

HARD GAMES TO-MORROW FOR LOCAL ELEVEN'S

FOOTBALL WORLD AWAITS BIG GAMES

Future Battles May Be More Important; Those Tomorrow Must Not Be Overlooked

Philadelphia, Nov. 10. — The intercollegiate football world will witness more important contests to-morrow than on any other day of the season. While games of more importance and perhaps interesting character are scheduled for later in the year, they are not so numerous as the battles carded for to-morrow.

Here in Philadelphia Pennsylvania will face the powerful Dartmouth aggregation. At Ithaca the Michigan eleven will play its annual contest with Cornell. Within the imposing stadium on Soldiers' Field in Cambridge, Harvard will have Princeton as her opponent in what perhaps is generally considered the most important engagement of the day. At New Haven Brown will appear for her annual struggle with Yale. These games surely offer devotees of the great college sport ample opportunity for speculative enthusiasm and argument.

Interest in Quaker Game

From a local standpoint, more interest is naturally displayed in the game between Pennsylvania and Dartmouth than the others. But there is no lack of intense interest taken in the Cambridge contest, because of the unusually large following Princeton and Harvard have in this city especially the Tigers. From a distance the battle at Ithaca will be instructive to Pennsylvanians inasmuch as the Quakers meet Michigan one week from to-morrow they will both be in much the same position with regard to their previous season's schedule.

Gettysburg and Bucknell Meet Hard Foes Tomorrow

In preparing for the games to-morrow both the Bucknell and Gettysburg elevens have spent a hard and strenuous week. The scrimmage was hard and long, for the players had received only slight injuries on the preceding Saturday. To-morrow Bucknell will meet Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va., while Gettysburg will battle Villanova on Nixon Field in the battle-field town. Neither of these contests are considered as important by the respective teams.

In Washington and Lee Bucknell will meet a team which is recognized as efficient in the aerial attack. It is hardly likely that the Lewisburgians will down the Virginians, but it is expected that they will give them a real tussle. Even though the game may be against Coach Johnston's proteges, still the contest will be the means of trying out some of the new formations which are to be used in Gettysburg the following week-end.

Penn State Ready For Hard Battle With Lehigh

State College, Pa., Nov. 10. — The final grooming of Penn State's team for the big clash with Lehigh on Saturday was finished this afternoon by Coaches Harlow and Martin. New plays were polished off in a brisk six-minute practice, and the field was affected in a short signal drill running down the field under punts. The varsity backs were instructed how to stop opposing ends from covering the man catching punts.

GIRLS' TEAM READY

Hershey, Pa., Nov. 10.—Miss Ruth V. Engle, coach of the girls' basketball team, is schooling her pupils hard for the opening game with Myerstown High School at this place on November 21. Last season the girls had a remarkable team, defeating some of the best girl quintets in this part of the state. Miss Myrtle Hershey is captain and manager of the five this season. The members of the team are Misses Myrtle Hershey, Verna Stuckey, Esther Snavely, Mary Reigle, Ethel Foltz and Elva Gruber.

CRESCENTS BACK IN GAME

The Crescents basketball team will have a team on the floor this season after a lapse of two years. The Crescents open the season with the St. Paul Catholic Club five at York this evening. The following men are requested to be at the Pennsylvania Railroad station at 5:15 p. m.: Trump, Harris, G. Killinger, Weitzel, Shields, Tittle and Meyer.

NEW HARVARD GRIDIRON STAR

Eddie Casey, halfback, is the new hero of Harvard. He is hailed as the successor of Brinkley and Manhan. Anyway, though some football experts doubt if he is or will be as good as either, the men of Harvard have a new star to bow to.

