BOY KILLED IN CELLAR CAVE-IN

Samuel Matchett, Aged 10, Smothered Under Fall of Soft Clay

Samuel Matchett, aged 10, youngest son of Mrs. M. Matchett, 2137 North Fourth street, was killed, two boys were badly injured, while two other companions suffered from shock and slight bruises when the side of a newly dug cellar near Fourth and Woodbine streets, caved in last evening.

The Matchett boy was suffocated before he was removed from the soft clay by neighbors who dug him out with their bare hands. He was rushed to the Harrisburg Hospital, but died on the way. The others who were injured were Fred McCann, aged 13, 2135 North Fourth street, bruised leg; Oscar Brenneman, aged 13, 409 Woodbine street; William Brennan, aged 12, 2144 Atlas street, and Russel Albright, aged 12, 2204 Logan street, were hurt by falling earth. Coroner Eckinger conducted an investigation to-day.

Funeral services for the Matchett boy will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. J. Bradley Markward, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Harrisburg Cemetery.

GREATER HARRISBURG DAY BOOSTS HOTEL

to-day. The committee was most kindly received wherever it went.

Luncheon Jolly Affair

The committeemen went out by three and fives from the old Board of Trade building this morning at 10 and gathered for luncheon at the Harrisburg Club at 1. It was a jolly and successful crowd that assembled in the big dining room there, even though it was a bit damp around the edges.

One of the first subscriptions to be reported was that of Wagner Hoffman, the well-known newsboy whose stand at Third and Walnut streets is patronized by many of the prominent men of the city.

Went After the Committee

Hoffman, who is president of the Newsboys' Association, is a prosperous young merchant and the committee didn't have to solicit him. He saw the committee first and went after it.

"Everybody ought to be in on that hotel proposition," said "Wag", "put me down for four shares. I think it will be a good investment, but believe me, the price would be well worth while if it didn't do any more than help put a big building on that corner over there," pointing to the old Opera House site. "Say, that old hole has been an awful eyesore to me, standing here as I do most of every day. I'll be tickled to death to see it replaced by a big hotel."

The committee told Wagner that it would like to meet many more like him and when the matter was reported to the committee E. J. Stackpole arose and said that he thought this subscription one of the finest pieces of work the committee had done. He praised young Hoffman as one of the bright, progressive, energetic young men of the city and said that from what he had seen of him as small boy and young man he believed he would make his mark in the community.

The First Payment Made

Another feature of the luncheon was the announcement of Henderson Gil-

DEMOCRATS MISS THE PRESIDENT

Wilson All Smiles, but Local Leaders "Not Present" to Grin Back

Local Democrats overlooked President Woodrow Wilson to-day. But for the attaches of the Pennsylvania Railroad station he would have passed through Harrisburg unnoticed. President Wilson went east on a special train this morning en route to Shady Lawn, where Pennsylvania day celebration was the program for to-day. He has been touring the West.

When the special arrived at 9:35 President Wilson was still at breakfast. He cut his morning meal short when the train stopped and came out on the station platform. Car inspectors, ushers, trainmen and mail and express employes shook the President's hand.

President Wilson was all smiles, and after looking over the big engine, that was to take his train east he returned to his private car, which was on the rear of the train. He said nothing politically. The train had a ten-minute stop here to permit a change of engines and ice the cars.

The President did not remain on the observation platform as usual, but stepped down into the station to greet the people.

President Wilson received word on his way to Lone Branch from Indianapolis to-day that Pennsylvania day at Shadow Lawn to-morrow will be attended by more than 3,600 veterans. Led by Venice C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, the delegation will go to hear the President deliver one of his "front porch" campaign speeches.

The President is due to arrive at Shadow Lawn at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The return trip from Indianapolis was made without any long story addition to 318 Hamilton street. The cost will be $250.

LIST OF VICTIMS IN RIOTS GROWS

Three Dead and Hundred Are Wounded at Bayonne; Police Have Strikers Cowed

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 13. — City authorities hoped to-day that the 5,000 strikers from oil plants at Constable Hook who have been rioting in the streets of Bayonne for two days were awed by the two demonstrations of force by the police yesterday and that there would be less shooting and sniping by the strikers and their sympathizers to-day.

The police planned to repeat their performance of yesterday when they swept twice through the strike district in the Constable Hook section, driving the strikers off the streets into the houses, returning the shots of snipers stationed on roofs and in windows, wrecking saloons kept open in defiance of the Mayor's order and arresting the proprietors.

One man, a lawyer, who was innocent of any part in the rioting was shot and killed yesterday and it was estimated that nearly a score were wounded, some of them spectators.

Three Persons Shot

Three persons, one a young woman, have been killed and it is estimated that more than 100 have been injured since the rioting began and there has been much property damage. It was reported to-day that many families were removing from the strike district or the city to escape the danger of bullets.

