

What does the Future Hold?

Is it strength or weakness? A comfortable life, or one filled with aches and pains? The secret of comfortable old age is the right use of healthful youth and strong middle age. You cannot abuse or neglect your body now and avoid the penalty later.

Catarh, indigestion and constipation are the three great American evils that lead to serious diseases. None of them in itself is dangerous, but they are the forerunners of worse. The right way to do is to check them at the beginning, overcome them quickly, and keep them off.

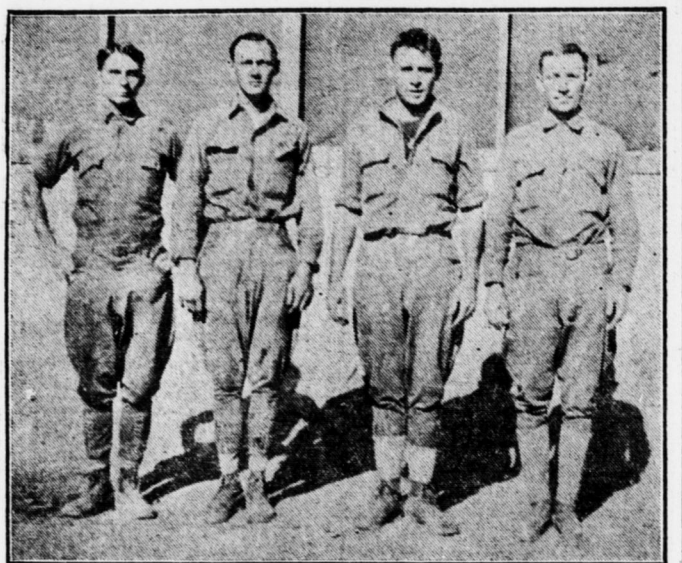

The Work of Peruna

This is the work Peruna has done for forty-five years. While it has accomplished remarkable results in the relief of chronic diseases, it is as a quick treatment for incipient disorders and as a tonic for weakened conditions that its best record lies. Thousands have been relieved of chronic catarrh; tens of thousands have been freed from the danger of contracting it. Tablet or liquid form—both good.

THE PERUNA COMPANY, . . . Columbus, Ohio

MEN ON BORDER LONGING TO GET HOME

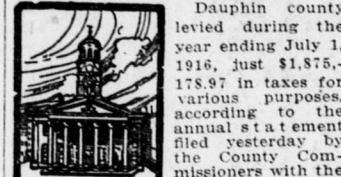

"We long to get back home to our work and families as we cannot see that we are needed here any more."

TOTALED MILLION

Report of All Dauphin Finances Completed For State by the County Commissioners

Dauphin county levied during the year ending July 1, 1916, just $1,875,178.97 in taxes for various purposes, according to an annual statement filed yesterday by the County Commissioners with the State Department of Internal Affairs.

Of this big sum $1,328,902.85 was levied in Harrisburg alone. The comparison with last year's report shows a substantial increase in revenues, too; the county tax levy for all purposes in 1915 was $1,726,982.45. Harrisburg alone contributing $1,107,770.15 of that total.

The levy in the whole county for street improvement, roads, bridges, etc., during the year just closed was $60,726.85, of which $47,188.05 was the city's in 1915, however $640,740.91 was levied in the entire county for a similar purpose, and to this sum the city's contribution was $478,083.03. School tax levy for the present year throughout the county was $818,656.06, $561,470.11 having been contributed by the city, as against the county's total of $698,155.66 last year. Harrisburg alone levied $428,525.57 last year.

During the year now closing Dauphin county as a whole appropriated $70,572.12 to care for its poor as against $63,609.31 in 1915. In all $81,686.54 was provided for bridges, etc., while in 1915 $75,745.25 was expended for this purpose.

Dauphin's Collector.—Dauphin borough has a tax collector at last. W. A. Ballew, gathered for some months of the month and school tax levy day appointed yesterday by the Dauphin county court as county tax collector.

$307 to Grade Brookwood Street.—Grading and paving Brookwood street from Benton to Twenty-fourth streets cost $307.50, according to a report confirmed by the Dauphin county court yesterday.