WILKES-BARRE IS SATURDAY BILL ST. ELIZABETH IS STRONG CAGE TEAM

To Meet Tech at Island Park; Locals Look For a Victory Will Play Independents on Auditorium Floor Tomorrow Night

The Technical high school football squad will play at home to-morrow afternoon for the first time in a month. It will oppose the Wilkes-Barre high school eleven on the island grounds. Tech will use its regular line-up with the exception of Snyder, the star center, who is out of the game with injuries. Mell will likely fill in the gap. Norris, the former Lafayette player, has been chosen as umpire, while Killinger, of Tech, will act as head linesman. While it is not certain, Dr. Harvey Smith will likely be chosen as the referee. Tech's band lead by Thomas Stack, will be in force. The cheering will be in charge of Oscar Sutch and his assistants. They have directed several mass meetings during the week.

Tech expects to add the Coal Barons to its list of victims. Last week the visiting team was pitted against Easton, and gave the latter a good contest. Tech will start with the regulars in the line-up, and will give the substitutes a chance at the game progresses. The probable line-up will be as follows: Tech. Wilkes-Barre. Eyster, I. C. Sayee, I. E. Wear, L. I. Kohl, L. L. Miller, I. G. Mell, C. Giering, L. G. Fitzpatrick, R. G. Kline, C. Gipple, L. C. Heim, R. G. McFarland, R. E. Bender, R. T. Lloyd, Q. B. Ayers, R. E. Harris, L. H. Hochreiter, R. H. Mengelsohn, L. H. K. Frederick, F. B. Beck, F. B.

Bits From Sportland

The latest rumor is that Jack Hendricks will succeed Joe Tinker and George Stovall, Clarence Rowland, as manager of the White Sox. The East End team will play at Oberlin to-morrow with the Oberlin eleven. The Hummelstown Monarchs have organized for the season and will play the Knitting Company team next Thursday. The Harrisburg Independents will play Shamokin to-night at Shamokin. The Union Square team will meet the Penbrook High School eleven in a game to be played on the field at Seventeenth and Chestnut streets to-morrow afternoon, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Union Square team will be composed of Arnold, Meyers, Cassel, Keenan, Shope, Meadows, James, Smith, Leeds, Moyer, Kintzer, Naugler, Hubley and Jones.

WESTERN BOY AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10. — It is a noteworthy fact that the personnel of the University of Pittsburgh football team which scored decisive victories over the Syracuse University and University of Pennsylvania elevens and which is expected to go through another season without defeat is made up almost entirely of Western Pennsylvania prep school boys, the majority of whom showed little class before entering the university. Captain Peck, who was chosen by Walter Camp for his All-American center last year and who is expected to land the same honor this year, comes from Lock Haven, Pa., a town about 150 miles from Pittsburgh. He learned the game while attending Lock Haven Normal school.

LEHIGH AWAITS PENN STATE

South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 10. — Compared with the rigor of earlier practices, the Lehigh varsity team who will line-up against Penn State on Saturday have been reclining over "feathered beds of ease" this week. The toll of injuries in last Saturday's Muhlenberg game was so severe that Coach Keady isn't risking the chance of further hurts in scrimmage. The program in the midweek practice yesterday was relatively mild and the work outlined for this afternoon and to-morrow is signal formations and nothing more. Second and third string candidates had a share of scrimmage.

STEELETON READY FOR HARD BATTLE

Central Hopes to Show Better Form Tomorrow in Final Game

Football history is expected to-morrow in the game at Steelton. Central High has been doing everything possible in practice this week to bring about form that will indicate a victory to-morrow. The scoreless game two weeks ago was a disappointment all around and since that time the coaches have been drilling their respective teams in expectation of a better result.

Central is a favorite to win to-morrow's game. The only disadvantage, according to a general opinion, is that the game is to be played at Steelton. The Taggart lunch have shown their best speed at home. This is natural. Central will have Herring and Rose back in the line-up.

Big crowd of Rooters Central will take at least 300 rooters and a band to Steelton. Special cars are being arranged for and the big crowd from Harrisburg will leave here about 1:30. The game starts at 2:30.

Steelton will have the regular line-up, including Eckenrode, who was out with injuries. It is understood that Coach Taggart may switch the line-up after the first period, providing Martz and the back field, as has been announced.

