

OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN

Women With Doctor Habit

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

In spite of the fact that ill health is unfashionable to-day, there are hundreds of women to be found who regard their ailments with fond reverence and who anticipate the coming of the "doctor" as the extent of the day or week.

These women have nothing the matter with them but their unoccupied or perverted minds and their craving for distinction.

They are found in all classes and localities, but flourish in comfort and opulence, rather than in poverty, for poverty as a rule enforces labor, and labor leaves no time for imagination or hysteria.

Once let a woman acquire the "doctor habit" and she is as difficult to cure as an opium victim, and as hopeless to reason with.

She resorts being told she looks well and time drags heavily when she has no occasion to send a hurry call for the doctor.

Doctor "Sympathetic" When Cold-Hearted Family Can See Nothing Wrong

But a slight cold, a little fatigue, overeating, or a late cup of coffee or tea, and consequent wakefulness will open the way for this hurry call; and she dons her most becoming negligee gown, sits bolstered up in bed and with her expectant eyes, watches the doctor for the entrance of the one human being who is not bored and wearied with her description of her symptoms—the doctor.

How sympathetic he is, and how sweet such sympathy is to her! And he tells her what she knew was true, but what her cold-headed family would not believe. She is a very sick woman, and needs a nurse and afterward a change of air and freedom from all care.

Dear, good doctor! How bleak the world would be without him and his kind!

Meantime the husband, who is working twelve hours a day in order to keep his business up to the standard where he can employ a force of working men, comes home with his head in a whirl, longing for a quiet evening of domestic happiness, and finds the house all excitement. Madame has had "a bad attack," and the doctor and the nurse are both with her.

The husband realizes what this means—weeks of loneliness and expense and discomfort; dining alone, coming home to desolation and gloom—but he knows how useless it is to utter one protest. He will only seem heartless and precipitate another attack of hysteria.

So he puts on his most serious expression of concern and visits the invalid and hears all about the complicated symptoms, and is duly sympathetic and tells the doctor to spare no pains or expense in his efforts to save madame's life—and the curtain goes down again on the little farce he has been accustomed to participate in year after year at intervals.

This is no overdrawn picture. It is an absolute portrait of hundreds of idle, purposeless, selfish, hysterical women in the world.

Sometimes the spectators' pity for the husband is lessened by the consciousness that he has in a moment been hurried into a position of bringing about these conditions.

He has allowed business to absorb his whole time and energy, and he has had no leisure to give to his wife. She wears a pained and distorted expression, and, not being rich in resources, she has turned to the contemplation of her physical sensations until she has become a monomaniac upon the subject.

To be ill and have the household upset about her condition is her only diversion.

But with the world at woman's feet to-day, and every possible opportunity for self-improvement within her grasp, what a pity that she should waste one day of this beautiful life in thinking of physical disorders which her own mind has caused and can heal.

Work, Purpose and Cheerfulness Powerful Antidotes to the Doctor Habit

A half hour given each day to systematic deep breathing, and a cutting down of her supply of food to a few simple, nutritious dishes, right exercise and baths, and right thoughts, and nature would bring harmony, without drugs or doctors or nurses. But how hard to reach these truths to the hysterical victims of doctor dissipation.

Then the pleasure of talking about the illness and the doctor's visits are a satisfaction.

In country places one finds the same type of woman. She is frequently single and past her first youth, and the doctor's visits are a solace to her lonely hours. While we can sympathize with her situation, yet we must think she would be better off were she to be thrown out upon the world and forced to fight for her existence in an active battle for existence as a "bachelor girl."

Work—a purpose—cheerfulness—a desire to make a contribution to others—these are a few of the antidotes to the "doctor habit."

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Made at Home

You'll never really know what a fine cough syrup you can make until you prepare this famous home-made remedy. You not only save $2 as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a more effective and dependable remedy in every way. It cures the usual coughs, throat or chest colds, 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any good drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Here you have the full pint—a family supply of the most effective cough syrup that money can buy—at a cost of only 54 cents or less. It never spoils.

