ACADEMY SPIRIT SHOWS INCREASE

Due to Rapid Growth in Attendance This Year; Adopt Group System

With the registration of Miguel Alcivar, the son of a prominent Ecuadorian surgeon and physician, last Wednesday, the enrollment of the Harrisburg Academy numbers 177, with one-half dozen more boys to enter here the Christmas holidays. With the splendid increase in attendance at the Academy this year has come a marked growth in Academy spirit.

This is evidenced by the victorious football team which up to date has not suffered a single defeat; by the organization of a splendid school orchestra; by the increased interest in track athletics; and most of all by the higher standard of scholarship.

Adopt Group System

The Academy recently adopted the group system of study supervision. Each master is a counselor for a given group or group of pupils, it being the counselor's privilege to stimulate and assist the pupils who may need their encouragement and help. The system has worked splendidly with the result that there were fewer failures last month than at any time last year notwithstanding the fact that there are thirty more pupils in attendance this year.

Academy Notes

The lecture was well attended by the science pupils of Central high school, Technical high school and the Academy. The instructors in the science departments of the three schools were especially pleased with the lecture.

At the Monday morning assembly Dr. Frederic B. Fisher, general secretary of the Laymen's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, addressed the boys on "Some of the Problems of the Orient." The boys will long remember this forceful speaker and the message of inspiration which he brought to them.

On Saturday evening the Sphinx Club of the Harrisburg Academy gave an entertainment. Dr. John Frederic Mohler, of the Dickinson College faculty, gave a talk on the "Study of the Sun." The lecture was illustrated by many beautiful slides made by Dr. Mohler himself. The main feature of the lecture was a discussion of the spectroscope, an apparatus by which you can see many things in the heavens that would not be revealed by the aid of a telescope many times as large.

Mrs. McLelland Thurston, of 1648 North Fourth street, is home after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lehmer, of Ardenheim.

Miss Ruth D. Beatty, of 626 Harris street, has returned from State College, where she attended the Pennsylvania day festivities and the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity house party.

Mrs. Bertha Kaufman and daughters, Rose and Jessie, have returned to Williamsport after spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. J. P. Blosser, at Rockville.

Mrs. Frank Payne, of 1961 North Front street left Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Weaver, formerly of this city, now of Chicago.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Royall Carter of Hampton, Va., were recent guests of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. James Fry Bullitt of Bellevue.

Mrs. A. Carson Stamm of Thirteenth and Reese Streets, is home after a visit with her daughter, Miss Katherine Stamm of Scranton, who is studying music there this winter.

NEW HOME OF HARRISBURG CIVIC CLUB IS SCENE OF HAPPY HOUSEWARMING EVENT

Members of the Harrisburg Civic Club met yesterday at their new home, Front and North streets. It was a delightful housewarming occasion. Each member contributed to one of the most successful gatherings held in the history of the club. Mrs. William Henderson, president, presided.

Mrs. Edward Biddle, president of the Women's Civic Club, Philadelphia, was unable to be present. Kenneth Pray, of Philadelphia, took Mrs. Biddle's place. Mr. Pray who is a charity worker, gave an interesting address, urging the Civic club to advocate the passage of an appropriation bill by the next Legislature, providing for $250,000 for the completion of the buildings for the Home of the Feeble-Minded Women, now in course of construction in Union county.

Mrs. Harvey Smith gave an interesting report on the meeting of the State Federation, Philadelphia, during October. Mrs. Smith with Mrs. George Kunkel, Mrs. James I. Chamberlin and Miss Mary Jennings were delegates from Harrisburg.

Mrs. James I. Chamberlin reported on the financial condition of the Civic club and said that only $750 was needed to wipe out the indebtedness of $12,000. The meeting was attended by 150 members. It was announced that on Thanksgiving Day the home would be formerly opened and would be open after 11 o'clock in the morning for the balance of the day, for a general housewarming to all members and their families.

Donor of New Home
The donor of the new home was Mrs. Virginia Hammond Fleming, widow of William Fleming, who for years lived in Harrisburg and was foremost in everything pertaining to the good of the city and active in the work of the Civic club. Mrs. Fleming, on the death of her husband, left her beautiful residence, on the bank of the Susquehanna, at Front and North streets, and for several years, or until her death, lived in New York City.

The Civic club came into full possession last May and since then the club has been engaged in remodeling, furnishing and redecorating what is acknowledged to be one of the finest mansions in Harrisburg.

Overlooking the river, it has one of the finest sites in the State. It is of brick construction, and has been remodelled to meet the wants of the club. There are meeting rooms, a large assembly hall, diningroom, reception hall and all the other rooms necessary to the work of the club. The work of remodeling and furnishing cost $12,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Looker Give Surprise For Son Albert
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Looker, 40 1/2 North Summit street, gave a surprise party last night for their son Albert. Games were in order and a buffet luncheon was served. Among those present were Mildred Slusser, Mildred Yeager, Catherine Bittie, Lillian Coleman, Grace Shultz, Edna Schuler, Mildred Muncher, Helen Murray, Elizabeth Feindt, Ray Knell, Annie Ruby, Miss Freda Dahr, Miss Ruth Neal, Mrs. J. B. Looker, Mrs. H. E. Feindt, Mrs. Logan Ruby, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Fred Yeager, Mrs. Page and daughter Maxine, Mrs. William Ebersole and son William, Albert Looker, Harry Looker, Leonard Looker, Clarence Looker, Jacob Looker, Paul Coleman, Charlie Bittie, David Danner, Edward Feindt, Norman Slusser, Luther Slusser, John Muncher, Cedecr Wendler, Howard Shambaugh, Logan Ruby and Gilbert Pike.

