weights and measures, representing the city. Wholesale and retail dealers, also, have given the proposal their approval as the only practical method of defeating the speculators. This embargo is said to be the first one of its kind which has had the support of dealers. In fact, it is stated that it was suggested by a representative of one of the largest grocery firms in the city. A meeting of the presidents of all the retail grocers' associations has been called for next Wednesday to work out a plan of cooperation between the public and retail dealers to strike at speculation in eggs and later to attack speculation in other food stuffs. Reports from other cities indicate that the movement is already widespread. In Boston the Typographical Union has adopted resolutions urging its members to refuse to buy Thanksgiving turkeys at any price and to use as little butter and eggs as possible.

U-BOATS STIRS SHIPPING RINGS

[Continued From First Page] entente allies to beware of hostile sub-sea boats on this side of the Atlantic. Not since the U-53 entered Newport harbor, October 7, and on the following day sank several British merchant vessels has there been so much uneasiness in marine quarters. It is believed that the merchant vessels of the allies now loading in this port will not venture out until the British government gives assurances that the seas are clear and the danger remote. Among the steamships belonging to the allied countries due to arrive this week are the Cunard line steamers Laconia and Patmosia, with passengers from Liverpool and London, respectively; the anchor liner Tuscania, from Glasgow; the White Star liner Lapland from Liverpool; the Duca D'Aosta, from Genoa; and the Bermudian from Bermuda. The freighters include the Celtic and Bovic of the White Star line. Almost a score of French and British merchantmen have sailed from this port within the last two days and all of these vessels are within the zone which is supposed to be most dangerous. A number of large steamers also are approaching Boston and Philadelphia.

Incoming Steamers Picked Up Warning, but Did Not Sight Any Submarines

New York, Nov. 27. -- Six steamships arriving here to-day from European and West Indies ports reported they caught wireless warnings yesterday to keep a watch for bellicose submarines but all brought word that no craft of that type had been observed. The incoming vessels took such precautions as shrouding the lights during darkness and having the lifeboats swung out. The arrivals to-day included the American liner Lapland from Liverpool, the Italian ships Duca D'Aosta and Napoli from Mediterranean ports, the Danish vessel Frederik VIII from Scandinavian ports, the Brazos from Porto Rico and the Bermudian from Bermuda. The Frederik VIII put in at Kirkwall, Scotland, where the British authorities removed the mails. She brought here Roald Amundsen, explorer of South Polar regions, who said he came on a private mission; Lieut. Astor Eranjean, of the Danish army, who plans to purchase American airplanes; and Manuel Calderon, Cuban minister to Norway.

RABBIT KILL IS IN THE MILLIONS

Dr. Kalbfus Says That It May Run Up as High as Four Million This Year

Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, to-day estimated that the bag of rabbits in Pennsylvania this season would be close to double the 2,000,000 of last year and predicted that there would be record kills of wild turkeys and deer.

The number of rabbits killed this year has been very large and I think it will come close to 4,000,000 or double that of last season. I attribute this to many places of bounties on weasels and the prohibition of furs, said Dr. Kalbfus. "Wild turkeys" have been abundant thanks to a recent closed season, but the quail and grouse killed have not been as large as expected. It is going to be increasingly difficult to propagate these game birds, even with the funds provided with hunters' licenses, if they are to be killed right out. The question of a closed season on quail for some years will be discussed at a conference to be held here in January.

The number of deer in the State is large and we have reports of them in many places. A number of counties have been closed to them to allow them to propagate, but in the mountain counties both deer and bear are plentiful.

The Fiscal Year.--The State's fiscal year closes on Wednesday afternoon, November 29, the last day of the month being a legal holiday. Indications are that the revenue will go around the $35,000,000 mark, the receipts from taxes having been very heavy in the last few days. The corporation tax year, which formerly closed this month, will close with the year under the new act.

Municipalities Invited.--Notices have been sent by the Department of Health Samuel G. Dixon to all municipalities of the State informing them of the conference to be held in the hall of the House of Representatives here on Wednesday regarding ways and means to end steam pollution. Most of the water and water supply companies of the State have been asked to send representatives by the State Water Supply Commission and scores of companies operating tanneries, coal mines, mills, chemical plants and blast furnaces have also been notified. Suggestions for a general policy to be adopted by this year will be discussed and proposed legislation will be discussed.

Demand For Licenses.--State receipts from oleo licenses for 1916 will run far beyond anything of the kind ever known according to people at the State Dairy and Food division offices. The revenue derived from the licenses alone is now much above the total appropriation to conduct the division. Numerous applications for December licenses have been made.

To Move Away.--The actuarial division of the State Insurance Department which has been occupying Senate committee rooms in the Capitol, will remove to Philadelphia. The Branch Capitol Commission will meet in Philadelphia next week for its final inquest. Some members of the State government overlooked before will head the city of Philadelphia sounded out on donation of a site.

To Speak on Safety.--John S. Spicer, of the Division of Hygiene and Engineering of the State Department of Labor and Industry, will speak in Waynesboro to-night at a "Safety" first meeting to be held there by the Board of Trade. He will show pictures and lantern slides in the Arcade theater there.

