TRADE MARK

ATTRACTIVENESS NOT FOR SALE IF A STORE SOLD--

attractiveness, it would do a rushing business. Attractiveness is a mixture of nature, gumption and effort.

Without "know how" the costliest garment may have a dowdy appearance—likewise without intelligent care, the most luxuriant hair may stamp the owner a frump.

The ability of NEWBRO'S HERCULIDE to dispel hair ugliness is extraordinary. There is no magic about Herculicide, but the great improvement from its intelligent use will be quickly apparent to all.

To delay is to neglect—get a bottle to-day. Guaranteed by the Herculicide Co., sold everywhere. Applications at the better barber shops.

says the collision occurred off Carlisle Lough, an inlet on the Irish coast between the counties of Down and Louth. The Retriever was inward bound.

A few bodies have been washed ashore on the County Down coast. The dispatch says it is feared 300 lives have been lost.

The marine superintendent of the London and Northwestern railway said that so far as he knew there were only fifty passengers on the Connemara. Her crew numbered 31.

The Connemara, 1,106 tons gross and 272 feet long, was built in Dumbarton in 1896.

The Retriever was 190 feet long, of 674 tons gross and was built in Goole, England, in 1909. She was owned by the West Coast of America Telegraph Company, of London.

A steamer service is maintained by the London and Northwestern Railway between Holyhead, Wales and Greenore, Ireland, a distance of about 80 miles across the Irish sea.

what influences may be brought against him."

The former President broke away from his speech, which he had prepared in advance, to say what he thought of the so-called "hyphenates." He declared that although Washington and Lincoln were of English blood, they were both Americans through and through.

Shot at the Hyphenates
"No American can be a good American on a fifty-fifty basis," said Colonel Roosevelt. "There is no room in this country for English-Americans, German-Americans, French-Americans, Irish-Americans or any other kind of Americans but real Americans of blood."

Col. Roosevelt, in referring to Secretary of War Baker's recent alleged comparison of Washington's soldiers with the constitutional forces of Mexico, said Mr. Baker was "an amiable man who knits."

Once during his speech, when the former President quoted from the will of George Washington, in which the first President bequeathed his sword to his nephews and cautioned them not to unsheathe them except for self-defense, there was a wild outburst of enthusiasm.

Colonel Roosevelt's Speech
Colonel Roosevelt said, in part: "There can be no greater misfortune for a free nation than to find itself under incapable leadership when confronted by a great crisis. This is particularly the case when the crisis is not merely one in its history, but is due to some terrible world cataclysm—such a cataclysm as at this moment has overwhelmed our civilization. The times have needed a Washington or a Lincoln. Unfortunately, we have been granted only another Buchanan."

"I have been assailed because I have criticized Mr. Wilson. I have not said one thing of him that was not absolutely accurate and truthful. I have not said one thing of him which I did not deem it necessary to say because of the vital interests of this Republic. I have criticized him because I believe he has dragged in the dust what was most sacred in our past, and has jeopardized the most vital hopes of our future. I have never spoken of him as strongly as Abraham Lincoln in his day spoke of Buchanan, and Pierce when they were Presidents of the United States. I spoke of him at all, only because I have felt that in this great world crisis he has played a more evil part than Buchanan and Pierce ever played in the years that led up to and saw the opening of the Civil war."

"Sordid Untruth"
"I hardly know whether to feel the most burning indignation at those speeches of his wherein he expressed lofty sentiment, which his deeds belie, or at those other speeches wherein he displays a frank cynicism of belief, in and of appeal to, what is based in the human heart."

"Does Mr. Wilson think that these men of Valley Forge were not patriots, because they were starving? Is his own soul so small that he cannot see the greatness of soul of Washington and of the Continental soldiers whose feet left bloody tracks upon the snow as they marched toward the enemy? They were clad in rags; their eyes were hollow with famine; their bodies were numbed with cold and racked with fever; but they loved their country; they stood for the sake of the nation and not for its belly. Mr. Baker and Mr. Daniels have done evil to this country only because they stood where their master, Mr. Wilson, had placed them. Mr. Baker has preached the doctrine of contempt for the men of the Revolution, only because he has followed the lead of the President, who says that religion is merely a matter of a full stomach, and that patriotism vanished when heroes feel the pinch of famine."

