NOT THE ONLY ONE There Are Other Harrisburg People Similarly Situated. Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Harrisburg residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question. Daniel Cless, 516 Peffer street, Harrisburg, says: "Whenever a cold settled on my kidneys, my back got weak and then for a long time it ached something terribly. Often I thought I could not keep about for it hurt me to get up out of a chair and also in bending. At these times the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, highly colored and burned. Every time I have been this way, I have used a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always relieved me." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cless had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COAL GAS INSTEAD OF GASOLINE The scarcity of gasoline in England and its consequent high price has caused motor-bus owners to use ordinary coal gas to drive their cars, says the Popular Science Monthly for December. This is new in application yet old in principle. Many American automobile manufacturers have used coal gas to test their motors.

FACE MADE HIM DIFFERENT The Woman's Home Companion for December prints a story in which this passage occurs: "In the tense sweet earnestness of her upturned face, the eager, unconscious nearness of her occasional gesture,—the far remoteness of her subject,—the sting of the winter night,—it dawned on the Young Doctor a bit startlingly that he was frowning down into the eyes of a particularly beautiful woman, and for some quite unreasonable reason his cheeks began suddenly to burn like fire. It was as though having all his life long for one conscientious reason or another denied himself 'wine when it was red,' he found himself now, most humbly, with ice itself going to his head. And just because he was so thoroughly unaccustomed to having anything go to his head, it went quite uproariously in fact, changing for that one moment his whole facial expression. And the instant his facial expression was changed of course he looked like a different man.—And the instant he looked like a different man of course he began to ACT like a different man."

EVER SEE A HORSE WEARING TROUSERS? When the horses in Nice, France, are hitched to tur-spreading carts they wear trousers to protect their legs from the hot tar. A further protection for them consists of a curtain suspended between the cart and the horse. The trousers are what lend distinction to the horse, however. The knees are a bit baggy, but the horse's doesn't seem to care.—Popular Science Monthly for December.
