DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

Peggy Alerts Christmas Chat

The loveliest suggestions for Christmas are offered at the Golden Seal Store, 31 South Market Square in the novel and most artistic blend of perfume and toilet water, which are arranged in gift-like assortment. There are cunning little pyramid bottles with big Egyptian stoppers, filled with extracts of rose, lilies of the valley, violet and heliotrope, and their beautiful colorings give decided charm to these inexpensive bottles, priced at just 50c. A luxurious toilet water is offered in an oddly-shaped oval bottle with embossed medallion on the concave surface. The rose colored perfume, gleaming through the heavy glass makes a beautiful gift for $3.00, while other perfumes are offered at prices to suit every purse.

A Stylish Boot

With prices for footwear higher than ever, most of us must consider carefully and select a boot which may be worn with several costumes, for it is much cheaper to buy one good pair of shoes than several cheap pairs and the Walk Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, are offering just the thing for the well-dressed woman in the Rialto Ball, a black glazed kid boot with dove gray uppers, combined in a novel and most attractive way with the black kid extending up the front of the boot, to give a slender appearance to the foot. The French heel is substantial enough for walking and graceful enough for wear with elaborate afternoon costumes.

New Ideas With Old Ideals

The Studebaker Grocery Store, Second street, at the crossing of State, has long been known as Harrisburg's quality grocery store, and recently this firm has been taken over by Mr. George Barnes, who has long been associated with the business. Under his able direction, improvements have been made, introducing the newest and most advanced ideas of progressive business, yet maintaining the old-fashioned ideals of reliability and the high standards of quality, for which this store has been noted. The scrupulous cleanliness of this establishment, the prompt and courteous service, and the high quality of its food products, make it a wholly satisfactory place to deal.

Smart Frocks of Serge

No woman's wardrobe is complete without a practical serge dress, which can be worn on so many occasions, and some of the smartest of these are now offered by Astrich's, Fourth and Market street, at a reduced price. Charming models in navy blue serge, made in the latest fashion, hung from the shoulder in full box plaits with the neck, straight lines, and touched with woolen or silk embroidery—in several attractive styles, formerly much higher priced, are now offered for just $12.50, and present an unusual opportunity for the clever woman who wants to enjoy a real dress bargain.
