

OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN

A GIRL AND A MAN

A New and Vital Romance of City Life by Virginia Terhune Van der Water

CHAPTER XLIII (Copyright 1916, Star Company) "Have you a good physician?" Brainbridge queried. His manner was that of an older brother, almost that of a solicitous parent. "Yes," Agnes told him, "an excellent physician. And you said just now that you are not alone. Who is here with you? Your maid?" "No," she replied "we have no regular maid—only a young girl who comes in each day in the morning. We never had her until I went to work. Then I could not leave my aunt alone. She told him this hurriedly. If he had come to see her, he must appreciate that she realized it was only a kind employer to a humble employee. Yet William Hale would not have come, she reflected—not if she had been dying. "My aunt has a trained nurse with her at present," Agnes said. "How long will she stay?" "If you would not accept it as a gift," he murmured, looking at her keenly. "No, no," she said again. "And I cannot borrow it from you! Please forget that I suggested getting anyone to lend me money." "Then," he said "if you will not borrow it, you can earn it from me." "I have some work that I would like done out of business hours," he explained, "some important papers to be copied. I have been trying to think of some one whom I could trust to do them. Will you come to my home and copy them there in the library in the evenings? I will pay you well—that is, just what the job is worth." "Yes," she heard herself saying, "I will do that."

counsel some one whose advice she could seek, yet when this man came to her she repulsed him. She turned to him so suddenly that he was astonished. She spoke to him like a penitent. "I have been behaving like a fool," she said, "and I beg your pardon. There is something that you can do to help me, and that is to give me your advice." "I will be glad to," he assured her. She waited to collect her thoughts, then told him all the truth—of how little she had, of how much devotion and fealty she owed her aunt. The man leaning back in the deep chair, kept his eyes fixed upon her. She felt somewhat as if he were hypnotizing her to keep no facts from him. "And now," she said, as she finished, "I want your advice, is there any way in which I could borrow some money—I mean could I have my life insured and borrow money on a policy—I mean—let there something of that sort I can do?" His Kind Offer He shook his head. "Nothing just like that," he replied. "But there is something you can do." "What?" The look in his eyes made her feel slightly dizzy. "Take it from me," he said slowly, "I am a rich man, child. I can let you have all the money you need." "Oh, no!" she exclaimed shrinking back. "I cannot borrow from you! I have no security to offer you. I cannot do that!" He leaned quickly forward as if to seize her hand, then restrained himself. The action had been so swift that she had not noticed it. "You would not accept it as a gift?" he murmured, looking at her keenly. "No, no," she said again. "And I cannot borrow it from you! Please forget that I suggested getting anyone to lend me money." "Then," he said "if you will not borrow it, you can earn it from me." "I have some work that I would like done out of business hours," he explained, "some important papers to be copied. I have been trying to think of some one whom I could trust to do them. Will you come to my home and copy them there in the library in the evenings? I will pay you well—that is, just what the job is worth." "Yes," she heard herself saying, "I will do that."

SOMETHING NEW FOR BUSY WOMEN

One-Piece Apron That May Be Made With Little Trouble; Ornamental Effect Possible

By MAY MANTON

8904 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) One-Piece Apron, Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large 42 or 44.

Here is an apron that every busy woman will want for while it is extremely practical and protective it also is pretty and becoming. The fronts are extended to form the belt. The left side of the belt is passed through at the opening in the right and the ends are buttoned together at the back the one button and buttonhole being all that is required to hold the garment in place. The sleeves can be made to the wrists or to the elbows, or they can be omitted altogether. Here, a striped percale is shown but the gingham and lawns and fabrics that are used for sturdy working aprons are appropriate. If it is desirable to obtain an ornamental effect it would be pretty to make the apron of blue or rose color, or the new yellow chambray and to stitch with black, for stitching on contrasting color is much used this season. For the medium size will be needed, 6 1/2 yards of material 27 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards 36 or 44. The pattern No. 8904 is cut in three sizes, small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40, large 42 or 44 bust. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of fifteen cents.

Knocks Obstinate Coughs in a Hurry A Simple Home-Made Remedy That Gets at the Cause. Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hanging-on bronchial cough, year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly. Get from any druggist "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with gualacol and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Farmers! Have Your Hay and Straw Baled It makes it easier to sell at a higher price. Takes much less room—easier to handle and easier to haul. I hate it right with the Famous Eli Baler for $1.50 per ton. Will go any reasonable distance. MAURICE KING Dauphin, Pa.