Unable to Handle Estate.—After hearing testimony practically all day as to the mental ability of Mrs. Carrie E. Parsons to handle her business affairs the Dauphin county court late yesterday decided she was fully able to do so and dismissed the petition for a guardian for the woman at the cost of the plaintiff, Mrs. Stella B. Lee, Mrs. Parsons' niece.

KNIGHTS PYTHIAS GIVE MASQUERADE

John Harris Lodge Entertains in Old-Time Hallowe'en Style

Jolly fun and lots of it, fine music and a merry crowd made the first of the annual masquerade socials and dance of the Knights of Pythias a big success.

The John Harris Lodge, No. 193, Knights of Pythias held their Hallowe'en social and dance in their hall at 1355 Howard street last evening. The Froelich orchestra furnished the music for the dancers who "tripped on light, fantastic toe," from 8.30 until 11.30 o'clock.

The entertainment committee of the order who entirely planned and arranged the affair, even to decorating the room, included: H. D. Keel, chairman; Charles W. Erb, C. A. Bowman, J. H. Bentler and John W. Bowman.

The masqueraders had a grand march following which prizes of two dollar and a half gold pieces were awarded for the best and cleverest masquerade. The lady's prize for the fanciest costume was awarded to Mrs. J. B. Colestock; the man's prize for this costume to Raleigh Evans. Mrs. Laren Wolf won the prize for the most comical masquerade of the ladies and Charles W. Erb, of the men's makeups. The prizes were awarded by a committee from the Carthage Lodge, of Steelton, which included: E. R. Jenkins, Edward Lewis and Charles Arnold.

The ballroom was cleverly decorated, with a color scheme of yellow predominating. From the cornstalks along the wall, tiny green and white lights shone casting a soft glow over the dancers. But there were also witches and a ceiling with yellow hangings—and the most unique thing of all—a real, "sure nuff" skeleton standing in a black case who welcomed the guests.

A buffet supper of apples, cider and old-fashioned gingerbread—the regular Hallowe'en menu was served to the three hundred and fifty guests.

STUDENTS SMOKE AND PLAN DANCE

Penn State Collegians Inaugurate Freshmen to Weed; Unique "Ad" Campaign

State College, Pa., Oct. 31.—Dauphin countians turned out very numerous on Saturday night when the Harrisburg Club of State Collegians gave its annual reception and smoker in honor of the freshmen who are enrolled in this institution from Harrisburg and vicinity.

President Patterson had charge of a snappy business meeting preceding the "feed" in which a number of important matters were discussed by the club. Upwards of seventy-five men were present.

One of the subjects that called for quite a bit of discussion was the showing in Harrisburg of several reels of motion pictures taken up and about the college buildings and campus. The date is to be set later probably in the Spring. Just before Easter. This is one of the means the club will take to advertise the college among the high school students of Harrisburg and vicinity.

The Harrisburg Club is among the foremost organizations of its kind in the college and is a leader both in membership and activities. This is evidenced in the fact that a prominent faculty member will be obtained to address the club in future meetings which from now on will be held on the first Saturday evening of each month.

Further steps were taken in preparing for the annual university dance to be held in Winterdale Harrisburg, during Christmas vacation under the auspices of this club. President Patterson announced the appointment of the committee on arrangements as follows: George W. Bowman, '17, chairman; H. C. Houtz, '17; William Hesser, '17; C. B. Patterson, '17; Carson McAllister, '18; R. R. Rinkenbach, '18; A. P. Miller, '18; Lloyd Ebner, '19, and Edward Moelein, '18.

Subjects were offered concerning the club's entering the social life of the college by holding a dance of its own here in the village sometime during the winter. The matter will be considered by a committee.

"Complexion Secrets Of An Actress"

In a recently issued volume bearing the above title, the author says: "Continuous use of gray paints, rouge and the like, had ruined my complexion. My skin was colorless, wrinkled, coarse and punctured with large pits. While abroad I heard of the virtues of mercerized wax, my first experience with this marvelous substance convinced me it was more valuable than all cosmetics combined. Now whenever my complexion begins to go wrong I get an ounce of mercerized wax at the nearest drug store, spread on a thin layer of it before retiring, washing it off next morning. The wax, after a few such treatments, seems literally to absorb the worn-out cuticle, when a brighter, healthier, younger-looking skin appears. For the wrinkles and enlarged pores I began to use a solution of salolite, one ounce dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this every day for a while soon relieved the condition most wonderfully."—Advertisement.

