

OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN

The Selfishness of Men

By DOROTHY DIX

There is a lovely theory that every man is a kind of guardian angel—the little cherub that sits up aloft—and generously protects and disinterestedly plays the part of providence to woman.

In reality, from the cradle to the grave man is engaged in a steady job of getting the best of her. Of course he doesn't mean it. More, he is sublimely unconscious of this being the case. As he figures it out, life is simply a case where somebody must get the hot end of the bargain, and he is content that somebody should wear petticoats. He even thinks woman likes it, and takes credit to himself for letting her live it all.

Look where you will, and you see man's selfishness to woman illustrated at every turn.

Even in love man is never satisfied unless he gets back ten times as much as he gives. His affection for a woman may be of the most milk-and-water character, but she must hand him out a double distillate of unselfish devotion, a hundred and fifty proof. Moreover, she must back it up with a steady flowing stream of gratitude because he had the goodness to notice her and ask her to marry him.

The Difference

Just watch the next engaged couple you meet. Isn't the girl doing all the talking and the looking pleased, and making all the effort to be agreeable? And isn't the man sitting up with a complacent and patronizing air that says plainer than words: "I have this young person to adore me, and for once in my life I am aware that I have done a perfectly altruistic and noble thing."

Observe the way a man acts when he gets into trouble. Doesn't he rush to some woman with his tale of woe? And doesn't she have to listen to it day after day and night after night without ever betraying a symptom of weariness, or daring to suggest that he's anything but a persecuted martyr? Yes, verily.

But does any woman dare to tell any man, except her doctor and preacher, who are paid to listen, about her troubles? Not one. For experience has taught her that the minute she hoists the rainy weather signal every man in sight grabs his hat and runs for shelter.

If a man has a headache doesn't he expect everybody in the house to be on the jump fetching camphor, and ice, and Heaven knows what, and doesn't he make his wife sit by his side and hold his hand, and pretend that she believes he's about to die? But if the wife is sick—dear me, he wonders what makes women have so many confounded nerves, and he says he never knows what to do around sick folks, anyway. And when he goes comfortably off to spend the evening at his club playing poker.

Which of the sexes has to do all of the adapting of itself to the other? The feminine. When you listen to a man and a woman talking together isn't the woman always trying to converse about something that interests the man? Don't all the women you know study up on the stock reports, the baseball score and politics, in order to be able to talk to men intelligently? And did you ever hear of a single man reading up on the new style of hairdressing, or the burning topic of the width of skirts, in order to be able to entertain a woman?

Don't men demand that women must be perfectly satisfied with nothing livelier to do than keeping house, and raising babies, and an uninterupted contemplation of their husbands' charms? But imagine what would happen if one single woman demanded that a husband's interest should be confined within those narrow boundaries!

Think of the brutal selfishness of good men who refuse to make their wives an allowance, and for the pleasure of showing that they are masters, make high-spirited women come to them for every penny they spend.

The women give the loving, faithful services of hearts and heads and hands such as no money can hire in the open market, and yet there are men who are never willing to give them anything for it as their right. It is always bestowed as a favor, that women are expected to be grateful for, and men neither know, nor care, that a favor is as bitter on the feminine palate as it is on the masculine.

A Selfish Point of View

Consider the selfish point of view of man's adjudgment of rights and privileges. If a man goes out with the milkman in the morning in such a state that his wife has to get up and open the door for him, he thinks himself a poor, henpecked creature if she says a word.

Suppose, however, a wife should do the same way even once. It would be the divorce court for hers, for there is precious little a man will forgive a woman, but all eternity is not broad enough to bound what he expects her to forgive him.

And what is it but the selfishness of man that for so many years kept women shut out from practically all educational privileges and gainful occupations, and that still keeps them shut out of their political rights?

Man had a good thing and he wanted to keep it for himself, and this is at the bottom of all the hue and cry about woman getting out of her sacred sphere. Man doesn't worry about woman's sphere until she gets some job that he wants himself.

And the funny part of all of this is that men haven't any idea that they are being selfish to women. Perhaps because they have been that way so long they don't know any better.

LINEN OR MADRAS FOR BOY'S SHIRT

Patterns For the Younger Set Are Made Just Like Father's

By MAY MANTON

9177 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Boy's Shirt, 10 to 16 years.

This is a boy's shirt that is made just like a man's, in coat style. It can be finished with a high soft collar or with an open neck and rolling collar. For school wear, the high collar will be liked but for sports the rolling collar is smart. At the front, the edges are simply hemmed. It is an easy garment to make and a thoroughly comfortable and satisfactory garment to wear. Appropriately, it can be made of madras or of linen, or percale or of pongee or of tub silk, but on the figure, striped madras is shown as most appropriate. It is perhaps the greatest favorite of all for general wear. Pongee is durable and is comfortable but boys give their shirts extremely hard usage and the simple materials that can be washed again and again are apt to be the desired ones, although everything that is used for the man's shirt is appropriate for the boy's.

For the 14 year size will be needed, 4 3/4 yards of material 27 inches wide, 3 yards 3/8 or 2 3/4 yards 44.

The pattern No. 9177 is cut in sizes for boys' from 10 to 16 years of age. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

AUTO PARTS STANDARDIZED
Engineers Agree on Common Names for Motors, Bodies and Accessories
New York, Oct. 14.—Standard automobile nomenclature was announced yesterday by the Society of Automobile Engineers. The resulting standardization of names is expected to eliminate many delays common in parts replacement. The society asserts that a lack of common automobile language has been a barrier in international business.

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pylorhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pylorhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pylorhea and decay. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 5, Notre Dame, Ind., will free her child, the most successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.—Adv.

