REAL ESTATE CITY VALUATION OVER 52 YEARS

erty for the St. Lawrence Catholic Church as the church property is non-assessable. In the Eighth ward the clearing out of the Capitol Park extension zone means a loss of approximately $206,000, a total of $287,000.

This sum lopped from last year's valuation of $51,865,000 would leave a balance of $51,478,000 upon which to base increases. The additions it is figured will run into something like $700,000. The principal additions will be in the Ninth and Tenth wards, most of which has been put into new dwelling houses. The remainder is distributed over the city. In addition to this tentative total Assessor Thompson has a whole lot of recent building and improvement permits to sort out which may mean another $100,000 to include in the city valuations.

CITY BUILDING FALLS OFF

Harrisburg's building operations during October amounted to 11 per cent less than the sum total expended for new buildings in 1915, according to monthly statistics compiled by the American Contractor. All told there are 38 cities of the 111 listed in the country in which there were decreases and Harrisburg is fifth in the list. According to the Contractor 45 permits, representing an outlay of $140,526, were issued while in October, 1915, 37 permits were given out costing $158,490.

INCREASE CAPITAL AND PLANT Co-incident with its application for permission to increase its capital stock from $15,000 to $100,000 the Harrisburg Chemical and Paint Company is completing plans for enlarging the plant at Hemlock street near Ninth. William R. Reinick, formerly connected with the State Museum, is president of the new firm.

PUZZLE DUE TO SOLDIERS' VOTE

State Department Gets Some Interesting Letters in Regard to Balloting

Prothonotaries of a score or more of counties who have been puzzled regarding the way of certifying the returns including the soldiers' vote have been told by officials of the State Department that the returns should include it in the totals. In some counties the men in charge of the official count had made out their official return sheets, which contain over 200 names, without including the soldier's vote. They have been notified that it must be included. In a number of cases, the soldier vote is being separately entered upon the return sheets. At the Capitol the returns will be checked up and entered on the records. Several counties which had new returns rendered necessary by the soldier vote have wired here for more blanks.

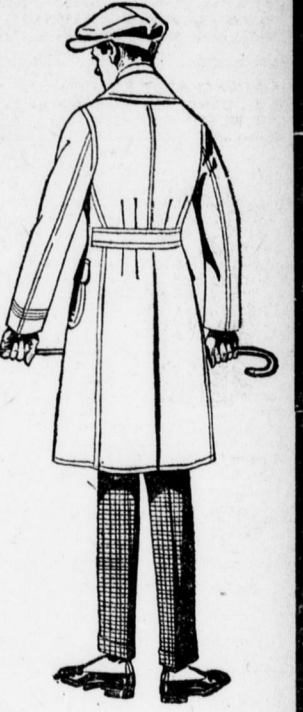

The State Department will send blanks for filing statements of expense accounts to all candidates on tickets, although only the candidates on State-wide tickets are required to file such statements at the Capitol. Others will file at county seats of their home districts. Each of the 30 candidates for presidential elector must file a statement.

Big Trout Output.—A statement today by the State Commission of Fisheries shows that 223,500 one and two-year-old brook trout were sent out from State hatcheries to streams for distribution, during October and November. The largest months for trout "planting" were 121,000 young sunfish, 45,000 catfish, 24,000 black bass, and 14,000 tadpoles were sent out, the commission report states.

Water Cases Later.—The Newport and Hummelstown water complaints, which have been hanging fire at the Public Service Commission, are to be cleared up this month. Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out. Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it. Save your hair! Beauty it! You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

HOTEL CATERING TO NEGRO IS NEED

[Continued From First Page] activities in this line that Dr. Cramp-ton mentioned the colored woman census. "That is another feature of the situation that is a source of trouble," he declared. "We know there are many colored women who appear to live well, dress well and they have no 'visible means of support.' Now, then, we propose to keep tabs on these women. As a rule, they help to make trouble. Whether or not it is a case of color line is neither here nor there; as a rule these fights and disturbances some way, somehow, are traceable to the sex question. Argument on the question of the transfer was finished by W. J. Carter, for the petitioner, just before noon. He declared that a colored hotel was necessary as the negro to-day is allowed by law to buy liquors as well as one of another color; that he is charged the same, and then, after he pays a drink, he is liable for the action of the bartender in deliberately crashing his glass to the floor in front of the bar."

Mr. Carter also referred to the type of liquor that is sold to whites and colored men. In many hotels, he said, pure fluid is kept for the whites, while a "concoction of cologne and alcohol" that is familiarly known as "Jigger" whisky is served to the negro. In a hotel that catered more particularly to the negro, he said, it was a chance for better treatment, he said. The feature of to-day's testimony by the remonstrants was Secretary D. D. Hammelbaugh's objection on the part of the School Board. The Penn school building is in the neighborhood. Frequently, Mr. Hammelbaugh said, drunken men stagger into plain view of the children. "Then you don't believe, as do some people, that the sight of these men should be an object lesson to the children against drunkenness?" asked President Judge Kunkel. "Most certainly I do not," declared Mr. Hammelbaugh. "Nor does the court hold that view," agreed Judge Kunkel, "but it is the firm belief of some people."

DECLARES COUNT CLEAN

Indianaapolis, Ind., Nov. 14.—"Ridiculous," declared Will H. Hays, Republican State chairman, when informed that the election of Harry S. New and James E. Watson for the United States Senate probably will be contested. Everyone who knows anything about the campaign and election in Indiana, Mr. Hays added, "knew they were absolutely free from fraud or irregularities whatsoever. We evidently hear the wallings of defeated gentlemen who cannot take their reversals graciously."

Fear Cold Weather Will Add to Jam of Freight

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 4.—With fifteen degrees above zero predicted by the local Weather Bureau to-night, operating officials of the railroads entering Pittsburgh were taking extraordinary precautions to prevent a tie-up of the tremendous freight movement now in progress east and west. Extra men were ordered to all central points with supplies of oil to keep switches open, and in the mountain districts freight trainmen were instructed to make the best possible time consistent with safety. Every available locomotive was being pressed into service and efforts were being made to rush delivery of locomotives from the shops where they were being built or repaired. So heavy is the freight movement, railroad officials say, that delay of half an hour would hamper and delay traffic on a whole division.