World Must Be Delivered of Militaristic Nightmare Which Now Envelops It

Cremona, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 30.—"The redemption of our land, the restoration of Belgium, restitution to France of all her territory, reintegration of Serbia and the deliverance of Rumanians from the Hungarian yoke are involved in victory of the allies, but that is not all," said Leonida Brasolati-Bergavachi, minister without portfolio leader of the Reform Socialists and member of the Chamber of Deputies, speaking at a commemoration of the execution of Dr. Cesare Battisti by the Austrians.

"It must also insure the deliverance of Europe and the world from the nightmare which now envelops it," continued the minister, "and will not be gained unless those who have broken the peace of the world are made powerless to renew their designs. We must break off at the hit the weapon of this barbarous militarism which has been the mainspring of a horrible conspiracy against peace. That weapon is the Austro-Hungarian empire. While that monstrous aggregation of negation and of oppression of all nationalities except Germans and Magyars exists imperial Germany can always make a tool of it and use its enormous power to obtain vengeance.

Dr. Cesare Battisti, a deputy from Trent, Austria, was executed by the Austrian authorities in July last after agitation for the liberation of Trent and Trieste.

ASTHMA SUFFERER

Write to-day, I will tell you, free of charge, of a simple home treatment for asthma which cured me after physicians and change of climate failed. I have a grateful letter for my present good health, after years of suffering, that want everyone to know of this wonderful treatment. Mrs. Nellie Evans, 555, P-11, Des Moines, Iowa.

CONSULAR FORCE IS HARD HIT

In Urgent Need of Financial Assistance Because of High Cost of Living Due to War

Washington, Oct. 31.—Urgent need of financial assistance for American consular officers and clerical assistants in Europe obliged because of the greatly increased cost of living since the war to pay three times or more normal peace time prices for foodstuffs and personal necessities, is shown in reports received by the State Department. Almost without exception these show that what was regarded before the war as an attractive salary, is now barely sufficient to provide food and the bare necessities.

The $150,000 allowance given by Congress as a war fund to be distributed to consular officers to meet increased demands, has been allotted and the department is now without means of extending further relief. No provision was made for the salaries of clerks and other employees and except for a few whose salaries have been increased, no assistance has been given.

Department records show there are about 600 employees in the European consular service whose salaries are $1,000 a year and less, in most instances, these are natives employed as clerks, stenographers or similar positions, whose expenses are naturally less than those of the American employees. The number of Americans in this grade of employment is estimated at about 150 and they feel most the need of financial assistance.

Estimates are being prepared of amounts that will be needed to provide the desired assistance to be submitted to Congress probably in December.

Nowhere in the war zone has the cost of living not been affected, and in some localities it has increased as much as six times what it was before the war.

SWEDEN IN DIFFICULT POSITION

London, Oct. 31.—"Sweden is in a very difficult position," said the Swedish foreign minister, K. A. Wallenberg, in an interview with the Stockholm correspondent of the Chronicle on Swedish trade and neutrality. He spoke optimistically of the prospect of improved trade relations with Great Britain.

Attacked the President

RICHARD CULLEN

Richard Cullen, a young mechanic of Pittsburgh, dashed after the auto of President Wilson in Pittsburgh the other day and was knocked from the running board several times by a secret service man. There was no evidence he meant to injure the President. It has since been found he is insane.

WHAT THE MERCHANT GETS BY CO-OPERATING WITH THE CREDIT BUREAU

He gets the combined ledger experience of the entire business community on his customers and prospective customers. He gets the services of a man who will give him telephone reports in detail on each particular rating, thus insuring him the very best and up-to-date information for his guidance in granting credit. A card file will be kept in the central office upon which ratings will be changed daily, according to whether a man becomes more prompt or slower in his paying habits.

He gets a Credit Guide of Harrisburg and vicinity compiled from the past experiences of the businessmen, showing how everyone has been paying his bills together with the number of places each person has been dealing. Supplements will be issued frequently by the central office so that he will have on his desk at all times the latest revision of every man's rating.

He gets the united action of all businessmen to protect each other and so place the granting of credit on a scientific basis. By concerted action you get the best collecting medium ever established for collecting delinquent accounts and you do it yourselves.