Perry Institutes.--The Department of Agriculture has announced the Perry county institutes for November, December 20 and 21, and Blair, December 22 and 23. E. B. Dorsett will speak on marketing and similar problems.

Hughes Alliance Account.--The account of E. B. Smith as treasurer of the Hughes Alliance of Pennsylvania was filed at the Capitol to-day, showing contributions of $22,784.42 during the recent campaign. Lewis Emery, Jr., Bradford, was the largest contributor, giving $2,000.

Joseph McLaughlin, congressman-at-large elect, filed a statement showing disbursements of $2,187.15, of which $2,500 was given to the Republican State committee. State electors were filed by Democratic electoral candidates as follows: H. Obernauer, $150; A. C. West, $25, and James S. McKeand, $50, all given to committees.

Twenty-nine on File.--Twenty-nine counties have filed official returns of the recent election. The following counties filed returns: Armstrong, McKean, Clarion, Potter, Snyder, Susquehanna, Luzerne, Perry, Cumberland, Bedford, Elk, Jefferson, Blair, Centre and Adams.

Mercer Makes Complaint.--The borough of Mercer to-day filed complaint against the Pennsylvania company for maintaining three crossings in that town without other protective measures. The New Castle electric company, of New Castle, filed complaint that the Harmony Electric company was enticing customers from it by means of a rate schedule which is alleged to be "vague and unfair." The company asks that the Harmony be required to file a proper schedule.

One Day's Business.--The State to-day received $300,000 in State taxes. There are hopes of passing the $36,000,000 mark for receipts by Wednesday night.

MOVIE STREAMER IN MARKET STREET

[Continued From First Page] could be displayed over the heads of the people on Market street, was the general comment, then why not others of the same sort. If one show house could advertise its attractions in this way, why not others? All should be placed on the same footing. This was the general remark of the many who discussed the situation.

Chief of Police Weigel was on the job this morning and it is understood that he will immediately take steps to prevent this sort of thing in the future. But the overhanging canvas streamer is no worse than the increasing electric and other signs which endanger pedestrians along the sidewalks of the city. Some years ago the mayor of Denver issued an order that within forty-eight hours all signs should come down, and down they came. It is not impossible that some such thing will

Street Sign Problem Before Commerce Chamber Commercial Department

Removal of canvas signs from the streets, legislation to protect local business men from outside firms doing a retail business through agents and early Christmas shopping and closing were discussed this afternoon at the first meeting of the commercial department of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce at 4 o'clock. A general opinion prevailed that the canvas signs seen frequently on business thoroughfares should be prohibited. Attention of the members was called to the sale of goods at hotels by agents representing outside firms. Committee members were named to investigate this alleged infringement on local business men and to ascertain how the canvas sign evil can be eliminated.

Early Christmas shopping was urged. The question of keeping open at night two weeks before Christmas was discussed. It is understood that this year the stores will be open from December 18 to 25. At the meeting this afternoon were William H. Benethum, Jr., chairman, George W. Hoar, J. William Bowman, J. Allan Donaldson, Isaac H. Douthett, C. W. Cartwright, H. J. Fornwalt, George A. Gorzas, David Kaufman, A. H. Kreidler, R. H. Lyon and H. A. Robinson.

A large number of telephone reservations are being made with the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce for its membership luncheon at the Board of Trade building on Wednesday, November 29. Carl S. Vrooman, assistant secretary, United States Department of Agriculture, who will address the meeting, will reach Harrisburg from Washington to-morrow evening and members of the agriculture committee of the Chamber will give him an automobile ride over as much of the farming districts of Dauphin and Cumberland counties as the time and weather will permit.

TWO STEELTON MEN DEAD AS BULLETS FLY

According to information obtained by the police, Gladen was sitting on a box in a room of the Republican club, Main and Franklin streets. Stewart, commonly known as "Sugar," entered the room and started a dispute by referring to an argument the pair had several days ago. The remarks were followed by two shots from Stewart. Both struck Gladen. Gladen sprang upon Stewart and, drawing an automatic revolver, fired a shot into Stewart's body. Gladen fell face forward upon a pile of coal. Stewart walked from the building. Sunday morning about daylight Stewart was found dead in a yard of a house in Main street opposite the club.

The shot that killed Ziokas is believed to have been fired by another foreigner who was probably under the influence of liquor. Police found that another bullet struck the door at the home of Dmitri Cordas, three houses away. The bullet, a .38-caliber, went through the lower window sash at such an angle that the police believe, it was fired from Second street. Ziokas is survived by a wife and baby daughter in Serbia.

Ziokas, who lived forty-five minutes after the shot was fired and who was conscious until he died, told Chief of Police Longaker that he did not know that he had an enemy in the world. This leads the police to believe that the shot was a stray one. Coroner Eckinger will conduct an inquest in the offices of H. Witt's Sons, undertakers, in Front street, this evening at 7 o'clock.