Miss Anna C. Greene of 623 North Seventh is convalescent after a severe illness. Forney George of Middletown spent the week with his aunt, Miss Catherine Forney of Eighteenth and Regina streets. Alec Heyburn, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. James Fry Bullitt, of Ridgway, Bellevue, over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Underwood, who were recently married left Saturday for their new home in Golden, Colo.

Miss Dorothy George of Middletown spent the week-end in Harrisburg as the guest of Miss Katherine Beldeman, Market and Evergreen streets. Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Maguire, of 5 South Front street, have returned home from Princeton where they attended the Yale-Princeton game. Miss Katherine Beldeman of Market and Evergreen streets was a recent Middletown visitor.

ROYAL BUNCH MEET
When eleven members of the Royal Bunch assembled Monday at its semi-annual stag dinner with Charles W. Burger of 315 Peffer street as host, there was something doing every minute. Cards, music, songs, refreshments followed by a smoker and story telling made up the program. Those present were Charles O. Houston, Lester McIlhenny, William Daniel, John Mehring, John Moses, George J. Goudy, Wilson Roberts, George Marshall, Fred Patterson, Ben Lantz and Charles W. Burger.

Miss Esther Bishop, a student at the Maryland College, Lutherville, Md., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bishop of 2003 Riverside Drive. Gwyneth Glimmer of Philadelphia spent the week-end with Miss Amy R. Harner of 1450 Market street.

Simplicity was the keynote of the wedding which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Robinson, 1538 Derry street, when their daughter, Miss Kathleen Louise Robinson became the bride of George R. McCurdy. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock this afternoon by the Rev. J. A. Lyter, pastor of the Derry Street United Brethren Church, who used the ring service.

The bride wore a modish going-away suit of dark blue chiffon broadcloth, with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the guests who included the immediate members of the families of the young couple.

Upon their return from their wedding trip to Philadelphia and other eastern cities, Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy will be "at home" to their friends at their newly furnished apartments, 1816 Penn street after December 1. Miss Robinson is a reader of rare talents, studying under Mrs. C. L. Peck.

The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McCurdy, of 1816 Penn street, is a popular athlete, who during his school career was a member of the Hasset basketball team and of the Tech football and basketball teams. He is at present connected with the Bell Telephone company as draftsman.

Miss Esther Bishop, a student at the Maryland College, Lutherville, Md., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bishop of 2003 Riverside Drive. Gwyneth Glimmer of Philadelphia spent the week-end with Miss Amy R. Harner of 1450 Market street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kettel, 2035 North Fourth street, announce the birth of a daughter, Josephine Elizabeth, Sunday, November 19.

Peggy Alerts Christmas Chat

Everything from the dignified Tick-tock, Tick-tock of the big grandfathers' clock, to the busy little pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat of the little ivory clock, may be found in the interesting assortment of Christmas clocks shown at the H. C. Claster Jewelry Shop, 302 Market street. Wonderful in the beauty of design are offered in most pleasing variety at just $1.00 and make most appropriate gifts. In all of these clocks, the movement is guaranteed.

INDIVIDUALITY IN HANDKERCHIEFS
Whoever said handkerchiefs were commonplace gifts, has never seen the array of "kerchiefs" shown at the Woman's Exchange, Third street at Herr, for each is so individually different, that it seems to express a personality. There is a sheer handkerchief with the loveliest gold basket of pink and white daisies for "the glad girl," another with a pert little poll-parrot in brilliant colorings for the tailored girl, exquisite bits of oriental colorings on fine linen, for the matron, lovely shades of crepe de chine for the debutante, and a collection of children's "kerchiefs" that keeps one gasping, "Ah's and Oh's" of delight. Children's handkerchiefs, sell three for 15c and up, while the others are 25c a piece.

BOYS AT THE DIFFICULT AGE
Are you wondering just what gift would please a boy at the "difficult" age? I found the most complete and interesting assortment of books for boys, at Cotterell's, 9 N. Market Square—books, which any real boy will enjoy. The Boy Allies Series, such as "In the Trenches," "At Liege," "The Flying Squadron" and similar new books of the present war, are of absorbing interest to up-to-date boys. Then there are the River Motorboat Series, and the Boy Scout books, full of Nature lore, and river and woodland knowledge, while the historical series and the "Broncho Rider Boys" each has its own appeal. Any of these books are offered for just 25c apiece.

OLD-FASHIONED BUCKWHEAT CAKES
No one who has yet to taste the flavor of Studebaker's old-fashioned buckwheat flour in buckwheat cakes can realize what a culinary treat it is in store for him or her, and these November mornings are just the time when good old-fashioned buckwheat cakes and sausage for breakfast taste most delicious. The Studebaker Store, (now owned by Mr. George Barnes) Second street at the crossing of State, offers the genuine buckwheat flour of the old-fashioned kind, that makes cakes that taste like