You get all of this and much more, and you get it at a cost that is within the reach of the smallest merchant.

TWO HUNDRED businessmen are now supporting this movement and ask your co-operation.

VARIED ACTIVITIES AT MASONIC HOMES

Men's Choir of Stevens M. E. Church Sings For Guests; Judge O'Conner Pays Visit

The guests of the Masonic Home, Elizabethtown, through the kindness of Perseverance Lodge, No. 21, of Harrisburg, Pa., had a rare musical treat Sunday afternoon when the Men's Choir of the Stevens Memorial church led the singing.

John N. Perego, Worshipful Master of Perseverance Lodge, presided at the services. Mrs. Carl Heefner sang a solo, and a duet was sung by Mrs. Heefner and Mrs. H. G. Pedlow.

The chorus, under the leadership of George W. Sweigart was composed of the following: W. S. Meek, L. H. Smith, I. Guy Stickle, R. M. Wolfe, W. S. Fishel, Frank P. Bealor, J. Robert Champion, Carl Heefner, Geo. Ritter, David C. Gotwals, A. C. Fullweider, A. H. Stokel, M. M. Towney, Ross K. Bergstreser, Gordon Berkstreser, Fred Palzer, W. F. Steever, P. H. Bailey, A. K. Thomas, H. G. Pedlow, John N. Perego, Frank B. Sansman, E. N. Hershey, John A. Freeman and G. W. Sweigart.

Last Tuesday the homes were visited by Francis J. O'Conner, judge of the Cambria county court, accompanied by his wife. In the evening an informal reception was tendered them, at which the Judge spoke of his admiration of the homes.

A beautiful gift for every adult guest of the homes in the form of a watchfob, was received from L. F. Grammes and Sons, manufacturing jewelers of Allentown. The seal of the fob is large and heavily plated. On the reverse in raised letters, is the inscription "in memory of L. F. Grammes, the 14th member of Greenleaf Lodge, No. 561, F. & A. M., Allentown, Pa. Presented by his sons."

Announcement is made that next Sunday will witness another notable religious service at the homes, which promises to be of unusual interest. On this occasion H. R. Macropy of Pittsburgh, State Secretary of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union, will be present and deliver an address.

Tom Will Not Need That Alarm Clock Now

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 31.—Tom Andrews, colored and mysterious, was to appear before Recorder Johnson to explain why he was drifting about on circus day with a large and unusually capable alarm clock concealed beneath his shirt.

He was also to be asked why he had twelve brooms tucked under his arm when there was no sweeping to be done. King David, policeman, arrested him 1 1/2 the circus grounds.

STATE COLLEGE ANNOUNCES SHORT COURSES FOR FARMERS

One of the most effective means by which the Pennsylvania State College has been able to increase its usefulness to the farmers of the state and their families has been through the annual winter short courses in agriculture and home economics.

Time was when the farmer was content to spend the winter at home largely as his inclination directed, but the increase in enrollment from year to year in the winter courses in agriculture as provided by various State institutions over the country indicate a different trend to-day. Where these courses once covered a small number of subjects they to-day cover every branch of agriculture and provide instruction alike for the farmer and his family.

The winter short courses at State College began December 6, 1916, and end February 23, 1917. The subjects offered this year are broader in scope and idea than ever before. Students entering these courses have the added advantage of attendance upon the lectures and demonstrations scheduled during the annual farmers' week, in December.

"Teach economy. That is one of the first and highest virtues. It begins with SAVING MONEY."

FEEDING GROWING COLTS

In order that young draft colts may develop to the best advantage, they must be fed liberally through the winter months. There is a tendency in some sections to feed colts too liberally on hay and restrict the grain to very small quantities. Such procedure is impractical, according to Dr. H. H. Havner, in charge of animal husbandry extension at the Pennsylvania State College. Colts fed in this manner show a stunted growth in the spring and big hay middles, which are difficult to reduce.

Sucking colts, yearlings and two-year-olds should be fed a liberal ration. The hay may be limited to one pound per 100 pounds live weight daily. A satisfactory grain ration recommended by the Pennsylvania State College is a mixture of three parts oats and two parts corn; with which a bran mash may be given once a week.