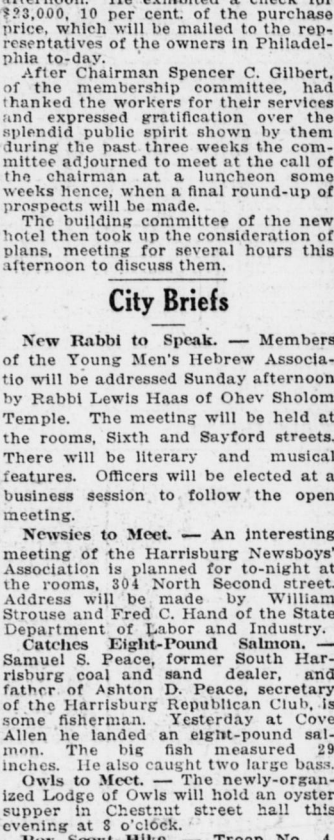

The body of an unidentified man was found lying in the street some distance from the strike center to-day with a bullet wound in the head. Nothing was known as to the cause of the killing.

Dead Line Pushed Back

Quiet prevailed during the early hours to-day after the battle scenes enacted in the streets near the oil plants yesterday afternoon and last night.

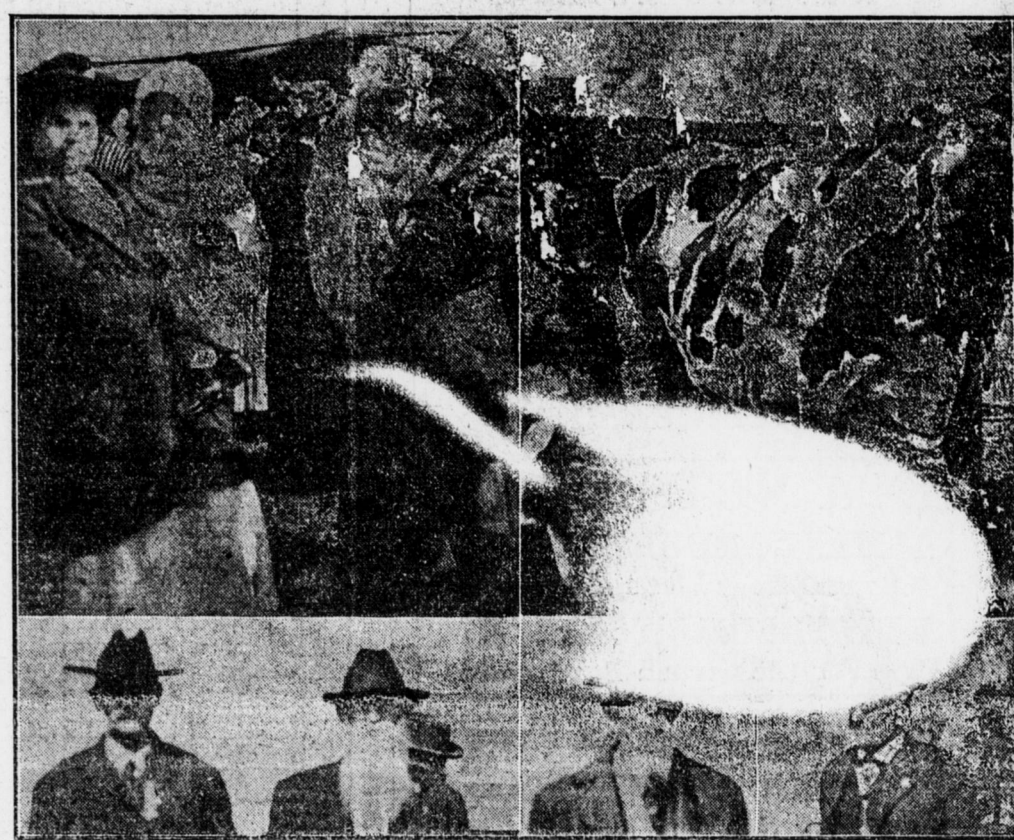

"We expect to clean the rioters out to-day and start the trolley line in operation in the strike territory," said a police official this morning. "Probably we shall have to send another large force of armed policemen and deputies into that district again, but we think the strikers have been cowed. If they refuse to get off the streets again they will be arrested."

NEWPORT FAIR MECCA OF THOUSANDS

Big crowds from practically every nook and corner in Perry county attended the Newport fair, held at Newport, during the last few days. Above are a few pictures taken by the telegraph representative at the big grounds. At the top to the left is Mrs. N. W. Jacobs and baby, Robert Lehman Jacobs and to her right Mrs. R. S. Clouse and baby, Kenneth Eugene Clouse, all of Elliottsburg. At the top to the right in "Queen of Conynville" and her calves, one bull and one heifer, all three blue ribbon and first prizewinners. They are owned by Charles L. Johnson, of New Bloomfield.

