

You Can Always Depend Upon Being Able To Buy a Suit, Coat or Dress at This Store In the Correct Fashions and at Moderate Costs

We say "always" because it is the policy of this store to provide splendid values at all times—not spasmodic values now and then. Of what avail would it be to have our prices beyond reasonable costs and then attempt to tell you that prices have been reduced far below their actual value? Wouldn't you prefer to buy at regular prices and KNOW that you are securing the very best garment that it is possible to obtain at the cost? Isn't there a world of satisfaction in buying under such conditions as these? We believe it is so and that is why we are continuing our policy. And that is why more and more women than ever have bought their clothes at this store this season. It accounts for the biggest ready-to-wear business we've done in years.

- Suits $10.00 to $29.50
Coats $5.00 to $60.00
Dresses $5.00 to $35.00

"Well, I Am as Glad to Buy This Coat as You Are to Sell It"

—was the statement made by one of our customers the other day. She added that she had walked all over town, had tried to find what she wanted and was all worn out — that it was certainly a welcome relief to be able to find what she wanted. We feel this statement of one of our customers is worthy of particular mention for the simple reason that expressions of a similar nature have been made quite often. It is not an uncommon thing to hear expressions like this in the store. In making our selections we used so much care that we felt absolutely sure that sooner or later our customers would be forcefully impressed with the superior styles we are showing. And in addition to this, the costs are exceptionally moderate. Prices of coats range from $5.00 to $60.00.

Beautiful Coats Moderately Priced

Our stock of coats is now at its very height. The coat season is in full swing. The styles are "certainly beautiful" — as one of our customers expressed it the other day. And if you will but take the time and make comparison of costs you will find that the coats at this store are marked at extremely moderate prices, especially so for the quality of materials and the exclusive styles we are showing. Here are coats you will be proud to own and wear. Prices of coats range from $5.00 to $60.00.

Let Us Make This Point Particularly Clear---We Claim Unusual Values in Women's Coats at $15

If the coats were marked at double the price — if they were made of the very finest materials to be obtained — they could not possess more style or be more desirable to the wearer. The fact that they are made of moderate priced fabrics, though of the season's BEST materials, and since unnecessary costs have been eliminated, makes it possible to offer such unusual coats at this very ordinary price.

MOTHER'S WORDS INSPIRE GOVERNOR

Square Deal Demanded That He Veto Full Crew Law Repealer, He Says

Governor Brumbaugh to-day told the members of the legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, representing 102 lodges and 20,000 members, that he had vetoed the bill to repeal the full crew law because he thought it was the square deal to do so and that in so doing he had followed the teachings of his mother, who had impressed upon him the importance of standing for the right.

The committee visited the Capitol after the reception to the Methodist laymen and were presented by the officers. The Governor shook hands with all of them and was asked for a speech. He at once spoke on the full crew repeal bill and was applauded vigorously.

When asked to outline his housing bill the Governor said that he planned a general bill for the state which would provide cleaner, better homes for the men and women and for the children who will be the men and women of tomorrow. The railroad men pledged him their support.

Sobbing She Hunts Husband With Baggage Checks

LOST—A HUSBAND. That is the sum of a story, twice sobbingly related by a pretty movie actress to sympathetic bluecoats at the station-house. Last evening a good-looking, strikingly dressed young lady became rather hilarious in the Senate cafe, and not caring for too much excitement the manager called the police to have them quiet the disorder. Taken to the station-house she attempted to kiss the Mayor and as no one appeared with a charge against her, she was discharged. This morning she again called at the police station seeking aid in the search for her husband. She declares that they are booked for Newport where a big scenario will be staged, when she will ride a ferry county broncho of a cliff right into the river. The lost one has the checks for the baggage, and she has the keys and she can't proceed until they are reunited. At a late hour this afternoon she was still looking for the missing man.

Telephone Society Eats York Co. Apples and Pretzels

At the monthly meeting of the Harrisburg Telephone Society last night an apple and pretzel feast was tendered the members by the employees of the York-Adams county district. After J. C. Staples, publicity manager of the Bell Telephone company, had made his address, the curtains in front of the stage were drawn back and a most watering sensation passed over the 200 members present. There were apples galore, mostly Stamen Winesap. However, there were other exhibits of winter varieties that were grown in Adams county by Robert Garretson, I. H. Rice, Bane Snyder, C. Griest & Son, Tyson Bros. and O. C. Rice. Stauffer's pretzels were heaped in front of the apples on the stage.

High in the rear of the stage was a large board with the words, "York-Adams District" outlined in apples. After eating their full of apples and pretzels, each member was given an apple, the wrapper of which contained the words, "Harrisburg Telephone Society, Compliments of the York-Adams District." A bag of pretzels was also handed each member to be taken home. This feature of the evening was originated by Local Manager Overpeck, of York, Pa.

Goes Through Door Via Hop, Step and a Jump

Duncannon, Pa., Nov. 21. — Duncannon folks a few days ago read in the Telegraph that startling tale of Mrs. R. W. Mell's leap through the second floor window of her home in Harrisburg. Duncannon folks know Mrs. Mell very well and consequently were highly edified.

After a tale acted to the townsfolk's edification, however, the leaping abilities of Mell, the husband, set the home folks all agog. Incidentally he is now awaiting trial for court in the county jail.

Mell came to town Saturday evening, demanded to see his wife, was refused admission by an irate father-in-law—and then coolly backed off a few feet, did a run, hop, step and jump and sailed gracefully through the glass panel of the front door.

DON'T CALL HIM WHEN HE'S BUSY Girls, Take a Tip From Miss Fairfax; Wait Until After Office Hours

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX "Flossie" has written to me on a subject which none of my readers has ever broached before. But it is one about which a great many of my readers would do well to think, and so I quote her letter exactly as it is written: "I had a lengthy discussion on the top of whether it is proper for a young lady to call up her masculine friends on the 'phone just for a social call, I still feel undecided. It is to you, my dear Miss Fairfax, that I turn for a decision. Do you think it is proper for a young lady to call up different gentlemen on the 'phone just for a little chat? Most decidedly not, Flossie. Men who have any serious business are sure to be annoyed when women call them up for the mere time of day. All men ridicule the feminine habit of visiting over the telephone. Any man who has anything serious to say to a girl will not discuss it over the phone. He will call her up and as briefly as possible make an appointment to meet her. Do you know any worth-while man who make a practice of telephoning their women friends merely for the joy of conversation? The type of men who does this thing, describes his own preceding pretty accurately when he says: "Guess I'll call up Mabel and jolly her along a little. It's easier than trotting out to see her." Being "jollied along" by a man is distinctly not to a girl's advantage. It is a lazy man's way of amusing himself as insincerely and as much without effort as possible. It certainly isn't worth while wasting 5 cents to call up such a man! And as for the men of more worthy calibre—earnest, sincere men of the working type—to bother them with idle persiflage over a telephone, is to estrange their best liking and most sincere interest. Don't do it. It annoys them and it places you in the category of tiresome chatterboxes, completely obnoxious to the masculine soul!