TOPSWITCH MORE LIGHT ON CITY

Council Passes on First Reading Third Street Lighting Measure

Council to-day advanced another step toward providing a lighter and brighter city by passing upon first reading Commissioner H. F. Bowman's ordinance authorizing the closing of the contract between the municipality and the Harrisburg Light and Power company for lighting Third street from North to Calder with 44 Mazda-type single standard electric lights. The lamps will be ready for switching into service by the Christmas holidays and material for the new installation is ordered or on the way. The contract price will be $7,915. In the 1917 budget Mr. Bowman says he will continue the program by incorporating enough money to insure similar illumination of Federal Square.

For More Arc Lights Another ordinance by Mr. Bowman provides for the placing of 2,000 candle power arc lights at the following points: Walnut and Aberdeen; Rolleston and Sycamore; Sheels and Hetrick; Nineteenth and Kensington; Twenty-sixth and Greenwood; Nineteenth and Bellevue; Twentieth and Bellevue; Zarker, 150 feet east of Nineteenth; Twelfth and Kelly; Twelfth and Muench; Schuykill and Jefferson; Fifth and Mahantongo; Second and Shamokin; Fourth and Seneca; Fifth and Woodbine; Penn and Peffer; James and Calder streets. Sixty candle power incandescents will be located as follows: Albert alley between Fifteenth and Sixteenth; alley parallel with Naudain between Naudain and Catherine and between Fifteenth and Sixteenth; Twenty-second and Berryhill; Helen between Eighteenth and Nineteenth; Fourteenth and Howard and Herr and Currant.

In Bellevue Park Standards in Bellevue park will be lighted as follows: Twenty-first and Market; Twentieth and Holly; Chestnut between Twenty-first and Twenty-second; Bellevue road between Twenty-first and Twenty-second; Bellevue road between Twenty-second and Twenty-third; Bellevue road and Pentwater; Oakwood road about 200 feet east of Briarcliff road. Other new ordinances offered to-day included: By Mr. Bowman: Authorizing lowering and changing water pipe in Swatara street from Twenty-first to a point 525 feet eastward. By Mr. Lynch: Authorizing grading of Susquehanna (Lilac) street from Emerald to Seneca; placing Bailey street, from Twelfth to a point 168 feet westward to the Messiah Rescue home, on city map.

Ah, New Auto For Police! Mayor Meals: Authorizing purchase of light automobile runabout for police department at a cost of $400. This will be used according to the mayor as a sort of an emergency car for the use of the department. The money will be appropriated from balance remaining from appropriation allowed for policemen's salaries. By Mr. Gargas: Authorizing the sinking fund commissioners to re-issue at least $4,600 worth of improvement bonds as provided for the paving of Front street from Maclay to Division street. This is the balance that has been authorized by the city in 1914 when $55,000 was directed to be set aside for paving in front of non-assessable properties.

Council passed finally the ordinances appropriating $3,000 to provide temporary sewage disinfectant plants to guard towns down the river from typhoid contagion, and $1,000 for the services of an expert engineer to assist in preparing plans for a disposal plant.

The commissioners also granted Fred C. Selber permission to erect his soap and dye plant, which occupied a site for fifty years in the park extension zone, to a plot fronting on Shoenet street and backing on the Pennsylvania railroad and Paxton creek. Because Council's first November meeting, Tuesday, November 7 occurs on election day, Council decided to meet in regular session on Monday, November 6.

It's Hot, but You're Welcome to Attend Observant citizens coming into the central part of the city or the Market street route this afternoon will laugh or groan in the 1100 block, where, in an empty store room, gospel meeting is in progress. Residents of Chihuahua Are Panic-Stricken as Villa Reaches Outskirts San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 24.—Confirmation of the report that Villa has reached the outskirts of Chihuahua City and of fighting in the suburbs between Villa's men and General Trevino's command was contained in a dispatch received to-day by General Johnston from General Bell, commanding at El Paso. General Bell's report is understood to be based on information received from the people of Chihuahua. The people of Chihuahua have become panic-stricken as a result of Villa's advance on the city following his recent victory over General Ozuna at Palomas; that the men of the Revolution stood on a level with the miscreant crew who, during the last three years and a half in Mexico, have ravaged by the hundreds and thousands, and Mexicans by the tens of thousands. "These men have perpetrated every species of outrage upon women and children and have turned all Mexico into a hell of starvation, disease and misery; they have done this with the active or passive assistance of the American government under the leadership of Mr. Wilson and his cabinet officer who now defends them by the foulest slander on the men who made us a nation. Colonel Roosevelt said that the man who professed such doctrines was 'wholly unfit to stay in the Cabinet and the President who retained him was wholly unfit to remain President of the United States.' SCORES BAKER AS SLANDERER

