"A friend of mine lost a camera, I know what you mean. It isn't m'. Lost it at Boisseau's?"
"Near Boisseau's?"
"Near Boisseau's?"
"I'll have to ask you who owns that a mean. I don't have to answer. I don't think it's any of your business. What has a camera to do with the robbery at Boisseau's?"
"I'll not fell you who owns it."
"You know," he said, and I give you my word he showed his teeth. "You're cally delaying the game, son. There are a number of ways of finding only solve cally delaying the same, son. There are a number of ways of finding on the start of the same and the country. Then he went out and closed that was made somewhere. Oh, well trace tit, "How do you know there is any connection between the camera and the robbery, or the murders, or whatever you have in mind?"
Then he went out and closed the door softly behind him.
Can you beat that?

"Sure," I said. "Now forget it."

We sat there, side by side, for five minutes. Neither of us said anything. Either there was too much to say or too little. I didn't know.

The town lay spread out before us like a table set with a thousand candles. It made me think of the picture the queer camera had taken. Our mill was going full. All he lamps were on, and I saw a moving light that I knew was the yard locomotive. It wound in and out on its rickety track, and I even fancied I recognized its whistle. SUGGESTIONS FOR HALLOWE'EN
In the October Woman's Home Companion, there are some suggestions for Hallowe'en parties. The writer says:
"Little favors that children will adore or that can be used at parties may be made from popcorn. Have a dish of hot thick sugar sirup ready

and build up little figures of the corn
by dipping each kernel in the sirup.
Use a marshmallow for the head, putting on the features with melted the chocolate. Make a hat using a large chocolate peppermint for the brim
and a round chocolate for the crown;
stick on the hat with the sirup.

"Another impish figure is made by radiant, glowing warmth of a Perfection Oil Heater. Take it up in the sewing room when you want to keep most of the furnace heat on the first floor. Use it in the sick room or when baby frets at night.

Let the children have it out in their playhouse on Saturday afternoons. You can enjoy all these advantages without soot, smoke, ashes or un-pleasant, unhealthful odors. The Perfection Oil Heater burns kerosene. the most economical of fuels. A large gallon tank makes constant refilling unnecessary. To obtain perfect results always use Atlantic Rayolight Oil. Your dealer will be glad to show you Perfection Oil Heaters. They are very reasonably priced, from $3.50 to $5.00.
