25 cent bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp.

Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and never fails to stop falling hair at once. ASTHMA SUFFERERS

MAKES BREATHING EASY

In New England where Bronchitis, Asthma and other diseases of the throat and lungs are so prevalent some wonderfully speedy recoveries have recently been effected by the use of a treatment known as Oxidation, first introduced by Dr. Eugene Howard, a prominent Worcester physician.

Oxidation, which is a powerful, but highly concentrated combination of curative agents, comes compressed in a small tablet which the patient dissolves in the mouth. One of these simple and pleasant tasting tablets put in the mouth just before going to bed clears out all the choked up air passages, soothes the irritated bronchial tubes and enables the asthmatic sufferer to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable night's sleep. Oxidation tablets are harmless, contain no dangerous habit-forming drugs and are not at all expensive. G. A. Gorman and many other druggists sell them and agree to refund money to any purchaser who does not obtain relief from their use. This certainly makes their test an easy matter to all who suffer from Asthma or Bronchitis.—Advertisement.

HOUSE SCALES ARE VALUABLE HELP

State Farmers' Adviser Talks About Importance of Having Them on Hand

"Every housekeeper should have a set of scales and measures to weigh and measure her purchases that she may be sure she is getting what she has paid for," says Mrs. Jean Kane Foulke, farm adviser on home economics, in the bulletin of the State Department of Agriculture. "Even when dealing with the same firm for a length of time it will be often found to pay to do this at least once a month. These household scales may be tested by the local scaler on request just as any commercial scales are, so that they can be kept true and in working order."

"If the housekeeper finds her purchases vary much or often in amount from what the dealer has told her, she can protect herself and her neighbors by reporting the same to the county scaler whose business it is to attend to such matters. There need be no 'hard feelings' connected with the transaction for the complainant's name need not appear, the scaler having authority to investigate and examine all weights and measures in his jurisdiction at any and all times without explanation."

"Then, too, I would advise every house keeper in Pennsylvania to write to the State Bureau of Standards at Harrisburg and provide herself with the reports or bulletins for 1914-15 which will give a list of the 'tolerances' allowed by law on various articles, showing what various containers must hold, such as boxed cereals, etc., and also how packages, jars and baskets of fruits, eggs, etc., must be marked and numbered to show contents and weight. These reports will be useful to the ordinary customer but will be invaluable to women or girls and to Canning Clubs who purpose to market articles themselves and wish to keep within the law. The laws are very simple and easy to understand, but are heavy for breaking them. Therefore, they should be well understood by any one proposing to market or sell."

"In cases where it is inconvenient to have the household weights and measures tested by the scaler, they can be 'tried out' with some other weights or measures in the neighborhood that have recently had State inspection. It is important that the weights as well as scales be true and to be certain of this, some test must be made, as many of the cheap apparatus such as are found in most houses are 'run out' by the manufacturer by the dozen and may be found to vary considerably in consequence. It would hardly seem necessary for housekeepers to go to this extra trouble did we not find it a common item of news that such and such dealer has been found to have been giving short measure to his customers. Sometimes through ignorance of the dealer himself as might come from using old and worn scales of measures made incorrectly by the manufacturer, but also more frequently it is found that false bottoms, light weights and trifling with the balance of scales has been the trouble. It has not been due to accident or ignorance but to what we politely call 'the tricks of the trade.'"

Poke About Among Musty Old Papers in Searching Title

After poking about among a lot of musty, dusty and age-yellowed documents in his search for the title history of the plot that embodies the new 'East Camp Hill Addition' R. O. Stuckenrath, owner of the Jackson Free estate, unearthed some interesting data about the early transactions of that 'cross-river' development section.

The estate, now laid out in building lots, to be sold under the name of the East Camp Hill Addition, was part of a grant given by John Penn and John Penn, Jr. Attorney Joseph P. McKeehan, Carlisle, investigated the records and this is what he found:

On April 28, 1790, a deed was given by John Penn, the younger, by Anthony Butler, his attorney, and John Penn, the elder, by John F. Miffin, his attorney, to Robert Whitehill, of East Pennborough township, for the consideration of £1,110 5 shillings, containing 47 acres and 66 perches.

After April 6, 1838, different tracts of land were sold off and on September 23, 1913, a deed was given by the Lemoine Trust Company to George W. Free, Catharine Free and Florence D. Free for the undivided one-fourth part of a tract of land, said land containing 186 lots, including the plot of ground 289x480 feet upon which the dwelling house of the late Jackson Free is erected, containing 30 acres, more or less.

R. O. Stuckenrath, the present owner of East Camp Hill Addition, purchased the above described 30 acres, exclusive of lots 116 to 137, as per blueprint prepared by A. P. Rupp, of Mechanicsburg.

New York Italian Is Seeking $3,000,000 Taken From Family in 1848

New York, Oct. 12.—In order to lay claim to his ancestral estates in Italy, valued, he says, at $3,000,000, lost to his family by the Austrian conquest of Italian territory in the war of 1848-1850, but now brought back under Italian jurisdiction by the fortunes of the present war, Achille Joseph Oishei, a lawyer of this city, has obtained permission from the Courts to assume his surname as his father's discarded patronymic of Hoschek. He explained that his father dropped that name when he deserted from the Austrian army in the war of 1848-1850 and went over to the Italian cause.

As a result of that desertion, Oishei said, his father's estates were confiscated by the Austrians when the territory in which they were located fell into their hands. Fearing execution if he returned to Austria, his father, Oishei said, remained in Italy after the war, marrying an Italian and bringing up his family under the name of Oishei.

A recent decree by the Italian Government called upon all persons owning property in territory recently captured in the present war to come forward and make good their title, Oishei told the court.

Mayor of Chicago Is Called in Vice Inquiry

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The records desired by State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne in connection with his announced intention of seeking indictment of Chief of Police Healy, which developed a sensational raid on the City Hall yesterday, were delivered to the Grand Jury.

Mayor William Hale Thompson and his private secretary appeared briefly as witnesses in connection with the records. Police captains were summoned to bring all records dealing with vice, gambling and saloons. The records from the office of Chief Healy alone occupied two motortrucks.

The Mayor asserted that Mr. Hoyne, a Democrat, was playing petty politics in furtherance of his campaign for re-election.