JOE BOY IS SOLD

York, Pa., Nov. 10. — Dr. W. W. Wogan, of York county, announced that he has sold Joe Boy, the popular Grand Circuit and county fair pacer, to Dan Leary, of Chester, who has been campaigning the horse. As a part of the consideration Dr. Wogan has taken Barney W., a 3-year-old trotter that has done the mile under 2:25 and was bred on the Walter Cox farm, sire by Del and out of a McKinley mare. Joe Boy was purchased by Dr. Wogan a 3-year-old, in 1907. It is claimed for the horse that, although one of the worst starters on the track, he has won more races during his career than any other racer in the history of the sport. His best time, made last year on the rack at Pottsville, is 2:06 1/4.

LAFAYETTE PLAYS ALBRIGHT

Easton, Pa., Nov. 10.—Lafayette will meet Albright College to-morrow afternoon on Nixon Field. The week in preparation for this game is the easiest week of practice of the season. Coach Crowell has designed it as a slight respite between the mid-season games with the University of Penn. and the difficult contests with Penn State and Lehigh, which give the season its climax.

The injury to Weldon, Lafayette's great star, has made it necessary to reconstruct the Maroon and White backfield. It is probable that Weldon will not be able to play again this year.

AMUSEMENTS

Selwyn and Company will present their extraordinary farce success, "Fair and Warmer," Avery Hopwood's topmost achievement, "The Orpheum to-night and to-morrow, matinee and night. This delectable, bubbling farce, with uncountable laughs in its three acts, is being played before the ticket holder its first six months, it has been heralded over the country as the farce hit of the season. The production is a town presentation had poured in to insure its welcome when Selwyn and Company should send it on tour.

Never in the history of farce productions in New York has any laughter been so long and so profitably at the expense of the audience. "A Full House" critics as the new H. H. Frayze farce, "The Lady Drummer," which has just closed a six months' run in Broadway, and will be the attraction of the Orpheum to-night and to-morrow, matinee and night. This is how it started off a two-column review of the farce: "A full house is frank and unvarnished, the High Imp of Laughter, and it amply fulfills its dedication. It is farce, straight, unadorned, and unvarnished. Laughter is its end and its beginning, its middle and its outside, and the audience laughs. After all, if we are going to laugh from the chest out, in the first place, such laughter comes from a good farce. Iron, satire and criticism of life can go hang.

The best evidence that a theater manager can offer his patrons as to the actual merits of an attraction is when he is offering for their approval is the undisputed facts concerning its success elsewhere. What is said here concerning the success of Gus Hill's production of "A Full House" at the Orpheum, Wednesday, matinee and night, is an easily verified in the news columns of almost any newspaper.

When Geraldine Farrar was filmed in the stellar role of "Carmen," some weeks ago, Burton Holmes happened to be in the city at the time, and in search of new travelogue material, went to the arena where the "bull fight scene" was to be filmed. As he entered, that portion of the stadium reserved for spectators was empty by the "Divine Geraldine," whom he knew, and summoned to the box where, as Captain, she was to watch the contest of the bull by her beloved Escamillo, the toreador. As he entered the box, the cry of "All ready!" rent the air, and Mr. Holmes was hastily con-verted into a Spaniard by Miss Farrar and Morris Gearty, the former clapping a bespangled sombrero on his head, and the latter helping him to a quick change into a natty burro jacket. The operator began to turn the crank and Burton Holmes was a movie actor in a twinkling. He was in the box at last, and brilliantly attired Spaniard from the waist up, but a correctly tressed American from the waist down.

There is a good bill appearing at the Majestic this last half of this week headed by the "Doris Lester Trio," a song and dance offering with lots of variety here and there sprinkled here and there throughout the same bill is the Doris Lester Trio, three of vaudeville's cleverest farceurs, who are to be seen in a new comedy, "A Breeze That Blew." The deals with the adventures of a Mr. Breeze, a traveling salesman who finds himself engaged to two ladies at once. The act is said to be full of clean, snappy comedy. It is a new, better, faster, charming comedienne. Completing the bill are Kitten Taylor and McClay, who have an excellent comedy offering entitled, "The Stowaway." Hinking and McKee, in an entertaining piano and singing act, and Wilson and Larsen, who win much applause with their comedy tumbling feats.

