STEELTON NEWS

600 ATTEND BIG REPUBLICAN MEET

Standard Theater Where Rally Was Held Packed to Doors

Steelton's Republican rally last night was without a doubt a big success. The Standard Theater, in Front street, was filled to its capacity and many were standing in the rear of the hall. The crowd was estimated at 600. A parade preceded the mass meeting. The procession was headed by the Steelton band and formed at the Republican headquarters, South Front street, moved down Front to Mohr, to Second, to Locust, to Conestoga and to the theater and dispersed.
Among the speakers were William Swope, of Clearfield; Congressman A. S. Kreider, Senator E. E. Beldeman, Ira Uish, of Millersburg, and David Bechtold, of Steelton, candidates in the county for the Legislature.
Senator Beldeman in his talk assailed the eight-hour law. He stated that it was a "gold brick" to fool the voters. Congressman Kreider talked along general lines, referring chiefly to the mistakes in action made by the Democratic party. David Bechtold spoke on "The Republican Platform."

Discuss Next Year's Work at Meeting of Commission

Next year's work was briefly discussed at a meeting of the Park and Playgrounds Commission in the council chamber last night. Nothing definite was decided upon, but the work next year will be similar to the one just closed. The commission decided to make a few additions to the equipment already stored away for winter.

Milk Dealers Raise Price to Eight Cents Per Quart

Milk in Steelton is 8 cents and cream is 32 cents.
This ruling went into effect yesterday, when milk dealers got together at Oberlin and decided to co-operate. Nearly all milk dealers are selling at this price now, and what few have not raised the price plan to do so before Monday. Another meeting of the milk dealers will be held probably next week after the meeting of dealers in Harrisburg.

REAL ESTATE PLAN ADDITION TO THE REGENT

Work on Theater Will Begin April 1; Seating Capacity of 1,800

An addition to the Regent theater in Market street is planned by Peter Magaro, owner and manager. A long lease has been secured on the property adjoining, No. 412 Market street, now occupied by the R. I. Smith and company, drygoods firm, and belonging to the Williant Jennings estate. This building will be torn down to make room for the improvement. Manager Magaro returned yesterday from New York where he was in consultation with Thomas W. Lamb, theatrical architect. Complete plans will be ready within a month. Work on the new theater will start early in April. Referring to his plans Mr. Magaro said to-day: "I have not estimated the total cost of the new theater. I will say, however, that no expense will be spared to make it a strictly up to date amusement place. The adjoining property is 30 feet wide and 210 feet deep. This will give me a theater 60 feet wide and 210 feet deep, running back to Strawberry street. The seating capacity including the gallery will be 1,800, and the new theater will include a stage large enough to permit the production of Ben Hur or any other big attraction. The Regent will be a motion picture theater regularly however.

There will be a series of boxes, the gallery will accommodate 800 persons, and lower floor, 1,000. Plans call for foyers on the first and second floors, with retiring rooms for men and women, furnished in modern style.

NOVEMBER BUILDING RECORD BOOSTED BY $7,000 PERMITS

November's building operations got a $7,000 boost to-day when Edward Moeslein got a permit to build four dwellings at a cost of $4,000 and the Fink Brewing company got permission to erect an addition to its brewery at 312 Forster street at a cost of $3,000.

The Moeslein houses will be built on Daisy street just south of Drummond and Moeslein and Hare will be the contractors.