MARKER NOTABLE FOR WHOLE STATE
Fort Hunter Ceremony Will Be One Which Will Attract Much Attention Thursday

Unveiling of the State Historical Commission marker on the site of Fort Hunter, six miles above Harrisburg on the Susquehanna river, which is to take place next Thursday, will be the completion of twenty-two notable marking historic places in Pennsylvania by the State Historical Commission. Fifteen of the markers are on the Brandywine battlefield and others are on sites of colonial forts in Franklin, Potter, Mifflin, Northumberland and Snyder counties with one marking the site of John Harris' ferry, which was the beginning of Harrisburg.

Fort Hunter marker will be unveiled with addresses by Governor Brumbaugh and other State officials and men identified with historical research in the State. The marker is on the site of a fort dating from 1758.

Public Service.—No hearings will be held by the Public Service Commission next week until Wednesday, the usual Monday hearings having been canceled. Wednesday sittings will be held in Scranton on the complaints that jitneys are being illegally operated in Lackawanna county and the following day argument will be heard here on the motion for a rehearing of the application for approval of the contract between the Philadelphia Electric and Keystone Telephone Companies for use of conduits in Philadelphia and on numerous other cases including Pittsburgh and Westmoreland coal rates.

State Tax Court.—Arrangements have been made for session of the Dauphin county court on November 17 for the trial of cases involving many thousands of dollars in State tax cases. The court will be exclusively for such cases and a number of rulings will be asked in taxation matters which have arisen in the last year.

Call Accepts.—Governor Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, has accepted an invitation to attend the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania State Society of Western Pennsylvania, to be given in Philadelphia on November 23 and it is expected that Governor C. D. Miller, of Delaware, and Louis B. Hanna, of North Dakota, both natives of this State, will be present. The dinner will be the first big gathering of representative Pennsylvanians after the election will bring together members of the next Legislature and State officials and men active in various walks of life in the State.

Hearing Next Week.—The State Board of Public Charities will begin hearings of charitable institutions seeking recognition of their appropriations in the central part of the State in this city on November 8. The members of the Board have just finished their sessions in Philadelphia, and when the central district institutions have been heard they will hold a sitting in Pittsburgh for representatives of Western Pennsylvania institutions.

Home For Election.—Except for the Health, Police and a few other departments of the State Government, the State Capitol has been closed until Monday. Many of the State officials will make speeches at closing campaign rallies.

To Speak at the Shore.—W. R. D. Hall, statistician of the State Highway Department, will speak before the Atlantic City Rotary Club on Pennsylvania highway methods.

Month.—The hearing of the Newport and Hummelstown water cases is scheduled for December 5 before the Public Service Commission.

Read in Treasurer.—The Pennsylvania Certified Accountants Board organized at the Capitol yesterday. B. Frank Nead, of this city, being elected treasurer and J. F. Fernley, of Pittsburgh, is the chairman.

Palmer on Committee.—L. R. Palmer, chief factory inspector, is on the special committee of the National Fire Protective Association just formed in New York.

Milk Board in Session.—The milk price probe board spent all of yesterday in session in Philadelphia, the burden of the testimony being that the farmer is not making any money out of dairying.

Kemp Named.—J. F. Knoll, of Hummelstown graduate of State College, was appointed a scientific assistant in the Division of Economic Zoology.

Kemp Takes Hold.—A Lee Kemp, factory inspector in the Tioga county district, took hold yesterday. Kemp is said to be opposed to men who backed Albert Karahan, the man dismissed.

Program for Conference.—The program for the Fourth Industrial Welfare and Efficiency Conference, to be held at the Capitol November 21-24 under auspices of the Department of Labor and Industry and the Engineers' Society, came out to-day. The chairmen of the meetings will be Commissioner Jackson, Commissioner Alney, Fire Marshal Port, Dr. Francis D. Peterson, chief of the Division of Hygiene; R. Boone Abbott, president of the Engineers' Society; William Young, member of the Industrial Board representing labor; E. J. Stackpole, president of the Telegraph company, and H. H. Wheaton, of the United States Office of Education. The speakers include Governor Brumbaugh, Chairman Mackey, of the Compensation Board; A. B. Farquhar, Representative; S. R. Tanner, of the Order of Railway Conductors; J. C. Rose, Pennsylvania Railroad; Dr. S. S. Marquis, of the Ford Motor Company; Dr. W. L. Estes, State Medical Society; Marcus A. Dow, New York Central Lines; M. W. Alexander, General Electric Company; J. H. Herbert, Cambria Steel Company; Joseph B. McCall, president of the Philadelphia Electric Company; Florence T. Sanville, Philadelphia; Lewis T. Bryant, New Jersey commissioner; Patrick Gilday, M. E. King and others.