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant tasting cough syrup have caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis, croup and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacal and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

This is really a one-piece gown for skirt and body are cut in one below the yoke.

The plaits at the front and at the back give a panel effect and long lines that are becoming. Altogether, it is a very smart model and a very attractive one. It is perfectly adapted to street wear while it also is appropriate for indoor use. Here, it is made of checked broadcloth trimmed with velvet and the fancy broadcloths make something of a feature of the Autumn styles. It could, however, be copied in serge or in gabardine, in poplin or silk if something more dressy is wanted. Poplin is exceedingly well liked and makes very smart gowns of the sort. The favorite silks include gros de Londres and charmeuse satin, both of which are perfectly adapted to the model.

For the medium size will be needed, 9½ yards of material 27 inches wide, 7½ yards 36 or 5½ yards 44, with ¾ yard of velvet 20 inches wide, for the trimming.

The pattern No. 8792 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 15 cents.

STATE WINS IN MANDAMUS CASE

Prior to July 22, 1913, the date of the passage of the road act, the section of road was maintained by Northampton county, and about June 1, 1915, when the proceeding was begun, the highway was almost impassable. It was on that date, incidentally, that the highway was adopted as a part of the State's system, although the State department has not yet, as Judge Kunkel points out, taken over the road or assumed its maintenance or care.

"The appropriation for the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1915," says Judge Kunkel, "was not sufficient to properly maintain all the roads which belonged to the State system and for which the State Highway Department had already become responsible. The money, he adds, was applied as equally and proportionately as the conditions allowed, the State Highway Commissioner always bearing in mind the question of comparative necessity for repairs.

Got Its Share

"Of the money's appropriated Northampton county has received, and it receives, more than its share, whether calculated upon the basis of equal division between all the counties or upon the basis of the actual condition to the mileage of roads maintainable.

"The work of constructing, maintaining and repairing the roads constituting the State system has been entrusted to the State Highway Commissioner. He is required in the performance of his duties to exercise his judgment as to the questions of the time of taking over a road and assuming the expense of its care, of the necessity for repairs and of the time for repairs, and on all other matters involved in the construction and proper maintenance of the highways. He cannot be interfered with nor can his actions in anywise be controlled by the courts, unless it clearly appears that he has abused his discretion. This has not been shown in the present case."

Agony of Leg Sore Stopped by D.D.D.

Woman Tells Pitiful Story

"I am the mother of 12 children. I took a varicose ulcer on my leg at the time I had my first child. It was every torment that is made. I was laid up for nearly five weeks with a doctor attending me doing nothing but treating those kind of things.

Doctors told me to lie in bed, but where there is a big family one cannot do that. Then I heard about D.D.D., and as I used to see my leg at night until it was a bleeding mass, I determined to try a bottle. I can't tell you the ease it gave me. I never used to sleep for the pain. Many a time I nearly fell with the dizziness in my head from want of sleep.

Now my leg is healed up, thanks to blessed D.D.D. I never expected it to cure. I only got it to take away the terrible itch. My varicose I saw the big sore getting smaller."

CROWDS GREET PROHIBITIONISTS

Democrats and Republicans Both "Dry" by 1920 Is Their Prediction

J. FRANK HANLY, EX-GOVERNOR HANLY

Prohibition Presidential Nominee Who Spoke Here Last Night

Prohibition national delegates who were in Harrisburg last evening were greeted by an audience that crowded the court house to the doors. The meeting differed widely from the old time Prohibition rally. It was lively, instructive and entertaining from start to finish and those who attended were amply repaid for their time.

Ira Landrith, the candidate for Vice-President, in particular, found much favor. He is a typical Southerner and combined good, hard business arguments with his silver-tongued oratory. He said, jokingly, that the North had found it necessary to go down and clean up the South when it didn't want to be cleaned up and now certain folks from the South found it necessary to come and help clean-up the North.