CHURCHES

(Other Churches Page 18)

To Promote Children at Zion Lutheran Church

To-morrow will be Rally Day in all departments of Zion Lutheran Sunday school. A most interesting feature of these exercises will be the promotion of children from all the grades, their public examination, and the presentation of certificates and Bibles. The offering will be for the benefit of Gettysburg College Endowment Fund. At the morning church service the Rev. S. C. Burger of India will speak. At the evening service the theme will be "Caring For Souls," and the Rev. S. W. Herman, pastor, will preach. On Monday evening, the men of Zion Brotherhood will give an informal reception in honor of the Rev. Dr. Burger. Mrs. Maud J. Baldwin will speak at the mid-week service upon the value of the Sunday school and will conduct a conference upon methods of work. The annual reception of the officers and teachers will follow. The first meeting of the Children's Missionary and Work Band will be held on Saturday afternoon. Classes in sewing and basketry will be organized. The Cencheon and Mary and Martha Circles will meet on Monday and Thursday evenings. The Literary Society will hold its weekly meeting on Saturday evening. Zion offers to the public the opportunity of dropping in for rest, meditation and prayer at any hour of the day. This service is gladly and freely offered to all.

DIVISION STREET PRESBYTERIAN

Next Sunday afternoon the Sunday school of the Division Street Presbyterian Church will meet at regular session at 3 o'clock. The rally day services last Sunday saw the high water mark in attendance with 157 present. The last few months have seen a large increase in the attendance at the school and the interest in it. Preaching service will be held in the chapel at 7:30 o'clock with the Rev. J. S. Armentrout preaching. There will be special music by the choir and a part in the program for the children.

Dr. Mudge to Talk on Noah Tomorrow

The series of evening sermons which the pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, is preaching at the present time is proving to be most helpful to the large audiences attending. The general title is "Modern Lessons From Ancient Lives." The third will be preached to-morrow evening, the subject for this one being "Noah—A Lesson in Trusting." The theme at the morning service will be "The Knowledge That Knows," If Timothy 1:2. A feature of the services at Pine street which is always helpful is the well-selected music of the choir. The musical numbers to-morrow will be these:

Morning: Prelude, "Andante Cantabile," Dohnetsch; anthem, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Schnecker; offertory, "Andante," Franquillo; Higgs; solo by Mr. Sutton, "In Thee, O Lord, Do I Put My Faith," Frey; postlude, "Grand Chorus" (Gregorian Tonality) Gullmant.

Evening: Organ selections at 7:20, "Fugue" (Sonata VII) Mendelssohn;

Well-Known United Brethren Minister Buried at Iowa

Jonestown, Pa., Oct. 14.—Funeral services of the Rev. W. W. Fridinger, aged 84, who died suddenly here on Monday morning, were held at Iona on Thursday afternoon and it was one of the largest funerals held in that vicinity for several years. The services were conducted by the Rev. D. D. Lowery, of Harrisburg, conference superintendent, who preached the sermon, assisted by the Revs. H. E. Miller, of Lebanon; H. M. Miller, of Penbrook, and M. H. Miller, of Denver. Six ministers of the conference acted as pallbearers, while twenty-four of the pastors in the conference attended the obsequies.

FIFTH STREET M. E.

Morning — Prelude, "March Solenne," Mally; anthem, "O God, Who Hast Prepared," Gaul; offertory, "Autumn," Johnston; postlude, "Festive March," Hurst.

Evening — Prelude, "Prelude in A flat (Ave Maria)," Gounod; anthem, "Send Out Thy Light," Gounod; offertory, "Offertory," Gounod; anthem, "Sanctus, from 'St. Cecilia, Mass,'" Gounod; "Galla," Gounod, Mrs. Roy G. Cox, soloist; postlude, "Marche Romaine," Gounod.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

New Cumberland, Oct. 14. — On Thursday evening the Junior class of the New Cumberland High school, held a class meeting, the first for this term and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Prof. C. Carl, assistant principal, acted as dean, in the absence of Miss Roberta Reiff. Refreshments were served.

TYSON FUNERAL TO-MORROW

Millersburg, Pa., Oct. 14.—Funeral services of Israel Tyson, who died at the Harrisburg Hospital of typhoid fever on Thursday, will take place from his home, east of Millersburg, to-morrow afternoon.

CAPT. G. C. JACK RANGE OFFICER

Appointed on Pennsylvania State Rifle Team For National Matches at Jacksonville, Fla.

A letter from Troop C, First Pennsylvania Cavalry (the Governor's Troop), received here from El Paso to-day states that Captain George C. Jack, the troop commander, has been selected by Major-General C. M. Clement as range officer of the Pennsylvania rifle team for the national matches at Jacksonville, Fla., and he is now with the officers and men of the team in camp at Jacksonville. The matches will continue all of next week. Other Harrisburgers on the team are: Major J. Markwood Peters, Eighth Regiment, who is team surgeon; Sergeant Virgil E. Kennedy, headquarters company, Eighth Regiment; Sergeant Claude W. Gerdes, machine gun company, Eighth Regiment, and Sergeant Charles A. Burtnett, machine gun company, Eighth Regiment.

Second Lieutenant George W. H. Roberts is in command of Troop C during Captain Jack's absence from Camp Stewart.

During field day sports held at Camp Stewart recently the Governor's Troop won the dispatch race and will bring home a handsome cup. In the test for best troop in the regiment in horsemanship and horse training the Governor's Troop (C) came out in first place, but was demerited ten points on account of having two "outlaw" horses remaining on the picket line. It was impossible to use these horses in the ranks and this threw the troop two-tenths of a point behind the winning troop, the Sheridan Troop (B), of Tyrone.