Fourteen Cases.—The Board of Pardons list was closed to-day with fourteen cases. There are three murder cases on the list.

To Muster Out Stine.—Orders were received by the Adjutant General to-day to muster out Captain H. M. Stine, of this city, who has been in charge of Eight Hundred recruiting in this district. Captain Stine has been on recruiting duty since July and has been the most successful of the officers. He will go with his detachment to Fort Du Pont. The men detailed to his force will be returned to their regiments.

Certificate.—The Carlisle Gas and Water Company, of Carlisle, has filed a certificate of notification with the Public Service Commission announcing issue of $14,000 of bonds. Other listed include Eyriville Union Traction Company, Pottsville and St. Clair Electric Railway Company, each $150,000 bonds; Connecting Railway, Philadelphia, $3,000,000 bonds, and Chester Valley Electric Company, Coatesville, $47,000 bonds.

STEELTON NEWS
HUNTERS MAY HAVE SHOT MAN
Peddler Found Dead From Gunshot Wound Below Middletown

"Ephraim Silverman, alias Samuel Palme, aged 60, a peddler, of Middletown, came to his death from a gunshot wound in the back of the head inflicted by some person or persons unknown to the jury."

This was the verdict of the coroner's jury at an inquest held this morning. Mystery envelops the death of the man. It may be possible that he was murdered, against his will, he may have been shot by hunters who are very numerous in this district since the opening of the hunting season.

The body of Silverman was found along the towpath of the old canal near First lock by John Updegraff, of Royaltown. His face was badly cut and there was a large hole in the back of his head. Silverman was last seen in town yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. He peddled in town and Royaltown and it is believed he was on his way to First lock when attacked. It was not known whether he had any money or valuables on his person at the time attacked. He deposited $5 in a local bank several hours before he was found dead.

Silverman just returned from Baltimore, where he is said to have a wife and child. He boarded at the home of Elmer Frowser, of Royaltown street. The body will be shipped to Baltimore to-night by Undertaker Brestle for burial.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING
A BRIEF JITNEY ARGUMENT

Why the Public Should Encourage the Jitney

We need the jitneys on the streets, because:
The jitney means competition with the street car.
Competition with the street car means better trolley service for the public.
Better trolley service means more cars and no strap-hanging.
No strap-hanging means seats for all.

Together, with the foregoing improvements for street car patrons, we need the jitneys, because:
They are more comfortable than the cars of the Harrisburg Railways Company.
They give us an opportunity to have an auto ride occasionally.
They afford us poorly-paid workers an opportunity to sample our employers' transportation enjoyment.
They save the time of the working people—fifteen minutes in twenty, going to and from work.

And let us ask:
Why should a jitneyman have to put up a "cut-throat" bond of $2,000, and all other machines be free to our streets, without a bond? There's a reason: Street Car Company opposition. That's all.

If, as they say, the street car is good enough for the workers, why don't the directors of the Railways Company ride in the cars, themselves, instead of in expensive autos and WITHOUT HAVING GIVEN A BOND? What is good for the one should be good for the other.

100 LATE REGISTRATIONS
Just 100 more electors who were unable because of unavoidable absence to register on the regular registration day, were written into the books by the county commissioners' clerks today. This runs the total to 532. Until 4 o'clock the clerks received a rush of late applicants and these will have to be hustled into the books Monday before they are sent out to the polling places. Registration was closed at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Save Half the Investment in Your Car

WINTER with its sleet and snow is on the way threatening to put the good old car out of commission, but don't exile the companion of your fair weather days.

Stop and think that the difference between safe and dangerous motoring is not the summer or winter skies above but the tires beneath—Goodrich Black Safety Tread Tires.

Look carefully over their simple effective non-skid tread. The common sense of the parallel five fingers and cross-tie pattern shows you convincingly why a Goodrich tire grips through muck and slush to bed-rock safety.

Rain or shine, it puts fair weather under your motor car.

Rescue your car from months of idleness—save yourself the loss of investment, comfort and convenience—by equipping it with—