Ex-Governor Hanly, candidate for President, took a fling at both the old parties and predicted that in 1920 both the Republican and Democratic platforms would contain dry planks. The candidates came aboard the Prohibition Special and were met here by Warren W. West and other well-known Prohibitionists. They had some interesting stories to tell of their experiences.

Mixed Audiences

Mixed audiences of fervid drys and determined wets greeted the candidates as they zigzagged over the Pennsylvania and Maryland line for meetings in six cities between this city and Baltimore.

Hagerstown, Md., the center of a heated liquor fight, furnished a lively meeting with an audience about equally divided between wet and dry partisans, many of whom engaged in debate throughout much of the speaking.

A non-resident manager of the wet fight there, who is declared by the Prohibitionists to have paid recently for the liquor fight, turned a lively meeting with an audience about equally divided between wet and dry partisans, many of whom engaged in debate throughout much of the speaking.

Ordinary Nuxated Iron will often increase the strength and endurance of the delicate nervous system.

Ordinary Nuxated Iron will often increase the strength and endurance of the delicate nervous system, 200 per cent. in two weeks' time.

SPECIAL NOTE.—Dr. E. Sauer, a physician who has studied widely in both this country and Europe has been especially enthusiastic in his praise of Nuxated Iron. He has made a thorough investigation into the real secret of the success of Jess Willard and the marvelous value of nuxated iron as a strength builder.

NEW YORK.—Upon being interviewed at his apartment in the Colonial Hotel, Mr. Willard said: "Yes, I have a chemist with me to study the value of different foods and products as to their power to produce great strength and endurance, both of which are so necessary in the prize ring. On his recommendation I have often taken nuxated iron and it has particularly advocated the free use of iron by all those who wish to obtain great physical and mental power. At the same time, I have been especially out it I am sure that I should never have been able to whip Jack Johnson and Frank Moran, if I had not taken nuxated iron. It was a most important factor in my winning the fight so easily."

Continuing, Dr. Sauer said: "Nuxated Iron is only one of hundreds which I could cite from my own personal experience which proves conclusively the astonishing power of nuxated iron to restore strength and vitality after the most complicated chronic conditions."

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old, and asked me to give him a physical examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and a full vigor, vim and vitality as a young man. In fact, a young man he really was. At the time he was nearly 50 years old and was taking iron—nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life. At the time he was nearly 48 years old and nearly all in. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his vigor beaming from the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over iron is the greatest of all strength builders. It is the secret of the lives of thousands of persons might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their diseases was not nuxated iron, but a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking, just like a

MISSION WORKERS

Carlisle Presbytery Society Holds 34th Meeting at Market Square

The thirty-fourth annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Carlisle Presbytery, which opened in the Market Square Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon, continued this morning and afternoon. This convention was a splendid exhibition of the modern methods and spirit of mission work.

The devotional period with which the convention opened yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock was led by Mrs. Frank E. Taylor, of Gettysburg, who came fresh from the Nicholson-Heminger evangelistic campaign which is being held in the Carlisle town. Mrs. George E. Hawes very graciously welcomed the officers and delegates of the convention and the visitors, to which address Mrs. E. S. Taylor, of Chambersburg, responded very appreciatively as president of the society. Miss Riddle, of Chambersburg, speaking of the work which is being done among the young people of the presbytery, gave a report that glowed with the enthusiasm of great things accomplished. Miss Martha E. Fleming, of the Market Square Church, presented a very interesting report as secretary of literature, showing what had been done to keep the women of the church informed of their great work.

Miss Gamble, of Harrisburg, told a story of the need of "The Foreigner" that gripped the convention in a wonderful way as she cited instances and instances from her own experience in Harrisburg of poverty, the starvation of children, the drunkenness among men, child marriage and other iniquities which call for Christian sympathy and help.

