the law fall heavily upon the offenders. If there be other causes all should be removed from the danger zone. This is no time for the consideration of anything but the health and life of the people as a whole. Nobody knows where the monster will strike next. It's awful form lurks on the threshold of every home.

To the safeguarding of the people the whole strength individually and collectively of the city commissioners, the health authorities, city and State; the medical societies and reputable dealers in products, the purity of which has been assailed, must be concentrated. If Dr. Raunick needs help in the way of advice, or additional assistants, or money with which to meet the situation, he should be given them without stint. Indeed he MUST have every weapon available with which to fight the scourge that now besets us. The people will be content with nothing else. Money is as nothing compared to life and health and the city's health board should call upon council for all that it needs. The voters will stand back of them to the limit.

As for the Telegraph, it is sorry that these radical steps are necessary, that any business should be injured or that Harrisburg's fair reputation should be sullied, but it would not be true to the interests of the people if it longer remained silent. It will serve to the extent of its ability within its sphere. Immediate and hearty co-operation of everybody is essential if the epidemic is to be halted We must all get together and work together intelligently. Duty

20,000 Fraudulent Entries on Registration Books Detroit Investigators Find

Detroit Investigators find

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—Investigation was being continued to-day into alleged irregularities in the recent registration of voters here. The election commission, following a report made by Prosecuting Attorney Charles H. Jasnowski, has ordered a complete checking up of the 130,000 or more names written upon the latest registration books.

The prosecuting attorney, who made an investigation of charges of Irregularities, in presenting his report expressed the belief that more than 20,000 fraudulent entries were made upon the books. With his report he handed in resignations from thirtynine precinct officials. John E. Kinnane. United States attorney for the eastern district of Michigan, has received permission from Washington, it is understood, to supervise the November elections in Detroit should he deem such action warranted. Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Health of national guard and regular army troops on the Mexican border showed an improvement for the week ending October 7 over the previous week. A report made public to-day by the War Department gave the sick of the militia as 1.91 per cent., with 3 deaths. The regulars reported 3.23 per cent. sick, with 5 deaths.

WANT MAIN APPROACH TO CAPITOL AT

TROOPS' HEALTH IMPROVING

STATE STREET; PLAN TO WIDEN STREES

At the conference this afternoon at the Harrisburg Club of members of the City Planning Commission, and the Statte Capitol Extension Commission, State Treasurer Young representing the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, and Governor Brumbaugh, it was decided that the main approach to the Capitol grounds and buildings on the east should be by subway or viaduct at State street.

It was also decided that the question of widening the streets about the Capitol grounds, including Walnut, Third and North streets, shall be determined by experts to be retained by the city and the State. The city will retain Warren H. Manning, the consulting engineer who has had so much to do with the city's improvement program. The Board of Grounds and Buildings will immediately engage a noted engineer to co-operate with Mr. Manning.

Governor Brumbaugh announced that he is busy preparing plans to be laid before the Legislature so that the work of landscaping and the whole general Capitol extension scheme can be acted upon as soon as possible after the body meets for the 1917 session.

It was further announced that the State, through the Attorney General's Department and otherwise would resist any attempt to erect a bridge at Walnut street.
