FARM LOAN BOARD HEARS NEW IDEAS

Harrisburg Mentioned For the Land Bank For This Section of the State

Members of the Federal Farm Loan Board adjourned their Pennsylvania hearing to ascertain sentiment in regard to the use of the proposed system and the location of the bank for this part of the country at sundown last night and the members were escorted through the Capitol building by Samuel B. Rambo, Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings and Herman P. Miller, Senate Librarian. They were particularly interested in the legislative halls and visited the executive department and various departmental offices. Secretary of Agriculture Patton was praised for his assistance and the committee of the Chamber of Commerce cordially thanked for the entertainment extended to the board.

The members of the board left for Baltimore and will decide about the districts and location in December. What was chiefly learned here yesterday was from farmers and businessmen. Summed up it may be put as follows:

Pennsylvania's farmers will use the facilities of the bank eventually.

The act needs provision for aiding young men who want to buy farms and establish homes and who have little or no capital.

State acts to facilitate handling of second mortgages are desirable.

Rigorous holding down of overhead expenses is to be demanded.

People will have to be educated to use the bank.

It will be years before the people turn from their local banks which have been serving them to the federal banks with their fifty per cent. loaning power.

Location of the land banks in agricultural communities.

Harrisburg and Lancaster were mentioned as good places for the bank and Philadelphia was strongly boosted. The closing hours of the hearing were marked by display of prejudice on the part of some of the speakers against banks and some men who had not found business methods to their liking added to the variety of the remarks made.

Secretary Patton presented figures showing 219,000 farms in Pennsylvania; of these 164,000 are operated by owners. There are 112,000 farms mortgaged for $61,000,000, which is 35 per cent. of their value. Mr. Patton thought that the land banks would get considerable business in the State.

John A. McSparren, master of the State Grange, and members of its executive committee, stated that in time the banks would find a considerable field. Most of the speakers appeared to think that provision for greater assistance to young farmers starting out in life was needed.

J. Clarence Kates of Philadelphia, and others suggested Philadelphia as the bank location, and Eugene L. Herr suggested Lancaster, while several others mentioned Harrisburg, including H. A. Keefer.

Professor Harry Hayward of Delaware Agricultural College, and Prof. William Frear, of Pennsylvania State College, gave at length their opinions as to opportunities for the land banks, and Mr. Hayward favored Philadelphia for the bank. Willard Minch, of Bridgeton, also favored Philadelphia by letter.

Governor Brumbaugh said the bank should be in an agricultural center and not in Philadelphia or New York.

What Causes "Rot"

"Rot" in wood is caused by "fungi."

These are low forms of plant life that cannot live by themselves but live off of other plants.

When the "fungi' completely devours the wood we call it "rotten."

Replace all "rotten" piece of lumber this Fall before the damage gets serious.

Once a piece of wood begins to decay the disease spreads rapidly.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS

MARGARET WILSON WILL SING HERE

President's Daughter to Give Recital For Benefit of the Polyclinic Hospital

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Polyclinic Hospital has arranged for a benefit for the hospital on Friday evening, November 17, at the Orpheum Theater, when the President's daughter, Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, will sing.

Miss Wilson is a singer of genuine artistic equipment, and possesses a soprano voice of lovely timber. Her necessarily few public appearances have won critical approval, not because she is the President's daughter, but because she has disclosed a fine sense of musical values, together with a natural talent to reach the hearts of the people.

On the committee working to make the benefit a success are:

Mrs. Edward Kirby Lawson, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Holmes and Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, assistant chairmen; Mrs. H. C. Rineard, Mrs. John P. Gallagher, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Bellett Lawson, Mrs. C. L. Scott, Mrs. W. R. Houser, Mrs. Alvin I. Miller, Mrs. Austin Miller, Mrs. J. Thompson, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. C. Floyd Hopkins and Mrs. James H. Gingrich.

Tickets can be obtained at any of the music stores, or from any of the members on the committee.

The benefit is for a most worthy cause, as the Polyclinic Hospital has done most splendid and efficient work, especially among the poor.

Immanuel Endeavorers Entertained by Officers

Members and friends of the Immanuel Christian Endeavor Society were very pleasantly entertained by the officers and social committee at the church Tuesday evening. During the evening several recitations were given by Miss Lillian Speakman. Charles S. Urich, vice-president of the Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Union, made an address on "New Members and How to Keep Them;" Miss Emily Edwards, of Market Square Presbyterian Society, spoke on the "Quiet Hour," and the Rev. E. E. Curtis, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, made an address on "Suggestions for Committee Work." Piano selections were played by Miss Evelyn Speakman. A period was devoted to committee plans, after which each chairman presented an outline of work proposed by the committee for the coming year. From the reports and the interest manifested by the members of the several committees the indications are that very aggressive work for the society and the church will be carried on by the members during the coming year.

The following were present: The Misses Emily Edwards, Anna Boyer, Agnes Sanderson, Isabel Sanderson, Lillian Speakman, Evelyn Speakman, Laura Brenisholtz, Agnes Miller, Elsie Shultz, Helen Kirkwood, Alice Lewis, Margaret Slaymaker, Mary E.