The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. A. R. Johnston, of New Bloomfield, showed that even the prosaic function of receiving the funds may be as romantic as a trip to the Indies. At the evening session a pageant, "America's Expanding Work," was presented under the supervision of Mrs. Herman P. Miller. It was illuminating as it set forth dramatically the waste of American money and the neglect of American folks in whose lives the money might produce great results.

Mrs. D. E. Wald, of the Woman's Board of Home Missions, located in New York city, gave an interesting review of the work of the year in which she brought out very strikingly the romance of the modern missionary venture both for the missionaries and for those who are in the local societies.

The devotional service at this morning's session was led by Mrs. R. Willis Fair. After the roll call Mrs. W. F. Scheffer, the corresponding secretary, developed arrangements for a better participation in the convention next year. Mrs. W. E. Gell, president of the Synodical Society of Pennsylvania, spoke on "The Joy of Setting the Plow," in which she showed the genuine pleasure of the hard preparatory work when it is entered into understandingly and with a spirit of devotion. Miss Laughlin, who is a representative of the New York board doing work among the 250 Presbyterian young ladies who are graduated from American colleges every year, told an inspiring story of her success in enlisting the young college women of the church in mission work by the simple process of making them see what the work really is. After a luncheon served by the ladies of the Market Square Church, the afternoon session brought the convention to a close. The principal address of the afternoon was by Mrs. M. M. Hench, of Carlisle, on "Opportunities."

Lutherans to Hear Scholarly Addresses

A very interesting program has been arranged for the Fall session of the Harrisburg conference of the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church.

The first session will be held at the Zion Church, Thursday, November 9 at 2 o'clock. The Rev. L. E. Henry of Penbrook will lead the devotional exercises. Papers will be read by the Rev. H. W. A. Hanson, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran Church, and the Rev. G. N. Lauffer, of Steelton. The Rev. J. Roy Strock, president of the Watts Memorial College, India, will make the principal address of the evening service.

Friday morning the session will be opened by devotional exercises led by the Rev. G. D. Clark, of Lititz. The Rev. M. E. Shafer, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, will read a paper on "An Adequate Publicity Program for the Church." At the afternoon session the Rev. Dr. L. C. Manges, pastor of the Memorial Church, will speak on "An Adequate Inner Home and Foreign Mission Propaganda."

The Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz, of Gettysburg, will deliver the main address of the evening.

HURT IN TRUCK CRASH

Easton, Pa., Nov. 2.—Two persons were scratched and bruised and badly jarred when a light engine on the Lehigh Valley railroad ran into a truck carrying employes of a silk mill from Oxford to Belvidere, N. J., at Buttsville, N. J., early to-day. The driver of the truck lost control of the machine as it neared the railroad crossing. Geneva Foss and Lester Little, of Oxford, are the seriously injured.

THE TRUTH ABOUT ECZEMA AND PILES

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson, are learning every week that one 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish Eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

I had Eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to do it any good. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure he gave me. Mrs. Mary Hill, 420 Third Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone. A. B. Rieger, 1127 W. 11th Ave., Racine, Wis.

Jess Willard says: "Take Nuxated Iron"

If you want plenty of 'stay there' Strength and Endurance and Health and muscles like mine."

A hitherto untold Secret of his Great Victories over Jack Johnson and Frank Moran.

Ordinary Nuxated Iron will often increase the strength and endurance of the delicate nervous system, 200 per cent. in two weeks' time.

JESS WILLARD AT HOME

Among all the prominent figures of the prize ring, probably none is so devoted to family life as Jess Willard. After each engagement the champion hurries to his wife and children and remains at their side until public demand forces him to leave for new encounters. Everything is done to bring up the "little Willards" with strong healthy bodies. Mr. Willard accounts for his own success by saying:—

"I consider that plenty of iron in my blood is the secret of my great strength, power and endurance."

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, makes them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous run-down conditions. The manufacturer has such great confidence in it that he has offered a $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 200 per cent. or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no organic trouble. They also offer to reward your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Croll Keller, G. A. Gorges, and all other druggists.