Roosevelt Sizes Him Up as Exquisitely Unfit; Amiable Pacifist

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 24.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt here last night after a rapid-fire trip through Albuquerque denounced Secretary of War Baker for the latter's reported comparison of Washington's soldiers with Mexican revolutionists and criticized the President for putting Secretary Baker in the Cabinet in the first place and for keeping him there after the reported comparison. "When men occupy an improper and unpatriotic position and seek to justify themselves by precedents from the past it is almost impossible for them to avoid misrepresenting the facts they desire to quote in their favor," the Colonel said. "Mr. Baker is an amiable pacifist, who, I do not doubt, could render respectable service along other lines, but he is exquisitely unfit for his present position. "Mr. Baker has been engaged recently on several occasions in the defense of Mr. Wilson. His effort is to defend Mr. Wilson's attitude toward Carranza and the Mexican bandits generally by alleging that Washington and his soldiers stood on substantially the same level. He is by no means as astute as Mr. Wilson, but he is more sincere and straightforward. "He certainly understands nothing of efficiency in war, and it is now apparent that he regards all wars as standing on the same level of infamy and all soldiers as equally disreputable. Among his recent exploits was an elaborate comparison of Washington and his followers and soldiers in the Revolutionary War with Carranza and the other bandits who are responsible for the present witches' Sabbath in Mexico. "This statement of Mr. Baker's acquiescence in the silence of Mr. Wilson," said Colonel Roosevelt, "shows that Mr. Wilson in his heart believes that Washington was not better than Villa or Carranza; that the men of the Revolution stood on a level with the miscreant crew who, during the last three years and a half in Mexico, have ravaged by the hundreds and thousands, and Mexicans by the tens of thousands. "These men have perpetrated every species of outrage upon women and children and have turned all Mexico into a hell of starvation, disease and misery; they have done this with the active or passive assistance of the American government under the leadership of Mr. Wilson and his cabinet officer who now defends them by the foulest slander on the men who made us a nation. HOW TO GET RID OF WRINKLES

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way, That Produces Marvelous Results Without Plasters, Face Steaming or Masks of Any Kind

By Winifred Grace Forrest Some women think that the use of an ordinary face cream is an aid to beauty, said a noted English Beauty Specialist, when, as a matter of fact, a great majority of the grease creams contain animal fats which are positively injurious. Greaseless creams, too, are even worse, for they are generally made from stearic acid which dries, chaps and wrinkles the skin often making it loose and flabby. Creams of this kind drive the blood away from the surface of the skin, giving it a pale, sallow look and often clog the pores, producing pimples and blackheads. Every woman realizes these days that beauty is her greatest asset and that it is her duty to enhance it by every means. Her skin, however, common sense must be her guide. No woman would think of using stearic acid or common lard to nourish her body, yet thousands of women apply them to their face daily. They know their skin requires nourishment of some kind, but few know what to use. If you have facial blemishes of any kind, are pale, sallow, or wrinkled, or if your skin has a tendency to your dry, loose or flabby, you owe it to yourself to make the following test which will give you as fair a skin as you could possibly wish for. Take your hand mirror to the window and examine your face closely, noticing carefully the wrinkles, the condition of your skin, whether loose or flabby and your natural tendency to facial blemishes. Next apply a generous amount of Amonized cocoa over your entire face and neck, massage it into the skin with the finger tips for about two minutes and then wipe off the surplus with a soft, dry cloth. You have seen hundreds of women with wrinkled, flabby skin and those with enlarged pores and unsightly facial blemishes, every one of these complexion ills and transform themselves into beautiful and charming people, simply by using this Amonized cocoa once a day as I have ex-