William S. Hart, famous world over for his wonderful portrayal of Western characters, is in all at the Colonial most every role possible to portray on the motion picture screen, but it remained for C. Gardner Sullivan, the author of "Peggy," and many other big Triangle films, to provide him with a play that has proved superior to anything in which he has ever been seen. The new picture, "The Return of Draw Egan," which will be shown at the Colonial Theater to-day and to-morrow, is much on the order of "Hell's Hinges," and shows Hart in the role of "Draw Egan," a Western "badman," who goes straight, and a worse one who would like to prevent his reformation, and a girl, whose innocence and purity makes the transformation possible. Hart's principal support will be Margery Wilson and Louise Glaum. This picture has never been shown here before. A new Triangle comedy, called "The Lady Drummer," will be on the same bill, Monday and Tuesday. William Fox will present Vaeska suratt in "The Straight Way."

NOT TO BE CAUGHT

"I think children are not so observant as they used to be," said a member of the school board to a teacher whose class he was visiting, relates Harper's Magazine. "I hadn't noticed it," said the teacher. "I'll prove it to you," said the school officer, pompously. Turning to the class, he said: "Someone give me a number." "Thirty-seven," said a little girl, eagerly. "He wrote '73' on the board. Nothing was said. "Well, someone else give me a number." "Fifty-seven," said another child. He wrote "75" and smiled knowingly at the teacher when nothing was said. He called for a third number, and fairly gasped at the indignation manifested by a small, red-facedurchin, who said: "Seventy-seven, and see if you can change that."

VICTORY

A young mother who was convalescing from an illness of some weeks, was dozing in a big chair in the library, and on a table beside her stood a bowl of fruit, says the New York Sun. Suddenly her little daughter, 10 years old, cautiously tiptoed into the room. Thinking her mother asleep, the child advanced, took a couple of oranges from the bowl, and silently stole away. Now, though the mother was greatly grieved by this immoral proceeding on the part of her offspring, she said not a word, nor did she even permit the youngster to see that she was really awake. About 10 minutes later the child re-appeared. With the fruit in her hand untouched, she crept into the room just as silently as she had entered before. She replaced the fruit in the bowl and as she turned to go, the mother heard her mutter to herself: "That's the time you got left, Mr. Devil!"

Harrisburg Academy is without a game to-morrow. The management of the Yeater School of Lancaster sent word that owing to a number of players being on the crippled list Yeates could not play at Harrisburg. The Academy players, with a number of other students, will go to Lykens and spend the day visiting the mines.

The only college game Harrisburg will get this season will be played next Saturday. Gettysburg meets Bucknell. Both local teams will be away on that date. Harrisburg Academy is scheduled to play the Gettysburg Academy. This game will be played in the morning so the players can see the game on the island.

Danny Maher, one of the greatest jockeys America ever had, died yesterday in London. He had been ill for a long time. He was also a great winner in England and won a large fortune.

Callahan will manage the Pirates next season. Barney Dreyfuss met the manager yesterday and handed the hat. This settles one of the many baseball controversies. Now the national commission will have to get busy and fix things up with Dave Fulton, President Tener and President Ban Johnson are still at odds, but it is not worrying John K. Tener one bit. R. Shreiner and H. Moore won over Walter and Bruce in straight games, 6-0, 6-2, in the finals of the double events. The match was played yesterday afternoon and attracted much attention. Shreiner was winner of the singles and his partner was runner-up. The P. O. S. of A. Quoit League season is on. Camp 102 played five games at Camp 477, winning two and losing three. Bever, for Penbrook, had 41 points, and Sansom, for Steelton, 40. Camp 639 played Camp 716, winning one and losing four. McSwine had 36 for high score and C. H. Kirk 35. Robert S. Bingham, veteran halfback on the Yale football team, has been out of the game for two weeks on account of illness, will be unable to play any more this season. This was announced by Dr. Greenway, the team's medical adviser. Bingham has an organic weakness and the physician told him that to play further would be dangerous to his health.
