Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is so intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Farnum's (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucous stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

FOREIGN POLICIES ARE FAIR TARGETS

Patriotism Does Not "Stop at Water's Edge" if Partisanship Does

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27. — Efforts of Democratic politicians to silence discussion of President Wilson's conduct of foreign affairs in the present campaign were sharply denounced in an official statement issued by Chairman Willcox, of the Republican national committee, in Washington.

Attention is called to the slogan of the Democrats that "politics end at the water's edge." This attempt to prevent attacks upon the weak and vacillating foreign policy of the administration is designated by Mr. Willcox as "the whining cry of Democratic leaders," and it is pointed out that the public itself has repudiated the plea for quarter.

Mr. Willcox's statement says: "The shallowest of partisan pleas, the frankest confession of weakness imaginable, the cry has been raised in the desperate hope of avoiding the necessity of pleading to an indictment. But desperate as it has been, it has been a cunning plea for all that.

Americans Patriotic

"If there be one thing to which an American responds more quickly than another it is the call of patriotism. The attempt of Democratic spokesmen, from Woodrow Wilson down, to belittle the issues growing out of the bungling of our foreign relations during the past three and a half years was covered, like a quinine pill, by a coating of sugar.

"Fully realizing the weakness of Democratic defenses on the issue of foreign blundering, Democratic managers and spellbinders craftily endeavored to distract the attention of the people from the holes in the armor by seeking to make it appear that any criticism of Wilsonism was criticism of the Government—and, hence, criticism of the United States.

"The fearlessness of Republican attack upon this false and pernicious theory will stand out when the history of the campaign of 1916 is written, as one of the most serviceable achievements in American political life.

"It has been conducted with a thoroughness that has completely demolished and exposed to contempt the device of the Democratic argument, until now the enlightened voter understands that full and fearless criticism of an administration for its mismanagement of our relations with other nations is actually obligatory upon all intelligent citizens and is the very essence of patriotism.

Lodge Well Posted

"This has been demonstrated most clearly by Senator Lodge in his speech before the Republican State convention of Massachusetts. Ranking member of the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate, author of the Magdalena Bay resolution, the most important amendment to the Monroe Doctrine ever adopted, and one of the foremost authorities in the country on international law, Senator Lodge is peculiarly able to explain the relation of foreign affairs to the present campaign. He showed in his Boston speech that it was President Wilson who dragged the foreign affairs of the nation into partisan politics by pursuing a policy of constant shifting designed to meet the political exigencies of the moment.

"In what I am about to say concerning foreign relations, said Senator Lodge, 'I do not criticize the President because he is a Democrat and I am a Republican, for in dealing with foreign relations I have at no time since I have been in public life approached them in a party spirit, and so long as I continue to hold the commission of Massachusetts I shall never do so.

"In the many shifts and changes made by this administration in international relations, it would have been impossible that at some point in their movement they should not have occupied the right ground. The President, like Mrs. Witterly, 'forms and expresses an immense variety of opinions on an immense variety of subjects.' He can hardly fail, under the circumstances, to be right occasionally, and when he has been right he has had my support.

"That sums up the Republican position with regard to foreign affairs. When the President has been right Republicans have supported him as the head of the Government upholding the national prestige when the President has been wrong Republicans have opposed him as the head of the Government engaged in prostituting the Government and lowering the national prestige. Republicans have not supported him 'through thick and thin,' for while that would be loyalty to Wilson it were treason to America. Politics does end at the water's edge—patriotism does not.

Claims Bad Lands Are Rolled East in Rum Barrels

Norwich, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Bad Lands of this country are no longer located in the New West, but have been rolled in liquor barrels to the Old Northwest. Ira Landrith, the Prohibition vice-presidential nominee, told New York crowds yesterday when the "dry" special train again entered this state from Pennsylvania.

"The very frontiers of civilization," he said, "have been rolled in rum barrels from the wild and woolly West, now dry and law-abiding, to the Deadwoods and Dodge Cities, the Leadvilles and Buttes, the Cripple Creeks and Boises of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, New York, New Jersey and the land of the Pilgrim Fathers."

Norwegian Steamer Is Reported Taken to Germany

London, Oct. 27. — It is now reported that the Norwegian mail steamship from Bergen for New Castle, which, according to advices received yesterday was stopped by a German warship, has been taken to a German port, although it has no cargo aboard. Several of the steamers have been searched but this is the first actual seizure.

TIME SOUND DEFLECTOR PROTECTS CITY FROM FOG HORNS

At the Buffalo Light station on Lake Erie a large deflector has been erected behind the fog horns to protect the city from the deep, penetrating sounds of the powerful instruments when they are in service. The device is described in the November Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is about fourteen feet in diameter and shell having a four-inch packing of mineral wool between it and a facing of asbestos board. The device is attached firmly to the roof of the building and forms a backing for the megaphones. The device is reported to have proved efficient not only in minimizing the volume of sound spreading back across the city, but also in rendering the signals more distinct to navigators.

BULLET-PROOF JACKETS LINED WITH STEEL

In many instances—the evolution of modern military uniforms and arms has been marked by a return to types of ancient and medieval days. Perhaps the steel helmet is the most striking example of this tendency. Now a London firm has patented and is manufacturing a steel-lined officer's jacket which suggests the old coats of mail, though in outward appearance it resembles an ordinary close-fitting coat. It is claimed that the jackets will resist a forty-five-caliber revolver bullet at twenty yards.

BERLIN PAPER FAMINE OVER

Berlin, Oct. 26, via London, Oct. 27. — The threatened paper famine which months ago caused cries of distress among the publishers, appears now to be a thing of the past. Claiming a shortage of labor and high wages, the manufacturers have sharply advanced prices since the outbreak of the war and the publishers several months ago reduced the number of pages to save expenses.
