State College, Pa., Oct. 12.—Penn State's magnificent game against Bucknell on Saturday has pleased the coaches and student body. They were impressed by the savage attack of the back field in the first half and by the defensive play of the linemen throughout the fray.

It was an easier game than State looked for, twenty points being about the margin figured on by Captain Clark's men.

Manager McIlheny Hopes Brooklyn Will Win Today

As a baseball manager George W. McIlheny has been quite successful. He announced to-day that the Renier electric board would be on hand next year for the world's series and that in keeping with his program this week he would introduce new features daily.

In the event of Boston winning to-day there will be no game to-morrow. Manager McIlheny hopes to see the windup in Brooklyn. There is a probability that the series may go seven games.

LEW RITTER IS STILL BUSY Manager Lew Ritter does not look for the windup of the series at Boston to-day. He is of the opinion that Brooklyn will come back and that another game will be played in Brooklyn to-morrow.

The reproduction of yesterday's game showed the electric wonder giving the quickest results. Fans who attended the game at the Board of Trade building were out on the street long before the other boards had the finish.

ADMISSION FREE TO TRAPSHOOTERS; GATES OPEN TO ALL COMERS

No Matter Whether It Is Club Contest or American Handicap; Tickets Are Scarcity

While the baseball fans solemnly declare that they will forever shun the bleachers at major league games unless the admission price is reduced to "two bits" and then walk right up to the ticket window and shell out 50 cents, gun bugs pursue the "even tenor of their way."

In discussing this phase of trapshooting a well-known sportsman remarked: "Imagine the baseball barons announcing that no charge would be made for admission to the world's series! Yet this is precisely what the Interstate Association does when the grand American trapshooting handicap is staged for the 600,000 trapshooters in the United States."

DRUNKENNESS IN ARMY DECLINES

Drunken Soldier Is a Rare Sight; Y. M. C. A. Responsible

London, Oct. 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There isn't any thing like as much drunkenness in the British army as there used to be. Lord French attributes much of this improvement to the great work done by the Young Men's Christian Association and kindred bodies.

It was the opening of the new Y. M. C. A. hut by Lord French that enabled him to tell his French that the army had benefited by such work.

"I remember," he said, "when I first joined the army—how long ago I don't like to remember—the only refuge of the soldier was the canteen. In these days we had old soldiers who used practically to live on beer. It used to be quite a common thing in those days for an old soldier to sell his food to the young recruit and buy beer to live upon it."

85,000 Acres of Additional Land Under Cultivation

Dublin, Ireland Oct. 11.—The efforts of the Irish Department of Agriculture to increase the food supply have resulted in an addition of over 85,000 acres of land to the area under cultivation.

Although Ireland has a flourishing linen trade in Belfast it does not, to any great extent, grow its own flax, and the Department has been endeavoring to remedy this. Early in August, 1914 the Department issued a memorandum advising flax-growers to save flax-seed for their sowing requirements the following Spring.

UPON REPRESENTATIONS of the Department of Agriculture, facilities were obtained through the intervention of the Foreign Office for the export of seed from Russia and Holland to this country.

WELLY'S CORNER

Baseball "bones" wrecked the Brooklyn team yesterday and were also responsible for the other defeats.

It must be handed to Bill Carrigan for having a team that keeps together. He has the goods and it is a question whether a team could be picked from other major league line-ups that would be able to trim Boston in a series of games.

With to-day's game at Boston the world's series may end. Fans have about concluded that there is nothing to take up football, and there will be some exciting times between now and Thanksgiving Day.

Central High has had a new tackling dummy installed on the Island. A bucking or charging sled, such as is used by all big schools and colleges, has also been put at the disposal of the Central football men.
