WORMLEYSBURG FOR CENTRAL HIGH

School Board of West Shore Borough Issues Strong Statement to Voters

Wormleysburg, Pa., Oct. 27.—The Wormleysburg School Board has taken the first step in advertising the proposed West Shore Central High School by issuing a statement to their voters, explaining clearly what Wormleysburg must do to secure the improvement. The board also plans to hold a mass meeting in the town hall next Thursday evening. The statement issued to-day by the board follows: "Our present High School is a high school of the third class, with a two-year course. The terms are of 8 months' duration. Last year it cost the school district $1,175 to maintain it. This sum includes the tuition of two pupils who attended the Harrisburg High school. (Pupils who graduate from a school of the second or third class, have the privilege, under existing laws to complete their education at a first-class high school, at the expense of their school district. This right and this expense cannot be evaded by the directors of the district. The tuition in Harrisburg is $71.25 per term, for each scholar from an outside district. "The 1917 graduating class of the Wormleysburg High school includes nine scholars. If these scholars take advantage allowed them by the law, and complete their education in the Harrisburg High school, it will increase the expense $641.25, which will bring the cost of maintaining our High school up to over $1,800 a year, which will require an additional tax of three mills to meet the increased expense. This would make the school tax fourteen mills. The school directors are powerless to prevent this increase. The law prescribes their duties and they are lawfully bound to perform them. This expense will probably become higher the following year. "To participate in the new joint High school of the first-class it is proposed to issue bonds to the amount of $7,000 bearing five per cent. interest, redeemable in thirty years. The expense each year would be: Interest on bonds, $350; sinking fund to redeem bonds, $235; estimated cost to maintain two pupils' present (present number) in joint High school, $1,056; total, $1,681. "According to the above estimate, which we consider conservative, it would cost the school district about one mill less than to continue under our present system. However, the cost might possibly be about the same. "The new school would enable the pupils to complete their High school course within four years in our own schools. As it is they must attend the Wormleysburg High school two years and then go to Harrisburg where they have to drop back a year on account of our term being shorter. In this way they must attend the Wormleysburg High school two years and the Harrisburg High school for three years to get a first-class High school education, under present conditions, and it costs the district to keep the pupil in school five years, where it would only cost for four years, if we had a joint High school. "Other West Shore school boards are expected to follow the Wormleysburg body. A mass meeting will be held in the Methodist Church at West Fairview next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. W. Kelsio Green, superintendent of the public schools of Cumberland county and William M. Denison of the State Educational Department, will speak.
