This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body unpurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and almost tasteses, espot foresity and the water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, billous, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

A clever flank attack upon the drink habit is this bit of current advice to the married man who "must have" his "occasional" drink of whisky:

"Start a saloon in your own house. Be the only customer (you'll have no license to pay). Go to your wife and give her two dollars to buy a gallon of whisky and remember there are sixty-nine drinks in a gallon. Buy your drinks from no one but your wife, and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have eight dollars to put into the bank and two dollars to start business again. Should you live ten years and continue to buy booze from her, and then die with snakes in

As Sam Jones Saw It

Only the rare evangelist to-day is without a "booze" sermon. This fight against strong drink has begotten a new militancy in the ministry. One of the pioneer preachers to fight liquor, and the man whose influence even after his death, made Georgia "dry," was Sam Jones. The modern sociological expression of the temperance question has never done anything more compelling than this anecdote of Jones:

A man once said to Sam Jones: "The church is getting my assessment too high."

Jones: "The church is getting my assessment too high." you pay?"

"How much were you worth."
"I rented land and plowed a steer."
"What have you got now?"
"I have a good plantation and a pair of horses."
"Well," said Sam Jones, "you paid the devil $250 a year for the privilege of plowing a steer on rented land, and now you don't want to give the Lord, who saved you, $5 a year for the privilege of plowing horses on your own plantation! You are a rascal from the crown of your head to the soles of your feet."

The Nation's Real Worth
War has taught the nations that real wealth is man-wealth. The richest country is the one with the greatest store of best manhood and womandod. Whatever hurts it in the character of its youth injures a country most grievously. The Christian World of Cleveland, touches, in practical fashion, upon this phase of the temperance issue:
"Life insurance experts figure that each young man and woman of good habits and sound physique is an asset to the nation as a producer or conserver of wealth to the amount of $8,000. There are in the United States 50,000,- ruthless destroyer of youth. It begins the work of destruction before birth, handicaps boys and girls physically and morally, and renders tens of thousands not only unable to produce or conserve their quota of $8,000, but makes of them dependents and undesirables, an economic loss to its stability."

Of course, this is no new discovery. Nearly a century and a half ago Oliver Goldsmith wrote:

"In all the towns and countries I have been, I never saw a city or village yet, whose miseries were not in proportion to the number of its public houses.

. . Ale houses are ever an occasion of debauchery and excess, and either in a political or religious light, it would be our highest interest to have them suppressed."

Our own Philip Brooks put the Interest to have them suppressed."

Our own Philip Brooks put the same idea more tersely and forcefully in a sentence:

"If we could sweep intemperance out of the country there would hardly be poverty enough left to give healthy exercise to the charitable impuises."
The acceleration of the social consciousness of the twentieth century is going to wipe out the liquor business. But that is not adequate to transform social conditions. Only the Christ-principle of vicariousness, as set forth by Paul in the present lesson, can be an abiding basis for a permanent reform. Nothing but the constraining love of Christ can lead people permanently to deny their own desires, and to put a brother's welfare first.

SAVE ONE EYE

Duncannon, Pa., Nov. 10.—George Callendar, of Lintons Hill, who re-cently was shot in the face during a hunting accident, will recover the sight of one eye. The accident happened when he and Russel Noss both tried to kill a bird flying between them. They didn't get the bird.

Train Rider With Gun
Stops His Pursuers

Marysville, Pa., Nov. 10.—A train rider on one of the Pennsylvania Railroad trains furnished quite a sensation here for the railroad officers and yard men. He was caught in a car of valuable freight and, being invited to "get out," he did so, carrying two large grips. Before he could be arrested he started for the mountains back of town. Pursued by a number of car inspectors, he dropped the grips, halted, drew a gun and effectually stopped the chase, as none of the men were armed.

He was later arrested by Officer Crogan at Coveallen. He gave his name as John Burns, but refused to give his residence. The grips which he had dropped were found to contain many valuable articles still bearing price tags. Burns is being held until it can be ascertained where he obtained the loot.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture)

It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for with the aid of a plain decisione passe, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.
