

CENTRAL'S FIRST HARD BATTLE IS WITH STEELTON TO-DAY--IMPORTANT GAMES

WHO'S WHO WITH COLLEGE TEAMS

Today's Gridiron Battles Important; Close Watch on Harvard and Cornell

New York, Oct. 28.—The football season in the east reaches high noon to-day. The games played will give a pretty fair idea of who's who among the eleven this side of the Alleghenies. The Harvard-Cornell game at Cambridge heads the list in view of the fact that Cornell last year claimed the eastern championship and her team this year is said to be a worthy successor of the eleven which defeated Harvard a year ago by a score of 10 to 0.

All Have Hard Games
All the big colleges have hard games to-day. Princeton, whose eleven is said to be further advanced than the present moment than any other in the east, expects a victory over Dartmouth at Princeton. The University of Pennsylvania students are not so confident of success in their contest with the University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. Yale meets Washington and Jefferson, at New Haven, eager to wipe out the defeats of the last two seasons.

Britsch Back in Line-up For Harrisburg Academy

Reading, Oct. 28.—The first home game of the season for the Schuylkill Seminary eleven was played with the Harrisburg Academy eleven at the Circus Maximus this afternoon. The past week many changes in the seminary line-up, all of which will strengthen the team. Hyden has been shifted to left half, in place of Pawling, who will play center. Schnabel was shifted to guard from center, while Palm will fill Hyden's place at right tackle. Coach Pawling has put the Orange and Black squad through a hard practice the past week. Every man is in the pink of condition. The teams will line-up as follows:

Finley.....L. G.....Cuthbert

LOCAL RIFLE SHOOTERS WHO WERE ROMINENT IN FLORIDA MATCHES

Members of the Harrisburg Rifle Association who competed in the National rifle matches in Florida, more than made good. As newcomers they were not expected to get into the running with the more experienced shooters who have been attending these contests for several years. Winning fourth place was won honor. All the local shooters figured in high scores in the Civilian class. The picture at the top shows local shooters who figured in winning fourth place. They are, reading from left to right: S. W. Wittenmyer, Bruce Knight, Phil Schwartz, McNary, Unger, Captain Thompson, Enterville. The lower picture shows, from left to right: Mackey, Swartz and Knight on the firing line. The photographs were taken by M. B. Dougherty, who is a member of the local squad.

RURAL CARRIERS ARE UP IN ARMS

Conditions in Cumberland Are Much Worse Than Described

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 28.—The item appearing in last evening's Telegraph by a staff correspondent relating to postal conditions in Cumberland county was all true, but it did not go deeply enough into the situation as the people of this county know it. Conditions are really much worse than were painted. The writer did not know the hardships to which the people of the rural districts have been placed since postoffices were blotted out in wholesale manner and rural routes lengthened so that mail is now delivered hours later than at any time since a beneficent Republican administration established the rural routes. The rural carriers, of course, dare not voice their sentiments openly, but most of them carry around on their inside pockets a pamphlet the text of which is "Remember—A Vote for Wilson is a Vote for Burleson and Blakelock."

Put the rural carriers do not need to be reminded of what they have suffered at the hands of the Wilson administration. They will tell anybody whom they think will not carry tales that they resent the unsuccessful attempt of Burleson and Blakelock to put the rural service on a contract basis. They also feel that they have been injured by the abolition of many rural routes, giving those remaining increased duties without increase of pay. This advance in pay, by the way, was appropriated by Congress, but was withheld by the great "friend of labor," Woodrow Wilson, and his appointees. Another matter that has gotten under the skins of the Cumberland carriers is that scores of rural mail men the country over have been dismissed in defiance of civil service laws in order to make places for "deserving Democrats." Also, the Cumberland people have not forgotten that these "friends of labor" refused absolutely to confer with officers of the National Letter Carriers' Association upon the needs of the service in this and other districts. It is all very well for Democrats to tell the voters that the hardships placed upon the people of Cumberland by the abolition of rural routes and the cutting off of post offices long established were merely intended to do away with "Republican extravagances," but the voters will not forget that while the Democrats were cutting the throat of the postal service and bleeding it to death in Cumberland county they were pouring out millions upon millions of dollars for the erection of magnificent post offices in little Southern towns hardly big enough to be on the map and for the deepening of creeks for steamboat purposes not nearly so deep or wide as the Yellow Breeches or the Conodoguinet. Nor are they going to forget on election day how they have been treated in the past four years.

LABOR UNION MAN TAKES GOMPERS TO TASK

true, then in the name of God will Mr. Gompers, Mr. Wilson or someone else tell us why we have lost good American lives in Vera Cruz, and then withdrawn, defeated as it were, and why our troops were sent across the southwestern border, only to be fired upon, and many killed by Mexican forces, and then again withdrawn? Will they tell us why some 150,000 of our people were called into the United States service and still kept on the border, away from their homes, their loved ones and families? Will they tell us why we have been compelled to pay a war tax? Did either of these gentlemen ever hear of a government calling to arms the home-loving, peaceable citizens of their country, and levying a war tax, all at a time when they were at peace with the world? If we are not at war, then explain to the thousands of wives, mothers, fathers and friends why there are so many of our boys on the Mexican border to-day, and why the war tax? Tell us, Mr. Gompers, pray tell us!

