CRACKED PLATE CAUSE OF FIGHT

Lively Times in Dining Room When Dickinson Professor Loses His Temper

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 25.—Enraged at the fancied slight when a cracked and chipped dinner plate was placed before him last evening, Prof. G. Lafayette Cram, assistant instructor of German and French at Dickinson college, began a small riot in the state dining hall of Conway hall, and engaged in fistfights with two other professors, finally being overpowered through the efforts of the big star fullback of the Conway football team. Prof. Cram came to Carlisle about one month ago from New York City. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto and obtained a master's degree from Columbia University. His small daughter accompanied him to Carlisle and they have been living at Conway hall.

Fall Down Stairs Causes Elizabethville Woman's Death

Elizabethville, Pa., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth Van Newkirk, aged 85 years, died at the home of her daughter, Kirk, her grandson, in East Main street, yesterday as the result of a fall down a flight of stairs. Last Thursday evening while walking from her room she fell headlong down the stairs. It was not supposed at the time that she sustained internal injuries, but they proved fatal yesterday. Mrs. Van Newkirk was a widow and formerly lived at Newport. For several years she had made her home here with her son, John Van Newkirk, and her grandson, Edgar, at whose home she died. The body will be taken to Newport, where burial will be made on Friday.

Abandon Efforts to Shorten Ten Commandments; Go on Record Against Rum

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25.—Efforts to shorten the Ten Commandments have been abandoned at the present session of the convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, leaders announced. Until the next convention, in 1919, at least, the delegates will stand as it is. A commission appointed to suggest methods of revision of the book of common prayer favored the shortening of five of the commandments by the elimination of the reasons. Members of the commission asserted today, however, that this suggestion would not be pressed. Discussion of other phases of the proposed revision was to be resumed late today. The lower house adopted the report on the lectionary, which urged the shortening of many of the Sunday school lessons.

On Record Against Rum

For the first time in the history of the church, according to well-informed leaders, a stand on the liquor traffic was taken here yesterday in the general convention. A resolution adopted by the house of deputies placed the church on record as favoring legislative action in our legislative assemblies as well preserve the interests of temperance and the repression of the liquor traffic. The action was an outgrowth of a memorial asking the convention to record itself as favoring nation-wide prohibition, submitted by the church temperance society through Francis L. Stetson, of New York.

TINY GIRL SMILES AT JUDGES' ORDER

Tearful Throughout Habeas Corpus Session, Little Granddaughter Finally Laughs

Not until Dauphin's judges had gravely pronounced the last word today in the long legal controversy to determine into whose keeping she should be placed did the 8-year-old Evaline E. Walters smile.

Both Judges Kuntze and McCarrell were the bench today to hear the habeas corpus proceeding instituted by aged Solomon Wadswade, of Hampden township, Cumberland county, for the recovery of his small granddaughter Evaline, who had been practically kidnaped by her father, Simon P. Walters, while the little girl was on her way home from school. The child has been living with her grandparents since she was 2 years old. Recently her father remarried and wanted the girl to live with him. She objected; so did the grandparents, for a number of reasons. One day Walters drove to the schoolhouse and endeavored to persuade his daughter to accompany him to his home in Penbrook; she refused; he grabbed her in his arms and drove off. Throughout the hearing this morning the little girl sobbed convulsively on the witness stand and she firmly, if tearfully, held to one childish phrase: "Just let me go to granny—I want my granny!" Back in the courtroom a gray-haired grandmother hid her tears and smiled encouragement. Eventually the judges gravely conferred and then issued the order that turned the little girl back to the custody of her grandparents. And Evaline smiled.

Let Bridge Contract

Whittaker & Diehl won the contract to build a new concrete bridge across the creek a mile and a half north of Progress when the County Commissioners opened bids at noon today. The winning bid was for $13,341 for the job, $1,500 for cubic yard for extra excavating and $12 per yard for additional concrete. The Ferro-Concrete Company bid $4,115, $2,500 and $14, respectively; W. C. Ensign, Inc. bid on a lump sum for $4,011.50. Murphy & Sons bid was rejected because the requirements for filing bid and certified check to $5,000 had not been complied with. Whittaker & Diehl will be required to build the bridge within sixty working days.

Humane Societies Go on Record For Legislation Against Live Bird Shoots

FRANK B. RUTHERFORD At the annual meeting to-day of the Federated Humane Societies of Pennsylvania important legislation was discussed. The ninth annual session opened this morning in the parlors of the Commonwealth Hotel, Frank B. Rutherford, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, presiding. Included among the recommendations were the following: Law prohibiting the shooting of pigeons at live bird shoots; good roads, with a provision for a separate road for horse-drawn vehicles along the side of the main roads; compelling all vehicles to carry lights at night, and urging greater activity in the interest of humane education.
