

Peggy Alerts Christmas Chat

Who ever said that there is nothing new under the sun! The holiday offerings I have seen in the shops are a strong refutation of that statement, and at Cotterell's, 9 N. Market Square there are many gift suggestions, both unique and attractive. Of course, book blocks, have been shown before, but never have I seen any to compare in artistic merit with those offered at Cotterell's from $2.00 to $8.00 a pair. Many of these are replicas of famous architectural and sculptural works. A perfect beauty in dull bronze finish represents the facade of the Parthenon, another shows the Lion of Lucerne, while others are in Egyptian design, beautifully carved. These give just a hint of the many attractive gifts in bronze, solid brass, and copper de luxe, which Cotterell's offer.

A WINTER DREAM

"B-r-r-r-r"—the wind whistles—but your overcoat—turn up your collar—but first slip on one of the new mufflers that the Dourtrich Store for Men, 304 Market street is showing. If you are a man of discrimination, and stop in this store to look at the many beautiful knitted silk scarfs and mufflers on display there, you will probably wake up the next morning and find that you have dreamed of yourself wearing that stunning black and white scarf with your new English tweed overcoat, or perhaps that clever scarf of old-gold and blue with your big give away. Whatever your taste, you will be sure to find just what appeals to you in the Dourtrich assortment and any of these are attractively boxed for Christmas giving.

NOVELTY IN THE THANKSGIVING DINNER

You will want your Thanksgiving dinner to be novel without being eccentric, and the best way to arrange this, is to serve delicacies that are out-of-the-ordinary, and will make the dinner tempting and appetizing. You will find all sorts of suggestions at the Studebaker Grocery Store, (now owned by Mr. George Barnes) Second street at the crossing of State. For instance, some of their French marjans in syrup would prove an interesting delicacy, while the Fernell salad cherries, stuffed with nuts and served on lettuce make a light and most delicate winter give away. A beautiful touch of tempting color to the table, nothing is prettier than a silver or glass dish heaped with Studebaker's candied fruits.

CHRISTMAS CROCHETING

I wonder if all the women who can manipulate a crochet needle, realize how many novel Christmas gifts they could make. The suggestions I found at the Woman's Exchange, Third street at Herr, are innumerable, and I believe everyone, no matter how expert—could find something new there. There are tea tray covers, bread tray covers, and luncheon sets with an individually appropriate pattern crocheted, and the Exchange carries a complete line of instruction books, priced at just 10c and 25c which make it easy for the amateur to learn the intricacies of flat, shaped yokes for underwear, and many difficult stitches, while the expert will find in them most beautiful patterns. Of course, The Woman's Exchange carry a complete assortment of the best crochet cottons.

PRETTY AND USEFUL GIFTS

The cry has been so often raised, and so long sustained against useless Christmas giving, that it is needless to speak of it again. The atrocities that some shops used to offer as "gifts" because there was no other word or purpose to describe them are rarely seen, but often gifts which might serve useful purposes, are shown at holiday time, so poorly made that they are absolutely useless. It is because the manure sets shown at the Golden Seal Drug Store, 11 S. Market Square, are so splendidly designed for real utility, that they especially appeal to me, while their dainty beauty, makes them very giftable. Some have handles of mother-of-pearl or ivory, and they are arranged in pretty folding cases, ranging in price from $1.25 up.

THE DETAILS OF GOOD FOOTWEAR

The well-groomed woman is careful about the minutest detail of her costume, and insists on perfection of finish, even when these details are seen by the casual observer. It is this fact that gives Walk-Over Shoes their popularity with women of this class, for the workmanship on these shoes is perfect, and the designs are made by experts who know the value of good lines. I noticed a most attractive boot at the Walk-Over Shop, 226 Market street, which was a perfectly plain black kid, on the Stratford Bal last, which curves gracefully at the top of the uppers, the vamp is plain, but built on the slender, graceful lines characteristic of this last, and the boot is finished with a French heel. The entire boot is lined in white, and it sells for just $8.00.

