The store that gave us the "Overcoat-Fair," is giving us, too, a wonderful assortment of knitted silk scarfs and mufflers to wear with overcoats. The Doutrich Store, 304 Market street, have an assortment which contains the newest and smartest styles, at a wide range of prices, and for holiday giving they are offered, most attractively and conveniently boxed. The woman who wishes a man, will not only find here a comprehensive assortment, but the sales a man, will not only find here a comprehensive assortment, but the sales a man, who serve, every day, so many types of men, at the "Live Store" are most competent to advise the woman who needs help when she goes a-shopping for men.

THANKSGIVING "GOODIES"

Just to see the tempting glass jars of Gordon and Dillsworth's mince meat makes one hungry for Thanksmeat makes one hungry for Thanksgiving mince pies, and so many "goodies" are offered at the Studebaker Grocery Store (now owned by Mr. George Barnes) Second street at the crossing of State, that I have only space to hint of them here. Prices and more ample suggestions will be gladly given either by telephone or at the Studebaker Store. They offer both Gordon and Dillsworth mince meat,—for those who like a "stick" in it, and the Ferndell brand for those who like it without,—home baked fruit cake, wrapped in one pound packages, several excellent brands of plum puddings, candied fruits, nuts, raisins, spices, and the best of ingredients for home baking.

Central High Notes

Central High Notes

Prof, H. G. Dibble announced in chapel yesterday the names of those who are to be members of the Demosthenian Literary Society this year at Central. This list comprises about forty seniors, and was prepared by Miss Orth and Prof. John Hall, of the faculty. The names submitted this year numbered about seventy-five, twenty being selected by Prof. Dibble, and these twenty students electing the additional twenty which will form this year's Demosthenian.

The preliminaries for the Kunkel Prize Oratorical contest for junior boys will probably be held Wednesday, December 6. The judges' names have not yet been announced. The main and final contest will be Friday, December 15, and Miss Susan Applegate, instructor in elocution, is working hard training the candidates, and deserves much commendation.

Any members of the "S" section in 1914 who are not Centralians, are earnestly urged to join. There are but few of such, but they are invited to talk with the president, Blair E. Smith, or other officers, concerning their admission.

The Sigma Eta society, which is composed of senior girls of Central High School, met last night at the home of Miss Margaret Koster, 230 Woodbine street. Miss Gertrude Rimer and Miss Mildred Goetz sang several popular songs and were accompanied by Miss Miriam Blair.

The McCormick short story contest closed Monday, and from all appearances some good stories were submitted. The decisions will be made by the judges in the near future, and prizes awarded.