The Labor Vote
I do not undertake to advise the American working man how to vote. He knows his own mind best, and is intelligent enough to make his own ballot to the best interest of himself, his family and his fellowman, but as one who has fought labor's battles, I again protest against such a might say—order from "Sam" Gompers.
Mr. Gompers no doubt has his reasons for making such a statement as attributed to him through the press, but I ask the members of the great labor movement, do you know Mr. Gompers? Has he ever taken part in any of your great struggles—strikes if you will? Was he ever on the ground floor when the guns of the oppression were fired on you? Was he ever on the picket-line during the early hours of the morning, persuading others to join you in your struggle for the uplifting of the human race? Has he ever faced the ordeal of court trials in defense of labor? Let him answer, and you will find that the thirty some years during which he has graced the office of president of the American Federation of Labor all he did was to act as its president between the office of said organization and a New York hotel, except while playing with the larger politicians at Washington.

To the labor people of this country I would say, listen to your national district and local officers, follow their advice and I assure you that you will not go astray. Keep your organization within the bounds of the labor question, shorter hours, increased pay, and better working conditions. Then vote for the man whom in your opinion will do the greatest good for the greatest number. I will agree with Mr. Gompers in part of his letter. Wage workers cannot afford to lose their rights and opportunities through negligence and inaction. Meet, discuss the great issue to be decided on November 7 and cast your vote as your conscience directs for labor, justice, freedom and humanity, and when you do that, remember that Mr. Wilson and his commander-in-chief has as much regard for you as a hungry lion would have for that tired out body of yours should he come in contact with you in the wilds of Africa, and at the same time forget the appeal of our worthy president, Samuel Gompers.

JOHN P. GALLAGHER, Ex-Secretary-Treasurer District No. 7, (Anthracite) United Mine Workers of America.

LOCAL TEAMS ARE DOING FINE WORK

Results Today Figure in Season's Championship; Central Has Hard Foe

When the whistles of the referees blow at Greensburg and at Island Park this afternoon football enthusiasts who are watching the triangular high school fight again this year will begin to pick their favorite for the season champion.

Three-day battles mean much to the three elevens, Tech, Central and Steelton. Last Saturday Tech defeated Steelton, 10 to 0, Central and Steelton are battling hard this afternoon, both teams on edge for a victory. The big game for Tech for the midseason is the scrap with Greensburg High.

For years the heavy western eleven has gone through season after season with long strings of victories, defeating many larger school teams by scores as high as 57 to 0. Two years ago Tech lost its first game with Greensburg, 38 to 0, and last year lost again, 7 to 0.

This year the western eleven has not been playing the usual high caliber football of former years and has been scored on in each of the first three games. Tech, however, has three decisive victories. The first was the defeat of Lebanon, 25 to 0. The second victim was Easton, Tech winning, 14 to 0. This was Easton's first defeat in three years. Last Saturday Tech added its third game, and now the players play with a determination to keep the slate clean this year and win every game.

Steelton's Record
Steelton won two of its three games to date. Dickinson College Freshmen lost, 53 to 7, and Stevens Trade lost, 33 to 0. Tech handed Steelton a setback by winning last Saturday, but Coach Taggart has been working his players hard for the game to-morrow. Central has won two and tied two of its games. Lancaster fell first, 6 to 0; Johnstown, Tech's next opponent, was held to scoreless ties, and Stevens Trade was swamped last week, 92 to 7, a record score for a Central eleven.

Harrisburg Academy Strong
Harrisburg Academy has been looming up this season as a bidder for football honors in the preparatory school class. Dickinson College Freshmen held the Academy students, as the Harrisburg eleven, with a number of ex-high school stars, are winning by large scores. Lykens lost first, 43 to 7; 27 to 7, and the Baltimore Friends School, confident of victory, lost last Saturday, 33 to 0. Schuylkill Seminary will play a return game here to-day.

STILL IN CONFERENCE
Chicago, Oct. 28.—The conferences among major league baseball club owners which have been held here for the last two days, in which Garry Herrmann, of Cincinnati, chairman of the National Commission and B. B. Johnson, president of the American League and member of the commission have been active were continued to-day. No information regarding the object of the conferences has been given out by any officials.

FIST FIGHT AT FOOTBALL GAME
Jackson, Miss., Oct. 28.—A fight in which players on both sides and more than 100 spectators participated broke up the Tulane-Mississippi College game here yesterday shortly after the fourth period had started. The game was called as soon as the police could restore quiet and the official scorekeeper declared Tulane the victor, 13 to 3. No one was seriously hurt.

WELLY'S CORNER

Everybody in Harrisburg who is a real sport and enjoys football expected to be at Island Park to-day. Steelton was also a deserted town. The explanation: Central and Steelton elevens were fighting it out on the gridiron.

There is no denying the fact that local elevens have been cutting quite a figure in football this season. Three victories to-day will tighten the grip for season's honors. None of the games were likely to be a walkover for Harrisburg players.

Bowling is increasing in popularity. This season finds at least a half dozen more leagues in action. The season has not yet warmed up and it looks like a record year for this sport.

Once more it is the belief that the National and American leagues will have a hand to hand conflict. Just now Ban Johnson is getting his warning from President John K. Tener. The American leader, in the opinion of many sport writers has always been a distributing element.

Frank Seiss, secretary of the Harrisburg New York State League club is out for a change in the name of the league. He tried out the mag-nates at Syracuse but they would not adhere to it. It was not the time for a change. He started the good work and when the league meets in Harrisburg in January there will be something doing.

Plans have been completed for a one-day Bogey event at Reservoir Park. It will be under the direction of the Harrisburg Park Golf Club and will take place Tuesday November 7, election day. The tourney will be open to all members and play will start in the morning.

caused a little Crimson uneasiness. It was in the kicking game that Cornell enthusiasts looked for the Ithacan's greatest gains. Harvard, poor in this department of play, placed its reliance in a varied rushing offense, with forward pass maneuvers. Shiverick was marked before the game as Cornell's probable star; Casey was the player upon whom Harvard coaches depended most.