THE SYMBOLISM OF GIFTS

The symbolism, as well as the beauty of the clever little wishbone scarf pins shown at the H. C. Claster Jewelry Shop, 302 Market street, make them especially appropriate for Christmas giving. This store seems to be replete with gift suggestions for men, as well as women, and their line of scarf pins is comprehensive, including the neat little designs suitable for young boys, and styles unique and smart for older men. They offer a big assortment of solid gold pins at $1.00 up. Some of the most beautiful designs, and offer a wide range for selection.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS

BIG DANCE AT COLONIAL CLUB

Other Social Events Planned For Thanksgiving Week; Many Small Parties

Thanksgiving Day and the approach of the holiday season will be heralded by a number of important social events, a number of which will be held this week. One of the biggest of these will be the dance on Thursday evening at the Colonial Country Club. A number of college students who will be home for the holidays are expected to attend and the dance promises to be one of the most successful of the season. Arrangements are also being made for a club dinner-dance to be given during the early part of December. The date has not been decided for this event.

Other smaller parties are being planned for the week, among them a progressive 500 entertainment and luncheon at St. Francis' Church for the benefit of the church, and a masquerade by the Tech Alumni Association on Thursday evening. A number of these will be masquerade parties. Of interest to the music lovers of the city will be the Thanksgiving recital tomorrow evening in Augsburg Lutheran church.

The closing event of the week will be the big banquet on Friday evening given by the Tech Alumni Association to the members of the Tech high football team.

SHELL-RING WEDDING

Enna, Pa., Nov. 27. Miss Beulah May Shell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shell of Columbia Road, Enola, and William G. Ring were married on Thursday evening at the parsonage of the Rev. J. Stewart Glen, pastor.

The bride was attended by her mother, and wore a blue silk traveling scarf pins shown at the H. C. Claster Jewelry Shop, 302 Market street, and has a host of friends in the community.

FIVE HUNDRED AND LUNCHEON

A progressive five hundred and luncheon will be given to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock by the Ladies' Catholic Benefit Association for St. Francis' Church. Games of 500 will be played in the school where tables will be arranged, and those not playing will be served with luncheon in the church basement. Games will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

SWEENEY-YOUNG

Miss Mary Mae Sweeney, daughter of Mrs. E. M. Sweeney, 27 North Chelsea avenue, and Louis Alonzo Young, both of Philadelphia, were married this afternoon in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Atlantic City. The couple left for an extended wedding trip through the South after the ceremony. They will be at Philadelphia, after January 1. The bridegroom is widely known in the State and has a number of friends in this city. He was graduated from Penn University, class of 1914, and was captain on the varsity football team of his senior year. He was also first honor man in his class.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS OBSERVE THANKSGIVING

Members of Harrisburg Camp, No. 8, United Spanish War Veterans, held a Thanksgiving dinner on Friday evening. Past Department Commander E. Laubenstein made the principal address. Piano solos, a duet and patriotic and sacred songs featured the program. Miss Helen Shade and Mrs. H. Hershey Hocker furnished music for the evening. A social hour followed, after which refreshments were served.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Turkeys

Don't buy your Thanksgiving turkey until you see the fine bunch at stockyards, Seventh and Maclay streets; 1,500 to select from. Prices reasonable. Good, fat turkeys.

Doctors prescribe Resinol for skin trouble

For over twenty years, physicians have relied on Resinol Ointment in the treatment of many skin and scalp troubles. They prefer it because it so quickly stops itching and burning, and clears away redness, rawness, crusts or scales. They know, too, that it contains only the gentlest of healing materials, which could not injure or irritate the tenderest skin. Why not try it for your skin? Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists. For samples free, write to Dept. L.N., Resinol, Baltimore. Use Resinol Soap for your hair.

Harrisburgers Attend Banquet at Emporium

A banquet was given last Friday evening at the new St. Charles Hotel, Emporium, Pa., in honor of Pennsylvania Railroad trainmen crews who have been transferred from that place to Harrisburg. The banquet hall was decorated with palms and ferns with a beautiful bouquet of white and pink carnations for the table centerpiece. Bert Schoff of Buffalo, N. Y., was toastmaster during the evening and responses were made by J. R. Quiggle and E. L. Yarnell of Harrisburg. Covers were laid for fifteen and there were friends present from Emporium, Buffalo, Erie, Olean and Harrisburg. Those from this city who attended were J. R. Quiggle, E. L. Yarnell, C. H. Herrold, J. N. Gamble, J. C. Morgan and M. W. Horley.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT!

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderin at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Adv.