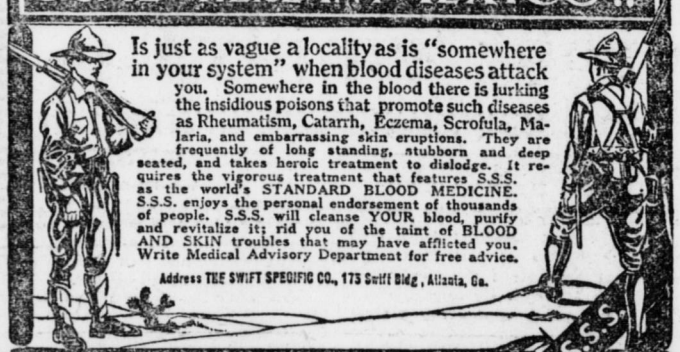

Below from left to right are some of the oldest residents of the county, who have attended a number of fairs. They are Daniel Ramp, aged 73, and John Dunlap, aged 73, prominent Perry county citizens and Civil War veterans; William Liddick, aged 73, of Lewistown; and Jacob Coble, aged 72, now connected with the State Board of Health. Mr. Coble is one of the original stockholders in the Newport Fair Association and has attended thirty of thirty-one fairs. The year he missed was when he attended Camp Meade as a photographer.

SOMEWHERE IN MEXICO!

Is just as vague a locality as "somewhere in your system" when blood diseases attack you. Somewhere in the blood there is lurking the insidious poisons that promote such diseases as Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, Malaria, and embarrassing skin eruptions. They are frequently of long standing, stubborn, deep seated, and takes heroic treatment to dislodge. It requires the vigorous treatment that features S.S.S. as the world's STANDARD BLOOD PURIFIER. S.S.S. enjoys the personal endorsement of thousands of people. OHEV SHOLOM CONGREGATION CELEBRATES HARVEST SEASON

Interesting Harvest Festival services were held last evening at Ohev Shalom Temple, Second and South streets. It is an annual custom to set aside one day each year for the celebration of the harvest season. On this occasion elaborate decorations are a feature. In the above picture is shown the star as it was prepared for yesterday's services. The decorations were by the ladies of the Shalom. Postcards are being printed and will be sold among the members of the congregation for the Temple fund. The services last evening were in charge of Rabbi Louis Haas.

GUARDSMEN SHOT

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 13. — Private E. O. Graham, of Company C, 31st Michigan infantry, died here last night as the result of a gunshot wound in the chest. Private Alvin C. Sauer, of company L, of the same regiment, is held under arrest to-day by the military authorities in connection with the shooting which occurred at the regimental guardhouse. Sauer, who was on guard, claims that he was examining his rifle when it was accidentally discharged.

KINGSTONIAN SAFE IN PORT

Arcent Says She Is Two Weeks' Sailing

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13. — The British steamer Kingstonian, reported as among those torpedoed by a German submarine off Nantucket last Sunday, is safe in port, according to word received by John M. Thomas, of this city, manager of the Leyland Line, which owns the steamer. Information showed that the Kingstonian was thousands of miles from Nantucket last Sunday.

N. J. G. O. P. LEADER DIES

Camden, N. J., Oct. 13. — William J. Bradley, a Republican leader of New Jersey and president of the American Dredging company, died in a Philadelphia hospital to-day following an operation. Mr. Bradley served as a member of the New Jersey State Senate for six years. He was 64 years old.

"I Felt So Miserable My Life Was a Burden"

C. G. Shirey Well-Known Local Carpenter Tells How He Brightened Up When Tanlac Invigorated Him

"I was so miserable I didn't much care whether school kept or not," says C. G. Shirey, a well-known carpenter who lives at 29 South 13th Street, Harrisburg.

"I was all run down and my system was so weakened that I caught cold on the slightest provocation. I had no appetite and what little I did eat did not seem to do me any more good than so much saw dust.

"I had no energy, no ambition, I felt as if I wanted to rest all the time and yet when I went to bed at night my sleep did not seem to refresh me for I would wake up in the morning feeling more tired than when I turned in. I got no enjoyment out of life for I took no interest in anything, just sort of moped around and dragged myself through one weary day after another.

"Seem to me it was only the other day that I happened to read a piece in the paper about a man who felt about as I did and who had been helped by Tanlac and when I saw that it was being sold here in town I went and got a bottle.

"It sure is one great medicine for I put the joy of living back in me when I thought it was gone for good. It began to brighten me up with the very first dose and the first bottle made a new man out of me.

"My appetite is good, I feel energetic and like working and I get a good refreshing night's rest every night. I never knew there was anything like it."

Tanlac, the famous invigorant and reconstructive tonic so highly praised by grateful thousands is now being specially introduced here at Gorgas' Drug Store where the Tanlac man is meeting the people and explaining the merits of this famous master medicine.
