Bulgarians Make Stand

A new battle has opened on the Macedonian front, where the Bulgarians and Germans who evacuated Monastir are making a stand against the pursuing Serbians and French. Paris reports the Teutonic allies making a stubborn resistance, and a heavy fog also holding up the advance.

The battle line is at its nearest point to Monastir immediately north of the city of Sngrovo and runs thence almost directly eastward across the country within the bend of the Cerna river. In pushing the German-Bulgarian forces back to this line the entire troops have made important captures of men and material. To-day's French statement reports the taking of 500 additional prisoners.

Comparative quiet continues to prevail on the Franco-Belgian front, London announcing nothing more important than artillery and patrol activity.

The realist groups did not withdraw asserting that they had not received the necessary orders from Athens. They were notified they must leave the neutral zone by this evening."

The establishment by General Sarrail, commander of the entente forces in Macedonia of a neutral zone along the frontier of old Greece, was reported in a press dispatch from Athens on November 17.

FOUST WARNS OF FOOD SITUATION

Commissioner Says Prospects Can Be Verified by Use of Mathematics

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Winter is commencing to hear from the folks about his proposed embargo on foodstuffs for export. The commissioner suggested that in order to prevent further advances in the price of important articles of food which are now taking shape for Europe in enormous quantities the government inaugurate steps to forbid their export except in certain amounts at stated times. "My idea was based upon a study of reports," said the commissioner to-day. "I have been examining into the quantity of food in storage in Pennsylvania to-day and we have a pretty fair line on what we can get. We have 8,000,000 people in the Keystone State and if the food keeps on going out we are going to be short of it. It is not too much to say that in sixty days we will be feeling the pinch. We have taken pains to safeguard our food supply and now it strikes me that we have to act to avoid living on a limited supply. My reports show that there have been big reductions in stocks of canned and prepared foods. Europe is taking quantities which are hard to realize and right here in a part of Pennsylvania famous for its productiveness we are paying prices which if anyone would have predicted them a few years ago he would have been hoisted. The problem is one which calls for speedy action to safeguard the supply. Plans will show what is going on and demonstrate what is going to happen."

STEELTON NEWS

SCHWAB TELLS OF HIS PLANS

Bethlehem Steel After War Will Go After Commercial Supremacy

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—"At the present time 5,500 men are employed at Sparrows Point; our plans contemplate the ultimate employment there of from 15,000 to 20,000 men, with an annual payroll in Baltimore of some 20,000,000."

"Our program calls for an expenditure here in plant and equipment of about $50,000,000. We will have an annual capacity here of about 1,250,000 tons of steel; and we will pay out in freight rates to transportation companies entering Baltimore some $20,000,000 a year," declared Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel Company, last night at the Belvedere hotel at the conclusion of a most elaborate banquet, banquet of welcome by Baltimore, and in the presence of the most distinguished gathering which has, perhaps, ever assembled in Baltimore. The ambitious plans for Baltimore brought forth a round of applause by those business men upon whose ears they fell, the men who make up the steel industry around and thunderous and sincere was the applause, for Baltimore was realizing the dream of a lifetime, the industrial development which belongs to the city by right of location by natural advantages and shipping facilities.

"These are but parts of a much larger program involving the development of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation as a whole," continued Mr. Schwab. "Our work at Baltimore will be the handling of steel products. We have another large program of improvement under way at Harrisburg, and an even more extensive program in the works at Bethlehem. "Our facilities here, when completed, will embrace four new blast furnaces, with the appropriate power, ore handling equipment and other auxiliaries; four plate mills, equipped with every modern improvement to manufacture complete lines of commercial steel products; three modern merchant bars, 24 template and sheet mills; one wire rod mill and sufficient open hearth and Bessemer, blooming, slabbing and roughing mills to supply the needs of all the foregoing.

To Erect Large Drydock. In addition, we shall develop sufficient byproduct coke oven capacity to supply all coke requirements for the entire plant; we shall make substantial extensions to our shipbuilding facilities, including the building of a new dry dock as large as any on the Atlantic coast and adequate to accommodate the largest dreadnaught. To serve this shipyard, we have now already started to dredge a 35-foot channel to connect with the main channel in Chesapeake Bay. The largest ships afloat will be able to come into or leave our enclosure.

"In addition, we plan to develop at Sparrows Point a steel plant as large as any plant in the United States. We plan to develop here shipbuilding facilities as extensive as any in the United States. "We shall continue to concentrate at Bethlehem our production of high-grade finished steels and ordnance products. Bethlehem will be a leader in the largest single construction undertaken ever entered upon by a single industrial corporation.

"Our steel activities up to now have been mainly in the production of ordnance products and munitions. But when our plan of improvement is completed, the 25 component parts of Bethlehem Steel will consist of only one part ordnance-making; four parts will be shipbuilding and 20 parts the manufacture of steel for products. Bethlehem Steel will have ceased to be primarily an ordnance-making corporation.

"When the war is over there will of necessity be a reduction in the demand for ordnance steel, and there will be some recession in steel prices generally. But the domestic demands for steel rails, for building, and for other uses, other purposes only await a more normal condition of trade to press forward for prompt satisfaction. Those domestic demands alone will absorb our steel capacity for many years."

Two Colored Thieves Held For Court on Two Charges

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Steels last evening Grantville Davis and James Fisher, both colored, who, local authorities believe, are responsible for a series of petty thefts and holdups in the borough for the last year, were held for the action of the courts on charges of larceny, battery and robbery. This is the second time the pair appeared before the local squire.

At the hearing last evening charges against the pair were made by Basil Johnson, who alleges that they attacked him in Adams street recently and took $18 from his pockets. Both prisoners were ordered to look out in the holdup. They were committed to jail some time ago on a charge of larceny. It is alleged the pair stole a bag of money from a meat delivery wagon of the Steelton Store Company. Detective Durnbaugh was successful in capturing them after a year's search.

No matter how well a piano is constructed if tone is not there, the piano becomes only an ornament. Tone is the expressive voice of a piano, but in the Stieff, tone combines with those things which make a piano stand up well under the severest strain.

Farmers Blame Living Cost on Middle Man

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—The National Grange has named a committee to prepare a brief freeing the farmer of blame for the high cost of living. The committee, appointed after a discussion of charges that farmers are growing rich at the expense of the consumer, was directed to set forth that the farmer's own purchases cost twice as much as a few years ago and that profits on farm products have remained nearly at a standstill.

Two-dollar wheat, speakers declared, will not enrich any farmer as long as the cost of labor and machinery continues to rise. Distribution methods in a large measure will be held responsible by the committee for the high cost of food to the consumer.
